MICHIGAN MAY LOSE YOST.

Wolverine Leave for Syracuse in Bad Shape for Final Game of Season.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 20.—Coincidentally with the departure of the Michigan football team tonight for Syracuse, where the Wolverines close their season Saturday, appeared the rumor that "King" Cole would succeed Yost as coach of the Michigan team, the change to take effect next fall.

Yost's contract with the Michigan Athletic association has another year to run, and for that reason little credence in the reported change is entertained by the leading athletic spirits here. Perhaps Yost has made up his mind to give up football, and, if he has, Cole would be as apt to be tendered the position as anybody. Cole was one of the stars of Yost's early teams and has been highly successful as a coach since leaving Michigan.

There is no feeling here that Yost has lost his cunning as a developer of football teams. The "hurry up" man has the unlimited confidence of the entire student body and none of the rooters hopes to see his successor named.

Jimmy Barry Recovers $1,500 He Swapped for the Book, However.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 20.—Jim Barry, the pugilist, yesterday left in the Santa Fe station a grip containing some of the paraphernalia of a prize fighter and $1,500 in cash. After spending a few minutes at the ticket window he took his grip to his hotel. When he opened it he found a Bible and some tracts, but no cash.

CARLISLE TO PLAY DENVER.

Denver, Nov. 20.—Responding to the request from Denver university athletic managers that he aid in having the Carlisle Indian football team keep its contract for a game with Denver Dec. 1, Commissioner of Indian Affairs Leupp telegraphed last night that he had directed the Indian team to carry out its contract, if possible. Later word came from the Carlisle managers that the game would be played. The local university appealed to President Roosevelt and the commissioner of Indian affairs for assistance.

BELMONT SEES A FUTURE FOR HORSE RACING GAME.

Chairman of Jockey Club Thinks the Sport Will Again Be Put Upon a Solid Foundation, Despite Adverse Laws.

New York, Nov. 20.—That horse racing will be re-established in the east next year was the opinion expressed today by August Belmont, chairman of the Jockey club, in discussing the probable future of the sport. The loss of prestige it had suffered the past season, however, would make the process of rehabilitation slow, Mr. Belmont believed.

Smoky City to Be Candidate Against 'Rice' For Big Meet.

Pittsburg, Nov. 20.—"The world's Olympic games in Pittsburgh in 1912!" That is the slogan that has been adopted by the new Pittsburgh Athletic association, which is to build a magnificent million-dollar club house in Oakland. The announcement was made yesterday that this organization was ready to launch the campaign to secure the Olympic games for this city four years hence.

FOXY KITTREDGE SELLS PLAYER WHO LOST ARM.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—At the recent meeting here of the minor leagues some funny deals for players were reported. Malachi Kittredge, the foxy catcher who used to backstop for Anson on the west side, was the main figure in the one. Kitt was manager of the Scranton team, which won the pennant in the New York State League. One of his pitchers made a remarkable record during the season, and when his average came out in the sporting weeklies, the Hartford club of the Connecticut State League decided to buy him.

The sale was made, but the Hartford club was a bit suspicious of Scranton's sudden willingness to part with such a good pitcher, and upon investigation discovered that in returning home after the close of the season the star pitcher had lost his twirling arm in a railroad wreck.

Kitt excused himself for trying to drive a sharp bargain by saying: "Oh, well, I suppose such a clever pitcher could learn to pitch with his other arm."

Another queer deal hurt the feeling of the Mobile (Ala.) club officials. They drafted a player from a little league in Canada and discovered much to their sorrow that their new star wasn't white. The worthy colored lad was all right for a Canadian league, but wouldn't please at all down south.

PITTSBURG WANTS THE OLYMPIC GAMES IN 1912.

Smoky City to Be Candidate Against 'Rice' For Big Meet.

Pittsburg, Nov. 20.—"The world's Olympic games in Pittsburgh in 1912!" That is the slogan that has been adopted by the new Pittsburgh Athletic association, which is to build a magnificent million-dollar club house in Oakland. The announcement was made yesterday that this organization was ready to launch the campaign to secure the Olympic games for this city four years hence.

Only a few days ago the organizers of the association appointed an athletic committee of five to make the effort to secure the world's greatest athletic event. This committee consists of H. N. Van Vorhis, E. M. Byers, George T. Oliver, John B. Barbour, Jr. and William H. Stevenson. Plans were completed at once for an active campaign.

The Olympic games were held the past summer in London and were attended by more than 3,000,000 people. Official reports from the management show a grand average attendance during the time that the visiting athletes were present from other countries of more than 100,000 daily.

San Francisco will be Pittsburgh's only competitor in this country for 1912. It is believed Pittsburgh stands by far the better show, being easy of access to the civilized world.

From reports, the seniors cleared quite a neat sum on their lecture.

The football squad will have its picture in the state athletic book. The matter was put before the boys by Coach Ahe and all were in favor of it.

Bennsaw next. The local team will go down to that place tomorrow to play the high school of that place. Some time ago they played Hammond up here and the score stood 6 to 6. This shows they have a strong team, but if Hammond plays the way it did last Saturday there will be nothing to it.

A new plan has been invented and put into use. Instead of eight periods nine periods will be used and the ninth period will extend from 4 to 4:30 p. m. Each teacher will have the use of this period to see any students for work or for whispering, etc. No doubt the plan will work in first class order.

For opening exercises Monday morning Principal McElroy spoke on concentrated study. He remarked that at present the study by the majority is simply the opposite to the form of study. He explained also the value of concentrated study.

The senior debating society held a debate on the following question: "Resolved, That the game with Elkhart on Thanksgiving day should not be played." The debate was won by the negative side, thus proving that the game should be played. The sides were: Affirmative—Hollis Hunter, William Whitaker, negative—Fred Ebert, Harry Booth. The judges were Floyd Murray, Tom Blair and William Roth.
