Representatives from nearly every high school in Chicago and enthusiasts from all parts of the city gathered at the Union Station last night to give the parting good-bys and rabbi's foot to the championship Englewood football players as they boarded the Burlington train for their invasion of the west. The sendoff was spectacular and the eighteen members of the party left full of confidence that they will return victorious.

The Englewood team started with advantages which under ordinary conditions would insure success in the games with the Butte and Denver teams. The average weight of the men is more than that of either of the opposing teams, and besides the close boys have had the experience of training under teachers who are considered superior to the westerners. But the climatic conditions may interfere with the staying qualities of the Englewood boys and that problem is the only thing which is worrying Captain Stelt.

HACK READY FOR GOTCH FOR SPORT OR CHARITY.

London, Dec. 15.—The latest phase in the wrestling match dispute between Hackenschmidt and Gotch is the following: Hackenschmidt declares he is ready to meet Gotch in England for the sport of the match alone, leaving out all considerations of the purses. The gate receipts may be devoted to charity according to arrangements mutually agreed upon. If this fails to secure a match with Gotch in England, Hackenschmidt is willing to accept Gotch's conditions for a match in America.

The party will arrive in Butte two days and a half before the first game and it is thought the time will be sufficient to get the men used to the atmosphere. As Denver has about the same altitude as Butte, the boys will be in better shape for the second game, and they look forward to the Christmas day exhibition with even more assurance of victory than the first, which will be played next Saturday.

The team left on the local 10:30 train for Aurora, where it caught the fast mail over the same road at one minute after midnight. This was done to take advantage of the homeseeker round-trip rate of one-way fare, which is operative today.

Besides Business Manager K. M. Patterson, Manager Calhoun and Faculty Representative Bowlin, the following players were in the party: Captain Stelt, Mathis, Allen, Bloom, Murphy, Bohnet, Bennett, Wilson, Piper Pilska, Sears, Castagne, Stevenson, Windheim and Ryndon.

YALE STAR ATHLETE WILL WED.

Gilmore Kinney's Romance on Gridiron Ends in Marriage.

Toledo, O., Dec. 15.—An interesting sidelight to the historic gridiron struggle between Princeton and Yale in 1907 has just come to light with the announcement that Miss Mary McKnight of Bowling Green, Ky., is to marry Gilmore Kinney, Jr., formerly captain of the Yale basketball and baseball team and now an Idaho real estate dealer. Immediately after the punch on Blackburn, but in the second round the negro dropped Robinson for the count.

The Chicago man's best showing was in the fourth, when he landed several hard raps on Blackburn's head and face, but a stiff left to the jaw took most of the fight out of him, and he stalled out the round.

Another punch to the jaw knocked Robinson down in the fifth and he was wobbly after that, though by clever maneuvering he lasted out the sixth and was cheered by the big crowd for his gameness. Blackburn hurt his knee in the third by slipping to the floor.

BOXING SHOW FOR CONVICTS.

Films of Recent Battles To Be Shown in Penitentiaries Christmas.

San Francisco, Dec. 15.—Convicts at Folsom and San Quentin are taking a warm interest in the boxing match set for Los Angeles today. Pictures of the recent bouts will be put on as a special attraction for their Christmas day. A moving picture concern has volunteered to loan the penitentiary officials the films.

Interest is growing here in the Langford-Plynn battle. Langford is a general favorite, and is at the shorter price in the betting. But many are taking a chance on the Pueblo man, on account of his superiority in weight.

Harry Gilmore, Jr., manager of Packey McFarland, received a telegram yesterday afternoon from the Southern Athletic club of New Orleans to the effect that a letter was on its way which would settle the question of a referee for the local lightweight's fight with Young Erne Dec. 18. Gilmore decided to take no chances and so did not leave for the Crescent City last night as he expected to. He will await the letter, and should it say the club will stand by the agreement made by Matchmaker Tom Andrews of Milwaukee that Malachy Hogan would be referee instead of New Orleans man, McFarland, his manager and Trainer Kinneely will leave tonight for the south.
