FUNERAL HELD IN STEWART'S CHAPEL

Remains of Phillip Tack Jr. Sent to Former Home For Burial.

With scores of friends surrounding the bier the funeral rites over the body of Phillip P. Tack Jr. were held in Stewart's chapel last evening at 8:30. Mr. Tack himself having been a Mason and Shriner, the Masonic ritual was used, after which the body was taken to the Erie depot. It was escorted by the Masons, members of the Blue lodge leading the cortege, while the Shriners walked beside the body. At the station members of the Commandery stood sentinel until the train arrived. The casket was placed aboard the train and taken to Butler, Pa. Mr. Tack's former home, where it will be interred. The pall-bearers were members of the 101 Shriner class of which Tack was himself a member. They were C. E. Bauer, W. A. Buchanan, J. T. Auer, Thomas Ricketts, Theodore Shillingham and George B. Dally.

Phillip P. Tack was the oldest of ten children, six of whom were girls and four boys. He is also the first one in the family to die. He was 29 years old last October. He was first taken ill in August and lay in the hospital until the middle of September. He was taken to the hospital for a second time on Nov. 2 and staid there for a month to the day until he died.
