

FREAK BET CAUSES
FALSE FIRE ALARM

Fire Crackers in Gary Fired
Send Police Hurrying Down Street.

J. BARKER WHEELS C. WILSON

Crowd Follows Vehicle as it Passes
Up and Down Broad—Police Enjoy Joke.

The firing off of firecrackers last night during the settling of an election bet caused the fire department to rush down Broadway in Gary, in the direction of the report. When they arrived at Sixth avenue, panting and excited, they found one man wheeling another in a wheelbarrow, followed by a crowd with torches and fireworks making merry. The firemen, composed of mostly police and volunteers, were enraged when they hustled out of the police station and down Broadway only to find that it was only the prank of several young men.

Chief Martin, Sergeant Dowling and several others were sitting in the station last night at 7:15, enjoying the warmth of the stove after a day's work in the cold, when suddenly several shots rang out into the air. It was the old familiar fire alarm, and the police and several volunteers in the vicinity grabbed the hose cart and the chemical engine and dashed down the street without hesitation. As they turned north on Broadway they saw a crowd congregated near the Brennan block and here they supposed the blaze had started.

A False Alarm.

Soon, however, several Roman candles were ignited and it was seen that the crowd was moving south. Then the men with the wheelbarrow were sighted and Chief of the Fire Department Martin called a halt. What Chief Martin didn't say to the merrymakers isn't worth saying. He told them that in firing firecrackers they turned in a fire alarm whether they were celebrating an election bet or not.

The man who lost the bet and was compelled to do the humiliating act was John Barber. From Fifth avenue, where the procession started, to the Wabash tracks, where they finished, a large crowd laughed at the unfortunate loser and the friends of Barber continually "kidded" him. The winner of the bet who enjoyed the ride was Charles Wilson, who wagered on the election of Taft.

All of the young men in the procession are members of the General Electric club, whose headquarters are in the General Electric building, on Washington street, near Fifth avenue. There were nearly a hundred of them who followed the men down the street and helped to celebrate the event. Although the night was exceedingly windy and cold there was a large crowd on the street to watch the fun.

THEY KISS AND MAKE UP

Nobody Appears in Gary to Prosecute Those Arrested in Election.

In the cases yesterday which came up for trial as the result of the arrest on election day, both sides agreed to make up and refuse to prosecute. They were all dismissed last night, therefore when the 19 defendants appeared before Judge Fitzgerald and were once more arrayed with a friendly feeling as if there had never been continual warfare for twelve straight hours in the "bloody" Sixth precinct.

Those whose cases came up for trial were Attorney J. Glenn Harris, provocation; Attorney Robert Emmet O'Connor, provocation; David Johnson, carrying concealed weapons; and seven foreigners who were charged with filing false affidavits. The two attorneys and Dave Johnson were dismissed because there was no one appearing to prosecute them, and the foreigners were dismissed because the cases did not come under the jurisdiction of a justice court. Every one felt in a friendly disposition after the trial and the disagreeable features of Gary's first election will soon be forgotten.

TO TRY RAY LAMPHERE FOR GUINNESS MURDER

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 5.—Interest in the Guinness murder cases, which excited the attention of the entire country last spring, will be revived next week when Ray Lamphere, alleged to have been the right hand man of Mrs. Bella Guinness in conducting her murder farm, is placed on trial. Lamphere is under indictment for the murder of Mrs. Guinness and her three children by burning her farmhouse and is charged also with complicity in the killing of several of the woman's victims.

It is probable the youth will be tried first for the murder of Mrs. Guinness, although the prosecuting attorney claims to have a very strong case against him on the charge of complicity in the murder of Andrew Helgelein.

Helgelein, who was a South Dakota farmer, came here with $2,900 after a correspondence with Mrs. Guinness and was never more heard of. He was but one of a dozen or more men who are believed to have fallen victim to the woman's wiles.

In addition to the murder of Helgelein, Lamphere is charged with complicity in the murders of several others, but the killing of Helgelein, which is said to have occurred Jan-

Resigns As President Of Harvard College

PRESIDENT CHARLES ELIOT

$3,000, which he had earned as a rancher on his section of land near Aberdeen, S. D. It is the accepted belief of the authorities that the activity of Helgelein's brother in investigating the mystery of the former's disappearance led Lamphere to put the widow and her children out of the way in order to save himself.

Lamphere had been employed for some years on the Guinness farm and that he had a guilty knowledge of the nefarious traffic carried on by the widow seems certain. Considerable doubt exists, however, as to the extent of his complicity in the wholesale murders. He logically answers the question of his possible accomplice, on the theory that the woman could not have done her murderous work alone. However, his way.

ANDREWS-SHARPLES WEDDING.

Media, Pa., Nov. 5.—Many out of town guests attended the wedding here at noon today of Miss Helen May Sharples, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morgan Sharples, and Alexander Boyd Andrews Jr. The bridegroom is a son of Colonel A. B. Andrews of Raleigh, N. C., first vice president of the Southern railroad. The wedding was performed by the Rev. Dr. W. H. G. Smith. The bride was dressed in a white gown with a lace collar and a lace hem. The groom was in a dark suit with a white shirt and a dark tie. The wedding was followed by a reception at the home of the bride.

East Chicago, Ind., Nov. 5.—(Special)

Coroner E. R. Gordon will be asked to make a post mortem to establish the cause of death of William Arthur Morgan Sharples, and Alexander Boyd Andrews Jr. The bridegroom is a son of Colonel A. B. Andrews of Raleigh, N. C., first vice president of the Southern railroad. The wedding was performed by the Rev. Dr. W. H. G. Smith. The bride was dressed in a white gown with a lace collar and a lace hem. The groom was in a dark suit with a white shirt and a dark tie. The wedding was followed by a reception at the home of the bride.

He worked at the Davidson Foundry company's plant all yesterday morning, expressing a slight illness at noon. He was granted leave to return to his home for the afternoon and was about to go to bed for a few hours when the death occurred. The body was removed to the Huber undertaking parlors on Chicago avenue, where they will be held awaiting instructions from relatives of the deceased.

Arthur, it is believed, is unmarried,

and has been living at the Noble home

for several months. Prior to his coming to East Chicago he roomed at the home of J. Sweeney, 905 Superior street, South Chicago, where it is understood he also has relatives.

Read THE TIMES and get all the news.

The Public Amazed!

Wonderful Dry Goods, Clothing and Shoe Bargains Tremendous Crowds Attending the "Low Sale" at the

HUB DEPARTMENT STORE,

Whiting, Ind.

Never in the history of Whiting's Merchandising were such crowds seen in one store before, the big crowds that are attending the big Low Sale at the Hub Department Store of Whiting, Indiana, since the opening day of the big Low Sale is something beyond comparison in the history of rapid merchandising, for it has attracted people from the surrounding town for a radius of fifty miles, thousands of eager buyers are crowding the big store to its utmost capacity. With the winter season and the approaching holidays it is to yours as well as everybody's advantage to buy now and buy it here where everything is sold at unheard of low prices. Hurry, hurry, before its too late, for it not alone means good merchandise to you, but a saving of dollars and cents as well. We have only four more day's left, so you cannot afford to delay it. Remember the place

The Hub Department Store Whiting, = = = = = Indiana

$12 and $15
Suits and Overcoats
$9.75

$18 and $20
Suits and Overcoats
$14.75

$22, $25 and $30
Suits and Overcoats
$18.75

$5, $6, $7 and $8
Boys' Overcoats
$2.95

$3, $4, $5 and $6
Children's Overcoats
$1.95

RECORD BREAKING CLOTHING SALE

This sale staggers competition and without a doubt is the greatest buying chance presented this year. Coming just at the time when you can make best use of these magnificent clothes, is most opportune. We promise you the most genuine suit and overcoat bargains in Hammond for some time. Three of America's foremost clothing manufacturers whose clever productions we have successfully handled for years accepted our low cash offer, and 1500 of this season's smartest and most fashionable garments came into our possession at discounts so unusual that we are justified in offering you these almost impossible values.

The men's suits are of the latest cut, double and single breasted models, dress patterns in rich smooth worsteds, nobby colorings in cassimeres and heavy blue serges. Overcoats in superior kersies, meltons and friezes, oxford and brown effects, fine serge and venetian linings and guaranteed silk sleeve linings.

Every Fashionable Accessory in Men's Dress
---Neckwear in the most exclusive
patterns and colors
---Gloves of the best grades
---Shirts in the newest designs
---Everything in Furnishings

THE
E. & F. STORE
THE STORE THAT ALWAYS SERVES YOU BEST

EPSTEIN
AND
MARKS