

Feminine Fads and Fancies

DINING ROOM FURNITURE.

In some of the latest designs of dining room furniture English oak is a good second to mahogany. The finish of this wood is if anything darker than ever, and none but an expert would dream that it was a near relation to ordinary or golden oak, which just now gets the cold shoulder.

In sideboards, which by the way are lower than ever, and in tables, which are square preferably, and in chairs, the most popular designs of which has a medium high rather than a very tall back and almost square seats, the finish is distinctly plain, although the angularity of the mission design has given place to curves and rounded edges.

NEW CENTER TABLES.

The variety of drawing room tables seen in one place indicates that the center table of ordinary make has had its day. The newcomers have straight spindle legs and are octagonal and oblong. Some of the most fetching have hinges and six or eight inch-wide drop leaves at either side. Others have gate legs, which means that the table may be folded up, enlarged or reduced in size and made to answer for more than one purpose. A variety built with a shallow drawer and also with a deep pocket at either end under a folding lid may be used for afternoon tea, bric-a-brac or books.

WHEN IN DOUBT, USE BUTTONS.

It looks as though the shops would have demand for the millions of buttons they offer this season. The rule of trimming is, when in doubt, use buttons. They are put up the back of sleeves in panels from wrist to shoulder in groups of three and four lines.

They are also put up the back width of the flat skirt in about five rows, and they are covered with the frock material or with satin to match or harmonize.

DEFY THE WEATHER.

The time has long gone by when it is necessary for a woman to give up any of her charms on a rainy day. Dull colors and "seizable" materials are no longer called forth by weeping skies. Satins and silks are now rendered water proof and there are water proof gloves, which means that the table may which not only make warm and smart winter suits but keep out the rain as well as the cold.

OLIVE GREEN HATS.

The olive green hats that have topped the heads of young men the first few days of fall have been taken up with enthusiasm by young girls.

Some of these have the pheasant's wing in the front just as it is worn in the Alps. The hat is used by girls for school wear in the same rakish way of the summer Panama.

It looks very well with the first fall coat or suit and is far more becoming than the stiff sailor or the floppy Cor-day.

SINGLE LARGE FLOWER.

On many gowns that do not have any other kind of trimming there is often one large flower made of Irish crochet with several long pendants.

These are sold separately in the shops. They are placed on the front of the bodice or one on each sleeve at the wrist or at the back of the belt. Simple as the trimming is it is quite effective.

Common Fault.

The average young man worries too much about getting his salary and not enough about earning it.—Atchison Globe.

ON THE STAGE

"HUMAN HEARTS."

"Human Hearts" the melodramatic success announced at the Towle opera house Sunday matinee and night, appeals to every class of play-goers. It deals with a story that teems the heart interest from beginning to end. Tom Logan, an honest young blacksmith in the Arkansas Hills, falls in love with and marries a reformed confidence woman. The dull country life soon palls on her. She accidentally meets her former lover and "pal." Without any just cause they conspire together to ruin Tom and kill him if necessary. The woman calls him while her accomplice conceals himself. The father of Tom responds and is mistaken for the blacksmith. He is fatally stabbed by the blacksmith. Tom, coming out to see where his father is, is accused by the blacksmith and her "pal" of the murder. He is finally sentenced on that charge. But his friends ultimately establish his innocence and he is released. Retribution overtakes his villainous and murderous accusers. No play of its kind possesses a stronger plot or more sensational incidents. The serious element is mingled with comedy, forming a combination that never fails to touch a responsive chord in the hearts of play-goers.

"MONTANA."

If one who has never been to Montana would go to see the play of "Montana" as written and played by Harry D. Carey's company, they will not only be able to get a correct and detailed knowledge of the country and its people, but will really learn something of American history, that cannot be found in books. "Montana" presents a most powerful story of the real west and its people in all the true light; cattle punting; ranch work and all that goes to make a life on the plains, is realistically and correctly portrayed. George Dozlen is seen in the leading role of Jim Graham and is supported by a company of fifteen players. At the Towle opera house, Wednesday matinee and night, Nov. 18th.

AT THE CALUMET THEATER.

Next week the inimitable Swedish comedian, Ben Hendricks, will be seen at the Calumet theater, South Chicago, in the greatest of all Swedish-American comedy dramas. "Yon Yonson." Mr. Hendricks will be seen in the title role which he created several years ago and has made a national reputation for himself by his clever portrayal of his character.

Mr. Hendricks' true conception of the character, his perfect dialect, his natural impersonation of the good natured, big-hearted, honest Swede, have placed his characterization of "Yon Yonson" side by side with Rip Van Winkle of Joseph Jefferson, the Uncle Joshua of Denman Thompson, the Nathaniel Berry of James A. Herne, the Music Master of David Warfield.

He has created a new character, which has been found to possess distinct characteristics, so original, so entirely different from the many other stage personalities which had become so familiar to play goers that the opportunity to witness his performance of "Yon Yonson" is embraced with genuine pleasure. Ben Hendricks' career of ten years in this line of work has been a complete success and will be for many seasons to come.

"Yon Yonson" comes to the Calumet theater Sunday, Nov. 15, for a four days' engagement.

western play, "Montana" will be presented at the Calumet theater, commencing at three days' engagement. This play is unlike other western plays presented at the South Chicago play house and is entitled to rank with Arizona, Texas, Missouri, and plays of a like character. It will be presented by an excellent company and the patrons of the Calumet are assured a first class comedy drama at popular prices.

MEETING OF PEDAGOGUES.

Sharon, Pa., Nov. 12.—There was a good attendance at the opening here today of the semi-annual meeting of the school superintendents and principals of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio. The sessions will continue over tomorrow.

STUDENTS' MISSIONARY LEAGUE.

Macon, Ga., Nov. 12.—Mercer university and Wesleyan college are acting as joint hosts for the third annual convention of the Georgia Students' Missionary league, which began a three days session today. Nearly every educational institution in the state has sent representatives to the meeting. An attractive program has been arranged, consisting of papers, addresses and discussions dealing with the spiritual side of college life.
