SAYS IT WILL GO AGAINST GARY.

Crown Point Editor Thinks There May Be Some Axe-Grinding.

One thing in particular will go against Gary and the balance of Lake county in getting any extra court legislation this winter, and that is the fact that Lake county went heavily republican last fall and Mr. Simon has already been at Indianapolis and told the members of the democratic house that the north part of this county put in 2,000 crooked ballots. It will be a good opportunity for them to grind an axe—Crown Point Star.

THE ENATOR WANTS TO KNOW HOW THE BETTING IS.

Chesterton Editor Says That Brothers Are Lined Up Against Each Other.

Tom Knotts wants a supreme court at Gary. Brother A. F. wants an extra judge for the Hammond superior court at Hammond. Tom is the chairman of the executive committee of the "Citizens' General committee for the establishment of a superior court in Gary." A. F. is the president of the Lake County Bar association, from which the Gary Bar association seceded a few days ago. Who are you betting on to win this fight?—Chesterton Tribune.

PLAN TO GIVE A FINE DANCE.

Gentlemen Will Carry Candles While They Dance in the Park.

The Gary Musical association, of which E. C. Bigelow is the director, is planning one of the finest dances that has ever been given in Gary, New Year's night. The dance will be given in Assembly hall and selected musicians will play in the orchestra. One of the features of the dance is a dance which will be given with the lights out and the gentlemen will carry candles. This will be held just at midnight when the New Year is coming in. Mr. Bigelow will also give several readings for the first time in public.

Smothering Spells

"I suffered for nine or ten years. Had spells of smothering, finally went into convulsions. Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic brought complete relief, and I believe saved my life."

MRS. ROSA BONNER,
185 N. 18th St., Birmingham, Ala.
The blood is the channel through which is transported the nourishment that sustains life. When the circulation is poor, your vitality is low, your nervous system exhausted and you are weak and debilitated. You can restore nervous energy by taking

Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic.
Its strengthening influence upon the nervous system gives it power to send life-giving blood through the veins.
The first bottle will benefit; if not, the druggist will return your money.

IF YOU DON'T SEE IT IN THE PAPER, LOOK FOR IT IN THE STORE.

HEARD BY RUDE.

Only 24 more days until Christmas. Now is your chance to shop early.

Christmas is over and there are many people in Gary who today feel the sharp "ting of being stung," but cheer up, make make a resolution never to do it again.

And anybody you notice wearing a new tie kindly consider that there is a very warm feeling under the collar.

From this time on Gary will commence to swell with pride, also with people.

Deputy Sheriff James Trost of Hammond was in Gary today. James is to have a new title very shortly.

Now for a safe and sane New Year.

For two very beautiful bright redneckties, kindly accept our thanks. Puzzle—Guess the giver.

Gary streets last night looked very much deserted, the majority of the people being at home sleeping off the effects.

The Gary stores are now preparing for their pre-inventory sales in order to wake up a little enthusiasm among the trade.

We cannot give the Gary and Interurban any longer extension of time, to finish the Broadway brick pavement than May 1.

There are a good many people in Gary who think the spitting ordinance recently passed by the town board a huge joke.

Chief Martin and his force of officers also spent a very quiet Christmas.

GARY BRIEFS.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Borman of Tolleston entertained a number of their friends at a Christmas dinner yesterday.

The R. & S. for largest display of Christmas goods, Fifth avenue. If Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Gelsel went to Crown Point where they spent Christmas day with Mrs. Gelsel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brown.

Attorney Clyde Hunter was the guest of Chicago friends yesterday.

Dr. J. H. Long left Thursday afternoon for Des Moines, Ia., where he will spend until after New Year's with his friends and relatives.

Shoe Sale on now. See the R. & S. Grover Baldwin was in Chicago on a business matter on Thursday afternoon.

The Christmas day exercises at all the various Gary churches on Thursday evening were well attended and the entertainment given by the little children of the churches was very highly spoken of. Each Christmas tree was loaded down with presents, which were distributed among the children.

SEND AEROGRAMS FROM LAKE COUNTY.

"Here is an aerogram from the 'Northland' in midlake. The little son of Mrs. Jones of Hammond, who left Mackinac yesterday, was suddenly taken ill on the boat and she wants her husband to meet her at the landing at Indiana Harbor."

This sounds like a pipe dream, even in view of the fact that the wireless telegraph is a demonstrated success, but it is a fact that the Indiana cities of Hammond, Gary, Valparaiso, Michigan City, South Bend, Laporte, Elkhart and a dozen others are to be provided with a wireless service in the near future. That effort is to be made to compete with the fire service of such companies as the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph.

As for the wires.

It is likely to be the telegraph office on the main floor of the Hammond building versus the aerograph office on the roof of the same structure. While wireless telegraph has proven a great success in providing intercommunication between ocean steamers and the shore, and is extensively used by battle ships in their maneuvers, yet the promoters of the wireless telegraph have been slow in adapting it to commercial uses on land.

The announcement that stations are to be installed in the above-named cities, and several others in addition, will be of great interest to the people of this region. The completion of such service is sure both to improve the service and reduce the cost of sending messages quickly over great distances.

The company which will operate in Hammond, Gary and the other cities of the region, is the United Wireless Telegraph company. The service is promised for 1909, which means that work will have to begin on the new system soon.

Big Order Placed.

The eastern operating department of the United Wireless Telegraph company announces the placing of an order, with the company's manufacturing department, for 250 complete sets of wireless instruments, all of which are soon to be installed at stations to be established in cities east of the Mississippi river.

This is the largest order ever placed for wireless apparatus, and to manufacture, erect and put the stations in operation, will require an expenditure exceeding $500,000. The majority of the stations will be of only one or two kw. capacity, with a range of from 100 miles to 300 miles, but some, which are intended for long distance service will be of from five to twenty kw. to transmit wireless messages, under all conditions of weather, for a range of from 500 to 2,000 miles overland and from 1,000 to 3,000 miles over water.

The United Wireless Telegraph company's manufacturing department is erecting three complete factories, two of which are located in Jersey City, N. J., and the other in Seattle, Wash., have a combined capacity of over $1,000,000 worth of wireless apparatus per year. The larger part of the entire output of these factories has heretofore been needed in filling orders from various governments and for the United States navy department. It is probable, however, that with an extension of this factory equipment, which will be made in the near future, the 250 sets will be completed and the new stations ready for operation in 1909.

Erect Many Stations.

The company proposes to erect stations not only in the states east of the Mississippi river, but also in the western states from the Pacific coast eastward, until they complete an intercommunicating wireless system covering all important commercial, mining and manufacturing centers throughout the entire United States. Indianapolis, nearly all of such cities are connected with many smaller places by local telephone systems, it is expected that the United Wireless Telegraph company will be in a position by the end of 1909, to receive and deliver messages at several thousand points where the wire companies at present maintain offices.

The operating department of the company is now organizing its forces to begin the selection of locations for these new stations. Contracts and leases will be entered into and the advance work completed, ready for the installation of the apparatus, as rapidly as suitable sites can be secured and satisfactory arrangements made.

The following are the cities in Indiana and Illinois in which will be located the wireless stations. While the location of the wireless station in this city will not add to the membership of the linemen's union, it will be a convenience and distinction to be placed in the wireless circuit.

List of Stations.

Indiana—Michigan City, Elkhart, South Bend, Hammond, Gary, Valparaiso, Laporte, Goshen, Ft. Wayne, Logansport, Kokomo, Muncie, Anderson, Lafayette, Crawfordsville, Indianapolis, Connersville, Columbus, New Albany, Evansville, Vincennes and Terre Haute, Illinois—Chicago, Evanston, Waukegan, Elgin, Aurora, Joliet, Kankakee, Danville, Rockford, Freeport, Dixon, Moline Rock Island, La Salle, Ottawa, Streator, Galesburg, Peoria, Bloomington, Decatur, Springfield, Quincy, Jacksonville, Alton, Belleville, East St. Louis, Mt. Vernon and Cairo.

The announcement of the western operating department that will be made in a short time, giving the location of stations contemplated in the states and territories west of the Mississippi river. As rapidly as these stations are completed they will be put into operation with the stations already established, of which there are now about four hundred, including sea coast stations and ships equipped. The business to be handled by this extensive wireless system includes commercial messages to and from boats and shore stations, "over-sea" cable business, commerce and service between cities, and the distribution of press matter, in competition with the wire systems.

KERN LOOMS ABOVE THRONG AFTER INDIANA SENATORSHIP

Correspondent Learns from Vice President Fairbanks "Boss" Taggart's Ally Is to Be Rewarded With Toga for Faithfulness to Powers That Be.

(By Alfred Henry Lewis.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 25.—Today I met a gentleman from Indiana. I've been interested in the story of Indiana since the day when that red orator, statesman, warrior and hero, Tecumseh, went under, down to the time when John C. New got ready to "sweep in" a brigade of United States marshals to make the polls peaceful for the republicans in 1892, and Phil Thompson, under Senator Gorman's campaign management, moved 5,000 rifles from the armory in Frankfort to Louisville, and "organized" an equal number of "peace loving" democrats of Kentucky origin to oppose him. Judge Gresham, it will be remembered, capped the situation, all inadvertently and saved the day for blood by refusing to "sweep in" Mr. New's marshals on the ground that there had never been a moment in the Hoosier state when an unhampered citizen couldn't vote as freely and as frequently—as bloweth the raw north wind.

Those were the ruder days in Indiana. Now she goes in for literature and a higher life, and gives us such stars in the cultured heavens as Senator Beveridge, David Graham Phillips, George Ade, Booth Tarkington and "Ben Hur."

Evasion Succeeds Force.

Truly the art is still practiced in Indiana, but those strenuous elements of force, which stood out in the turbid days of Mr. New, have been supplanted by what sel-like evasions and sly deceptions. The political school of such as Vice President Fairbanks would on any proposition, in order to locate Mr. Fairbanks, be obliged to draw off the last drop of water in the pond and then poke about in the ooze.

Meeting the gentleman from Indiana as aforesaid, talk turned to the senate fight now blazing into heated being for the seat to be presently vacated by the republican, Mr. Hemenway. The legislative—meeting January—thanks to the manipulating "skulduggery" of Mr. Fairbanks and others of his party fathers, who saw no good, but only ill, in Mr. Taft, is democratic. Thus it befalls that the toga of Mr. Hemenway, when it slips from his reluctant shoulders, will fall upon a democrat.

In efforts at advance identification of that soon-to-be-togaed party, I questioned the gentleman from Indiana. The harvest of my cross-examination is as follows, to-wit:

Least worthy, but leading all the rest for that senatorship, comes Mr. Kern. Mr. Bryan's late running mate and pacemaker in the race for the presidency.

Kern Leads the Field.

Mr. Kern was not only fairly described, but per incident thrown across the clothesline of politics and beaten like a carpet during the recent campaign. The air was filled with the bad imitator of his record, not to say his reputation. He is always as fit for the senate from every angle of public interest as he is for the reprobation of Trinity church, and now the chances indicate that he is on the road to success.

He is the "attorney" for the Vandebilt's Big Four, the friend of "Boss"

Taggart, the French Lick "red devil" gambler; the choice of Mr. Bryan, and these forces are much more likely than any question of public interest to have weight with the coming Indiana legislature.

The politics of both Mr. Taggart and Mr. Fairbanks rest on the common foundation of money, the one being a republican, the other no democrat for the mere good of his health.

Next to Mr. Kern in point of apparent chances stands Mr. John E. Lamb. Mr. Lamb, burly, ruddy, capped like Mr. Kern, just on the sunrise side of sixty years, is a street railway lawyer of Terre Haute. He was a jolly butcher in his faraway youth and attracted the friendly, fostering eye of Senator Voorhees because of certain steak and cutlet favors which he rendered him. The tall Sycamore took Mr. Lamb from the butcher shop his name so well became, and led him into politics and the law.

Breweries' Favorite Sons.

Mr. Lamb was Mr. Bryan's campaign manager in Chicago during the late unpleasantness, in which role he performed no startling service—failed utterly of destruction. Both Mr. Lamb and Mr. Kern are beloved of the liquor interests and pose as the breweries' favorite sons, which last is no small Indiana matter during what seasons the churches go to sleep.

Pressing hard upon the backs of Mr. Kern and Mr. Lamb, behold the portly form of Major G. V. Menzies. The major is round, thick, florid, the twin of the typical English country squire, and if rudely shoved, he wouldn't fall; he'd roll. The gallant major thinks and acts in an old-fashioned way and smelled powder in the navy many, many years ago.

From South Bend the Hon. Ben Shively notifies mankind that he has every frank intention of becoming Mr. Hemenway's successor. Mr. Shively was in congress and contributed hugely to the victory of Mr. Crisp when that great Georgian won the speakership of the house. Mr. Shively is tall, dark, dignified, silent, with hair of iron gray. Considered from every coin of public weal, he is the best man running for the place.

Which is why Mr. Shively won't get it.

Standard Oil Must Be Heard.

There is such a money python as the Standard Oil of Indiana, but recently distinguished by being "ordered" out of Missouri, I believe, to say nothing of the celebration natural to that $25,000,000 fine. Standard Oil will have something to say concerning the next senator from Indiana, just as it will concerning the next senators from Ohio and New York, and no one is so foolish as to suppose it will say "Shively."

It might be mentioned that all of the statesmen named—Mr. Kern, Mr. Lamb, Mr. Menzies, Mr. Shively—are Ciceros of the slip-dash, slam-bang, impartial school which skins an opponent and the English language at one and the same time.

The legislature will select one of these gentlemen, doubtless Mr. Kern. Mr. Shively is the best among them. Mr. Kern is the worst.

IS A CHRISTMAS BRIDE HOUSEHOLD WORRIES

Wedding of Leonard Stanley and Miss Mae Kelley Announced.

East Chicago, Dec. 25.—The wedding of Miss Laura Mae Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Kelley of Ottumwa, to Mr. Leonard Stanley, of Indianapolis, was announced to the public last evening. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride on Tuesday evening, when, standing beneath a large floral bell, the words were spoken by Rev. J. H. Palmer, of the local M. E. church, that made the couple man and wife. The ceremony was witnessed by only the immediate relatives of the happy couple and was followed by a midnight wedding supper. The couple left early Wednesday morning for a honeymoon in Sheridan, Cleveo and Noblesville, this state, after which they will be at home in Indianapolis.

Miss Kelley has been for years one of East Chicago's most talented telephone operators and her pleasing personality has won for her many friends, who wish her all the good things in life. Mr. Stanley, the groom, is a popular restaurant proprietor in the capital city, but was formerly an employee of the Republic mills in this city. Mr. Harold Loucks of Northcote avenue, and Miss Margaret Kelley, a sister of the bride, were bridesmaids and bridesmaid during the ceremony. Among the guests present were: Miss Margaret Whithead and Mrs. Elliot and son, Robert, of Highmore, S. D.

There is Not the Slightest Need For Some of Them Existing in Hammond.

The average mother finds sufficient annoyance and worry performing the ordinary duties in the rearing of a family, but the cares and anxiety are doubled where there is added to ordinary conditions that of weakened kidneys in a juvenile member of the family. How to cure it should be of untold value to Hammond mothers. Read this:

Mrs. William Newton, of 240 Plummer avenue, Hammond, Ind., says: "My daughter, who is twelve years of age, was troubled for several years with weak kidneys and I wish to tell how grateful we are to Doan's Kidney Pills for the relief they brought. She had but little appetite, and from a healthy, happy child, became weak and puny in a short time, due to the suffering caused by this disease. After the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Bicknell & Co's drug store were taken we noticed that she was much brighter and stronger and we continued giving them to her until the disagreeable symptoms of this disease had entirely disappeared. She is now in excellent health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
