

A DAY IN GARY LAND

GARY MAY HAVE A FEW DAMAGE SUITS

Unless the carelessness of Gary contractors in leaving dangerous places in streets without signals, is remedied, either they or the city will some day have a damage on their hands.

An instance of utter carelessness was brought to the attention of the authorities when Tony Jaruski fell into an open sewer near the intersection, between Broadway and Washington street and Fifteenth and Sixteenth avenues.

This sewer is in charge of the Green Construction company but there were neither light nor railing there to protect a pedestrian who might be walking along there. Fortunately for every body concerned Jaruski was not injured.

A QUIET HALLOWE'EN PASSES OFF AT GARY

Delay of Bryan Train Is Worst Thing That Happens. Small Boys and Girls Are out in Force.

Halloween passed off very quietly in Gary last Saturday, and the only thing that caused some of the people of Gary any concern was that someone played a prank with Bryan's train, which was delayed about four hours.

Of course, this has already been charged up to the republican party.

The small boys and girls were out in force, but the pranks played by them were harmless and of no consequence. Chief of Police Martin and his officers had little trouble in keeping order throughout the town.

"OLD ARKANSAS" ATTRACTS CROWD TO GARY THEATER

Work on Remodeling Stage Will Begin Soon and Other Bookings May be Cancelled.

The well known and popular play "Old Arkansas" was given at the Gary theater last night to a crowded house.

Manager McGinnis is fortunate in getting the attraction to appear at Gary owing to the smallness of the stage. The company was unable to make use of all their special scenery during the course of the production.

Manager McGinnis has several other attractions booked for next week, but it is thought that the contract will be canceled owing to the fact that the stage of the theater will be remodeled.

NIGHT CLERK RESIGNS HIS POSITION THERE.

John Woodruff Quits Gary Hotel to Take Another Job.

John Woodruff, the night clerk of the Gary hotel, resigned his position Saturday morning and left for Chicago. Mr. Woodruff has been in Gary for eight months and has served in the capacity of night clerk during the entire time. John plans to go to Jeffersonville, where he will be employed by his uncle in a chain factory at that place. Woodruff was very popular in the city and his many friends will be sorry to see him go.

The members of the Gary police force are offing up their guns in preparation of the monthly shoot, which will be held next Wednesday afternoon. Chief Martin, at the present time wears the gold medal and intends to keep it while Officer Jurich is priding himself with the silver medal.

HEARD BY RUBE.

The waiting throng that tramped the sands stood idly round and shivered. Four hours long they waited on. To hear the speech delivered.

He came at last and as he passed to make his whirlwind flash. The waiting throng had long since gone. Alas! his hopes diminished.

The "flying wedge" may get stuck in some of Gary's sand hills in their visit to this place today.

The man who smokes his pipe in bed is just as much of a fool as the man who looks into the muzzle of a gun to see if it's loaded.

Gary must be a wonderful place, as both parties concede that the result of the election centers in Gary.

Of course, the fact that Bryan's train was delayed four hours on Saturday is laid to the door of the republican party.

After the election the litter of the Chicago Journal along the gutters in Gary will be sadly missed.

There are some men in Gary who hold their heads so high when they walk down the street that they some day will stumble over their own shadow.

Even Bryan canceled his Chicago dates just to speak in Gary.

A week from today and many will really have forgotten who the other candidate was.

SOME ELECTION TIPS.

A vote in the ballot box is worth a dozen taken at a straw vote. Make it a point to vote early in the morning and be sure and only vote once.

If you meet any one on the way to the polls and he is in doubt as to what he votes the republican ticket.

Don't lounge around the polling places all day. After you have voted try and convince some democrat that it would be for his welfare to stamp the eagle.

Of course, if there is some doubt in your mind the only safe and sane way to do is to stamp the eagle.

Many are wondering in Gary, who is to occupy all the buildings on Broadway which are under the course of construction.

"Old Arkansas" was given at the Gary theater last night and the performance was well worth the patronage.

Laying all jokes and talks of the election aside have you purchased your Thanksgiving turkey.

Gary had a little lamb.

The only Halloween prank that they played on Bryan Saturday night was that some one carried away his heretofore strong-in-his-own-mind platform.

WOODMEN ARE INITIATED

Hammond Degree Team Does the Work—Lodge Growing Rapidly.

Gary Woodmen had a big time in the I. O. O. F. hall last Saturday night when six new members were initiated into that order.

The Hammond degree team, which is said to be the best drilled team in the northern part of the state, was present and initiated the local candidates into the mysteries of Woodcraft. Nearly three hours were spent in conferring the work, after which light refreshments were served. The following are those who were initiated: Harry Prigale, William McNeil, August Thompson, Jacob Jaffe, Fred Couke and G. D. Batey.

The local camp of Woodmen is gaining in membership at a rapid rate and every meeting night sees the addition of several new members. The camp numbers upwards of seventy-five members at the present time.

Dr. C. A. De Long is venerable counsel of the Gary camp.

treat which was in store for them for a few minutes.

Mr. Bryan's train, which was scheduled to arrive in Gary at 7 o'clock, was just a little over four hours late. This was due to an accident to the engine of the special train in which he rode. There was no wreck of any kind but the engine could not be made to run properly and they stopped near South Bend for some time for repairs. The first report received in Gary was that the train would leave South Bend at 3:46, which would make them arrive in Gary about 10 o'clock, but a later report was to the effect that they would not arrive in Gary before 11 o'clock.

Two Other Speakers on Hand.

In the meantime two speakers were called upon to entertain the crowd while they were waiting for Mr. Bryan. They were Judge John Aiken and E. G. Smith of this city. Judge Aiken discussed the political issues, told funny stories and succeeded in holding the crowd for some time, but it proved a difficult task to entertain a crowd which was expecting one of the greatest orators of the country.

Early in the evening two boxes of fireworks were taken to the scene of the rally and for an hour the crowd was entertained by the shooting off of big cannon crackers and Roman candles. The noise lasted for some time but the fireworks had all been shot off before the arrival of Mr. Bryan. When E. G. Smith started to speak, in fact, there was just one cannon cracker left, and this was exploded under the wagon upon which he spoke. There was no other attempt to amuse the crowd after that until Bryan arrived.

duced to 10,000, and some insist that this is twice too much. The change is probably due to the fact that Watson was a great gainer recently, while Marshall has either lost ground or held only that won by his long ago.

Will Stick With Presidency.

Leaders today insisted that the governorship and the entire state ticket would stick with the presidency unless the margin narrowed down to a few thousand votes. In case of a close finish, they admitted that Marshall and Taft might win out, but in such event, they argued, the republican state ticket outside of the governorship would be victorious.

Estimates were made by both parties on the congressional fights, both of course claiming gains. The republicans declared they would hold the First, Second, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth, Twelfth and Thirteenth districts, and gain the Eighth and Eleventh, which went democratic two years ago because of factional differences. The democrats on the other hand insisted they would hold the Third, Fourth, Eighth and Eleventh and gain the First, Second, Seventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth.

The republicans gave out a legislative estimate today, which, if correct, will return Senator Hemenway to Washington. The estimate points out that there are seventeen hold-over republican senators and to this number are added fifty-eight legislators, twelve senators and forty-six representatives. This would give the republicans seventy-five on a joint ballot—just shy of the full representation. But a list of twenty-five, six senators and nineteen representatives, is marked probable and out of this the republicans expect to get enough to control the general assembly. Their minimum estimate gives them seventy-five out of the 150 and their maximum estimate gives them 105. The "sure" estimates does not include Marion, Vigo, St. Joseph, Lake or Madison counties. Walter S. Halliff, of Wayne, and A. M. Gardner, of Fayette and Wayne, are marked "sure." W. H. Kilver, of Lake and Newton, and Gus Greiger, of LaPorte and Porter, are also marked "sure." E. W. Wickey, of Lake, is "probable" while G. A. Elliott and W. B. Shafer, of St. Joseph, and H. C. Miller, of St. Joseph and Starke, are classed as "possible."

The democrats gave out no specific estimates, but contended themselves with the statement that they would have a majority on a joint ballot and that a democrat will succeed Hemenway in the United States senate.

One thing is sure and both sides will admit—it is now all over but the shouting.

MISS B ASWELL BACK

Indiana Harbor, Ind., Nov. 2.—Miss Lucile Braswell, the milliner in whose place of business fire broke out last week during her absence, returned to Indiana Harbor on Saturday, indignant at the stories that connected her with the blaze which destroyed her effects.

Miss Braswell is convinced that the fire in the building of incendiary origin. She says that some one must have set the place on fire, but denies with much heat that she was concerned in the affair. "I know people have been in my rooms," said Miss Braswell, "when I was not there, for I have enemies in business who are seeking to injure me. The first I knew of the fire was on Friday, days after it had happened. I left Sunday, a week ago, to visit friends in Austin and I have been ill in bed since. I am well known over this region and my reputation precludes any possibility of my being accused of arson."

Miss Braswell says she will make it a point to the persons who have circulated the stories about her.

suits and at present directs operations on a large tract of farm lands in which he is largely interested. Several years ago he was appointed a delegate to the Farmers' National congress, and was elected a member of the executive committee of that prominent organization, and is now serving his eighth year in that position and has been continuously re-elected with opposition. In that position he has been very active in favor of national legislation beneficial to the agricultural interests of the country, and among the laws which he has advocated and assisted in securing their passage are those relating to the extension of the rural free delivery, tax on cloverseed, pure food laws, and the right to manufacture denatured alcohol. He has the faculty of securing a respectful hearing before the committee of congress and the legislatures and his aid and support so often sought.

His family consists of wife and four children, and his home life is most pleasant. He is a leading member of the Indiana Order of Odd Fellows, having passed the chairs and become a member of the grand lodge of Indiana, the sessions of which he attends regularly and he is now a trustee of East Chicago lodge. He is also a prominent member of the East Chicago lodge of Elks.

It is needless to say that Mr. Wickey is a life-long republican, his first political work being secretary of a Boys' Republican club when about 16 years of age. In several presidential campaigns he made a number of speeches in different sections under the national committee, and four years ago he had charge of an important bureau in the national headquarters at Chicago. He contributed a number of strong articles which were given wide circulation. He is well known among the leaders of the party and enjoys the personal acquaintance of President Roosevelt and attended the conference held at the White House to consider the question of the conservation of the natural resources of the country. He has the friendship and confidence of such men as Vice President Fairbank, Senators Beveridge and Hemenway, Congressman Crumpacker, and many others who recognize in Mr. Wickey a man of ability who does things and who will ably represent his constituents. The next session of the legislature is a very important one to the people of Lake county. Legislation made necessary by rapid growth must be enacted, the re-apportionment of the state and the election of a United States senator are questions of vital importance.

Mr. Wickey will do more than simply answer the roll call, by his voice and energy, he will take a leading place and be able to secure proper recognition for this section. Every republican vote should be cast for Mr. Wickey the interest of the party and the people of Lake county.

WILLIAM H. KLIVER.

William H. Kliver, of Gary, candidate for the office of joint representative from Lake and Newton counties, is one of the strongest candidates in the republican ticket. Mr. Kliver is not a professional politician and this is the first time he has aspired to office.

He is the representative of the labor on the republican ticket and as such represents that rapidly increasing number of workers who are flocking to the republican banner and are not only building cities, but are making Lake county one of the industrial centers of the world.

Mr. Kliver is an old soldier. He began his career as a republican by fighting in Abraham Lincoln's army which struck the shakles from the slaves and by so doing, struck the first great blow for free labor, black and white.

He is a carpenter by trade and his influence among his fellow workmen was so great that he was selected by the carpenters of the United States as national president of the Carpenters' union.

At the present time he is carrying a card and his Gary associates hold him in the highest esteem. At Gary he was appointed building inspector and in this capacity he has proven himself a most efficient public servant. The Gary laws regulating building operations are more strict and more complete than in almost every other city in the country and yet they have been enforced in Gary without friction and without favor.

Mr. Kliver is a man who has the strength of his convictions. He is a man who will positively not be dictated to by individuals, but who will at all times follow the dictates of his own conscience and his constituency as a whole.

What Mr. Kliver will do will be the square thing at all times and while he is not an orator his influence in the state legislature will be felt just as it is felt in his home town, and just as it was felt when he was at the head of the carpenters of the United States.

Mr. Kliver is a man whose personal life is above reproach. His life is an open book and no one could know his honest Bill Kliver without properly looking at it. If he is elected to the legislature this fall.

CHARLES E. GREENWALD.

Mr. Charles E. Greenwald is a candidate for election for the office of prosecuting attorney for Lake and Porter counties on the republican ticket, subject to the election tomorrow.

He was born in Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 21, 1876, and removed to Chicago with his parents when 13 years of age, coming to Whiting to live about one year later. He was graduated from the South Chicago high school in 1895 and then took a three years' course in law at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Beginning to practice law in Whiting in 1898, success has attended his efforts, he being twice appointed city attorney of Whiting, and acting as deputy prosecuting attorney for some years past.

Mr. Greenwald has been very much alive politically, in state, county and municipal elections, taking his share of the burden and carrying it forward to the goal. He has served as treasurer of the county central committee and also as chairman, being succeeded in this office by the popular F. R. Schaaf.

Greenwald has always been for the "square deal," which has been one of the potent factors in his popularity, and his slogan is "no favoritism."

ALBERT MAACK.

Lake county's genial treasurer, Albert Maack, is a candidate for re-election and really there is little need to say anything else. When he was elected before, he rolled up the biggest majority on the republican ticket. Perhaps it would be harder to find a more deserving or a more popular man than Mr. Maack. It would be harder to find a man who has conducted business in the county treasurer's office with more effectiveness than he. Mr. Maack is a German and proud of it. He is idolized by the Germans and has done a lot towards bringing them into line for the best of the ticket. Mr. Maack, as acting postmaster of Hammond for nine years, won the confidence of the people of the community and all parties united to give him a great vote in 1906. This, they will do again. Mr. Maack was born in Lake county and has always lived here. He is a Mason, an Eagle, a Forester and a Knight of Pythias. He has no enemies and is deserving of the election to a second term in office.

DR. E. M. SHANKLIN.

Dr. E. M. Shanklin, who is a candidate for coroner on the republican ticket, is 33 years of age, and is a Carroll county boy. He was educated at Hanover college and graduated from the Indiana Medical college in 1902. He came to Hammond in 1903, engaging in special practice. In 1907 he was appointed a member of the United States board of pension examiners. During the illness of Coroner E. R. Gordon, of Hobart, Dr. Shanklin had charge of the coroner's office for seven months, conducting over 100 inquests. The records will show he did not hold an unnecessary inquest, nor spent a penny of the taxpayers' money when avoidable. Dr. Shanklin got into politics because he was a voter, because he liked the game.

For several years he has been chairman of the Thirteenth precinct of Hammond. He is past Exalted ruler of Hammond Lodge No. 453, B. P. O. Elks. Has always had the friendship of labor.

He has the endorsement of Sub-Lodge No. 355, International Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Ship Builders and Helpers of America.

CHARLES A. JOHNSON.

Auditor Charles A. Johnson, candidate for re-election on the republican county ticket, is recognized by his opponent as one of the strongest candidates on the ticket. Mr. Johnson's boyhood was spent on a farm in Hobart township where he remained until 1892, when he moved to Whiting and engaged in the undertaking business. He was elected to the town council in 1896 and served one term as president of the board. He was nominated for auditor in 1904 and elected by an overwhelming majority. Mr. Johnson has made an efficient and obliging officer. He is a member of the Knights of Pythias, Maccabees and Elk lodges.

HERBERT E. JONES.

One of the strongest candidates on the republican ticket is Mr. Jones. He is now county recorder and has been a millworker nearly all his life.

While at Pullman his executive ability and power as organizer received an enviable, practical recognition. At this place he was instrumental in organizing a local assembly of the Knights of Labor, and to his good work in this connection was due the fact that he was chosen as delegate from that body to the Trades and Labor assembly at Chicago, at which important gathering he was the youngest member.

Under these encouraging circumstances he held the position of roller at the Pullman mill for two years, when he resigned to take place at the rolls of the Straight Fiber Iron company of Chicago, Ill., where he continued to work until the plant was destroyed by fire in 1899. Soon after this he came to East Chicago where he secured employment as mason tender and helper to steam fitter at the plant of the National Forge and Iron company then in course of erection. It was while so employed that he met with an accident by which the cords of his right hand were severed, compelling him to give up the occupation of roll hand.

But this misfortune in this instance was somewhat mitigated by his employment to a clerical position which doubtless made for him the turning point of his life. He was appointed as weigher by the company.

Subsequently, he was promoted to the position of timekeeper and pay roll clerk, which he held until he resigned to accept the position of weigher for the Western Railway association.

In 1898 he was elected city clerk of East Chicago and so well did he endeavor himself to the public by his straight forward course and courtly manners while in the performance of his duties that he was re-elected without opposition in 1902.

Socially he is a universal favorite and enjoys the rare privilege of being affiliated with highly respected and influential societies. He is a member of the Masonic, Odd Fellows, Elks, Maccabees and Modern Woodmen fraternities. He was district deputy grand master of the Odd Fellows for three years and was in line for being elected as grand warden of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of Indiana, but owing to business duties he was forced to withdraw.

B. E. ESCHER.

Bert E. Escher, who for several years has been assessor of North township, is one of the best known politicians in the county and is connected with some of the most prominent families in Hammond. He has conducted the office of township assessor in such a way that he feels justified in asking suffrage for his re-election to the office he now holds. His wide industrial and business acquaintance will get him hundreds of votes from tax-payers who believe that Mr. Escher is experienced and qualified with a knowledge of real estate values in North township that few men have. Mr. Escher has the confidence of a wide circle of friends, who are working hard to elect him.

SAM ABLEMAN.

Sam Ableman, who is the republican candidate for trustee of North township, has been a resident of Hammond for twelve years and there is no better posted man on the development and progress of North township than Mr. Ableman. The first episode in his career was when he lost a $100 per month job with the Pabst Brewing company, because he refused to deliver beer to the non-union men in the big Pullman strike.

Union labor has sworn by Mr. Ableman ever since. He has been chairman of the grievance committee of the Trades and Labor council for six years and treasurer of the Teamsters' union. No one knows the needs of the laboring man and the diversified foreign population of this end of the county better than Mr. Ableman, and tales of his generosity and kindness to those in distress are numerous. He has always been an ardent republican worker.

WHITING G. O. P. HAS CLOSING SPEECHES

Mayor Brookwalter, of Indianapolis, and D. E. Boone Speak.

Whiting, Ind., Nov. 2.—A monster demonstration took place in Whiting on Saturday night when the republicans of this city closed the campaign.

The republicans had very little excitement in Whiting this year, but the affair of Saturday night showed that the republican spirit still dominated, as the enthusiasm was great.

Hay's Masonic band made its first appearance at this great occasion and for over an hour before the opening of the rally went around the various streets playing familiar airs. On the streets was plenty of red fire and together with the music caused ginger and enthusiasm to be prevalent everywhere.

At 8 o'clock Goebel's hall was crowded to its utmost capacity and long before the time for the speaking to begin standing room even was at a premium.

Upon the arrival of the speakers, Charles A. Bookwalter, mayor of Indianapolis; D. E. Boone, prosecuting attorney of Hammond, and William H. Kliver of Gary, candidate for joint representative of Lake and Newton counties, the air was resonant with cheers.

Owing to the absence of Chairman William E. Vater at the beginning of the rally, Attorney Frank N. Gavitt presided as chairman pro tem.

The address given by Attorney Boone dealt with the different issues of the campaign, explaining the intricacies of some of the issues which, to the average mind, are rather hard to comprehend.

William H. Kliver was the next to respond. This was Mr. Kliver's first appearance in Whiting, with the exception of short calls, but his powerful address won for him many votes.

The closing address was made by Mayor Bookwalter of the capital city, and it also proved to be the closing address to the voters in Whiting.

The republican committee is to be congratulated upon securing this orator, who is said to be one of the best in Indiana.

Although he was very hoarse, his discussions were easily heard in all parts of the hall, and his concise handling of the most serious issues of the day met with the approval of all, as cheer after cheer went up at different times during the course of the speech.

The chief point of discussion was in regard to labor unions, and Mayor Bookwalter's arguments were so convincing in regard to the attitude of the republican party to this important subject that the question is now fully understood by all who were fortunate enough to gain admittance to the hall.

The main speech given by local representatives was by Attorney Gavitt, one of Whiting's most loyal republicans, and as it was his first appearance before the public for several months his remarks were much enjoyed.

After Mr. Gavitt's remarks were concluded the band rendered a few more strains of martial music, which put everyone in fine spirits and all assembled went home, with the remarks they had heard as well as the strains of patriotic music ringing in their ears.
