Popular Hammond Boy Is Wedded

MRS. RAE ROCKWELL-DYER MR. VICTOR DYER

(Special to THE TIMES.)
Crown Point, Ind., Nov. 19.—A pretty home wedding was celebrated here last night at eight o'clock when Miss Rae Rockwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius S. Rockwell, was married to Victor Dyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Dyer of Hammond. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Meeker on Court street and was witnessed by one hundred guests who were friends and relatives of the young couple. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, carnations and chrysanthemums. The color scheme was green and white and prettily carried out through the artistic decorations. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Albert Smith, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Hammond. The bride was exquisitely dressed in a white broadcloth directoire gown, cut in train and trimmed with chiffon and embroidery bands. She carried a cluster of white bride's roses and did not wear a veil. The wedding hour was announced by the ringing of chimes and at 8 o'clock the bridal party descended the stairs, the bride supported by her father. The couple were unattended and the ceremony took place under a huge bell trimmed with evergreen and white carnations. The bride knelt on a white satin pillow at the close of the ceremony. Just before the approach of the bridal party Miss Ina Belle Peterson sang d'Hardelo's "Be-cause" and at its conclusion sang DeKoven's "Oh Promise Me." After the ceremony a dainty three-course wedding supper was served for the assembled guests. The couple were taken later in the evening to Hammond by automobile. The bride wore a blue tailored broadcloth suit with a large picture hat to match. The destination of their honeymoon is unknown but they expect to return to Hammond before long and commence housekeeping in their beautiful new home on South Hohman street, a deed to which was the wedding gift of Mr. and Mrs. Dyer. Many costly presents of silver and cut glass were received by the bride and groom from their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Dyer are very popular in society circles in both Hammond and Crown Point. Mr. Dyer is prominent in club life at the county seat and Mr. Dyer, who is a graduate of Orchard Lake Military Academy, is now assistant teller in the Commercial bank of Hammond. Among the out of town guests at the wedding were: The Misses Mary Windle and Caroline Stinchfield of Valparaiso, Miss Alma Lohr of Richmond, Mrs. M. V. Leland of Minneapolis, Minn., Messrs. A. M. Turner, Will Hastings, Fred Crumpacker and Dr. Elmore Salsbury of Hammond; the Misses Irene Mott and Mae Nelson of Hammond, Messrs. and Mesdames John W. Dyer, Lawrence Cox, Harvey Gostlin, E. E. Fricke, Chas. A. Smith, Charles R. Dyer, W. C. Mee and Dr. Mary Jackson of Hammond; R. G. Parry of Gary and Albert Mrazek of Chicago.

The Ginger Jar

As nearly as it can be established now the name of Van Vliessingen was originally pronounced Van Fleeceing'em.

Captain Bunde may not feel that way about it, but the fellow who shot at him was the one who saved the captain's life.

It seems rather unfeeling in the University club members to limit the newly-weds to 250 words in a paper that they are expected to prepare on what they think of their respective better halves.

It now appears that the ulterior motive of Ben Bell has in the deputy sheriffship is the desire to lay in the shackles on his democratic friend, Charley Friedrich.

If one would produce a silence so dense as to need a cleaver to get through it all one has to do is to go into the city hall circles and ask why the Columbia avenue bridge approach is not made this year.

Why all this noise about Governor-Elect Tom Marshall and Fred Carter's appointment for the oil inspectorship? The paramount question is: "What does Mr. Archibald say?"

They play for high stakes in Gary. Tom Knotts and the Burns' ditch on the one side and George Earle and an interurban franchise petition on the other. "Show me" are the only words used in the game.

Mr. Bryan do please keep quiet about wanting to get into the fight again when your party needs you. Give the democrats a chance to get whipped on some other issue.

This is a good time of the year to spring that Calumet region baseball league. In a way it will give the promoters time to get together and then again it can't be tried out on the practical side, thus preventing the league from going to pieces.

Wonder if John Kane tried how nearly he could fill the mayor's chair when he acted for Mayor Becker pro tem. at the council meeting.

It was a fitting tribute that the State Federation of Commercial Clubs paid E. F. Johnston of Hammond by appointing him secretary of the state organization. Mr. Johnston is the secretary of the Hammond Business Men's club and no member is more untiring in his efforts for the benefit of Hammond through the club.

DELIVERS INSPIRING SERMON AT ST. PAUL'S
"The Son of God" Is the Subject Presented by the Rev. Howard.

A large congregation gathered last evening at St. Paul's Episcopal church and listened to a splendid inspiring sermon by Rev. Father Howard on "The Son of God."

The text was chosen from the thirty-fifth verse of the first chapter of the gospel, according to St. Luke:

"For centuries and centuries," said the speaker, "the heart of man had longed for and earnestly prayed that God would manifest Himself to humanity and in the fullness of time God answered the prayers and in the incarnation, sent his only Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, the second person of the blessed Trinity, to be born of woman and to dwell among men. Christ in his two-fold nature, not confusing but thus uniting and bringing together between God and man, sympathizing in his human understanding with the joys and sorrows of men's hearts and expressing in his divine life the love and mercy of God."

The missionary replied at some length to the following questions which had been submitted: "Was St. Peter made the head of the church?" "Aren't you just like the Roman Catholics?" "Do you believe in confession?"

At the service on Thursday evening the subject of the sermon will be, "The atonement," and replies will be given to the following question, "Aren't you just like all Protestants?" "Was the Episcopal church founded by Henry, the VIII?"

WILL REPEAL THE LAW
Metropolitan Police Bill Is Certain to Be Knocked Out Soon.

It is regarded as practically a certainty that the legislature at its coming session will repeal the metropolitan police law. The legislature is democratic and the democrats have been after this law with sharp axes for several years. Carroll K. McCullough, who was elected to the senate from Madison county, will introduce a bill to repeal the law and place the appointive power in the hands of the city administrators. Indications are that it will be passed without difficulty and receive the signature of Governor-elect Thomas R. Marshall.

The metropolitan police law puts the power of appointing police boards of fourteen cities of the state in the hands of the governor. Mr. McCullough's bill will place the appointive power in the hands of the mayors and common councils of the cities. "Its object," said Mr. McCullough, "is to put the governing power of cities back into the hands of the people of those cities."

The democratic state platform in the recent campaign declared for the repeal of the law and Governor-elect
