SENATOR TO CHECK THE HOUSE

Maneuvering Is Outlined for Legislature in the First Battle for Simon-Wickey Contest—Eye for Eye, Tooth for Tooth Policy.

BOTH PARTIES WILLING TO PURIFY ELECTIONS

Tenth District Will Stand By Republican Candidate—Gets Assurances From All G. O. P. Members That They Are With Him to the Finish.

TIMES' BUREAU AT THE STATE CAPITAL.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 26. — The question of the Wickes-Simon contest in Lake county, in which Edward Simon, the democratic candidate for representative, is contesting the election of Representative Edward W. Wickes, who was declared elected by a plurality of more than 1,300, was widely discussed among the representatives.

Representative Wickes came from the Tenth district, and all the Tenth district representatives, except Kilver, were here. At a meeting at the Claypool hotel yesterday Mr. Wickes was elected chairman of the Tenth district delegation. The Tenth has a larger republican representation than any other district in the state.

Tenth District with Him.
The Tenth district men will stand by Wickes in the contest in the legislature. Mr. Wickes declares that he has had assurances from the republicans in every district that they will support him, even to the point of appealing to the senate to give aid. Action by the republicans would probably be the only thing that could keep the democrats of the house from unseating Wickes in case they should decide that that was the thing to do.

Senate Has Check.
In the house the democrats will be in the majority and will be able to unseat Wickes if they please. In the senate the republicans will be in the majority. Mr. Wickes believes that if the democrats in the house attempt to unseat him the republicans in the house should give the democrats in the house to understand that a democratic senator will be unseated in the senate. Mr. Wickes believes this would be the thing to do.

Senators Will Be Able to Unseat Him.
In the senate the republicans will be in the majority and will be able to unseat Wickes if they please. In the house the democrats will be in the majority and will be able to unseat Wickes if they please.

be nothing more than fair.

Both Parties Guilty.

"Mr. Wickes was elected by a plurality of more than 1,300," said one of the Tenth district men. "It may be that there were irregularities among the democrats, too, and it was merely a question of which party could do the most. There is no reason why Mr. Wickes should be unseated."

Representative Elliott of South Bend declared that there was no more reason for a contest in Lake county than there was in St. Joseph county or several other counties.

"They will have to go some if they unseat Wickes," said Elliott.

First Clash of Season.

It is said that the republican state organization feels the same way about it. One of the leaders of the state committee declared that whenever the democrats started to unseat Wickes in the house there would be things doing in the other branch of the legislature.

There is little doubt that the Wickes-Simon contest will cause the first clash in the legislature. It is largely on the irregularities in Lake county that the democratic candidates for state offices are basing their contests. These contests are backed by the democratic state committee. Both party committees will be lined up in the Wickes-Simon contest in the house.

Stricter Naturalization Laws.

It was stated by several of the representatives who attended the meeting that this contest should not be allowed to interfere with the passage of laws designed to purify the elections. The democrats are favoring laws that will require a foreigner to have lived for five years in the United States and to have been fully naturalized before he may vote. The republicans also, it is said, will aid in the passage of such a law, but they will not by any means admit that the republican party has been wholly to blame for election irregularities in the past.

Which Could Do the Most.

"I am for a law to purify elections," said Representative Brown. "I believe foreigners should be residents of the United States for five years before they are permitted to vote. But in the last campaign in Lake county the democrats were just as guilty of irregularities in election work as were the republicans. It was merely a question of which party could do the most of it."

It was thought that the question of the selection of a floor leader for the republican side of the house would be taken up at this meeting, but some of those who attended said the subject was not mentioned. This will be left to the caucus to be held just before the sessions opens.
