

OVER THE TEA CUPS

A HOME WEDDING.

A very pretty and quiet wedding ceremony occurred last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Smalley, 305 South Hohman street, when their only daughter, Ona Katherine, was married to Edward H. Rohde, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Rohde of Indiana avenue. The wedding was attended by the immediate families and a few invited relatives, who came from out of the city. The service of the Lutheran church was said by the Rev. Theo. Claus, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, of this city, at 8:30 o'clock.

The ceremony was beautiful in every detail. The bridal company entered the parlor, unattended, at the appointed hour, where they were met by the Rev. Claus, who pronounced the ceremony. The ring ceremony was used. The service took place before an altar banked with palms and floral flowers. The home was very prettily decorated for the ceremony, carrying out a dainty color scheme. From the chandeliers in the parlors of the home were suspended hanging baskets of ferns and flowers. Immense bunches of pink roses and pink and white sweet peas were used in conspicuous places in the parlors, and added much to the attractiveness of the room.

After the ceremony a daintily arranged course wedding supper was served in the diningroom, where the same pretty color scheme prevailed. The tables were arranged with bunches of sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Rohde will not leave on a wedding trip, but will remain at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Smalley, 305 South Hohman street, for the present. The at-home cards read after June 1, when they will receive their many friends. The announcement of the marriage will come as a surprise to many friends of the families on account of the quietness of the ceremony, but they will receive the congratulations and best wishes of many people in Hammond and throughout Lake county, where they are well known.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Smalley, and has made her home in Hammond for many years. She attended the Hammond high school, and until very recently held a position in the treasurer's office in the city hall. She is very popular in society circles in Hammond. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Rohde of this city. He was graduated from the Hammond high school in the class of 1906 and later attended Armour Institute in Chicago. He recently took an interest with his father in the flour and feed business in West State street. Mr. Rohde is known throughout the county on account of his active work in athletics during his high school years, when he was a member of the basketball ball, track and football teams. He has a wide acquaintance of friends in business and social circles, who are congratulating them today at their home.

SOCIAL DAY CELEBRATED.

The members of the literature committee of the Hammond Woman's club will celebrate social day Saturday afternoon, and Mrs. H. F. Meikle will entertain at her home in South Hohman street. SHRINERS MAKE MERRY WHEN THEY RECEIVE THEIR CHARTER

Orak temple is a fact. The dispensation was received from Elias J. Jacoby of Murat temple last evening and the event was celebrated with one of the finest banquets that was ever served in this city. Those who have attempted other Shrine affairs say that never have they seen such splendid spirit as was manifested in Hammond last evening, and two men, W. B. Conkey of Hammond, a member of Medinah temple, Chicago, for nearly twenty-five years, and H. T. Williams of India temple, Oklahoma City, Okla., signified their intention of becoming members of Orak temple.

The case of W. B. Conkey peculiarly illustrates the spirit that is manifested by local Masons. Mr. Conkey has been a member of Medinah temple in Chicago for nearly a quarter of a century. Had he remained a member of that temple for another year he would, according to the rules of this temple, have been entitled to a life membership in one of the oldest and most famous Shrines in the United States. Instead he handed his card to Illustrious Potentate H. E. Sharrer of Oak Temple, Hammond, and will hereafter be identified with this organization.

The scene at the banquet table was a magnificent one. All of the guests wore the fez and sat about a "U" shaped table. The banquet hall was beautifully decorated by Roy Faust, the Lion store, window decorator, and Miss Florence Stommel of the same firm is given credit for making a number of beautiful pennants for decorative purposes.

In addition to E. J. Jacoby of Indianapolis, who brought the dispensation, Imperial Potentate E. I. Alderman of Cedar Rapids, who has been a friend of the Hammond Shrines from the very start, were made honorary members of the local shrine.

A great deal of credit is due Morse & Co. of Chicago for the magnificent banquet that was served. Never in the history of the city of Hammond was such a magnificent repast so perfectly served.

Illustrious potentate—Harry E. Sharrer. Chief rabban—Hugh F. Melkie. Assistant rabban—Harry B. Tuthill. High priest and prophet—Andrew J. Smith, Hobart. Oriental guide—Mark L. Dickover, Valparaiso.

A month and the proceeds to be used for charity. About sixteen young ladies were present at the meeting, and it was decided to hold the next meeting Tuesday evening of next week.

bill, on the pretense of giving Hammond home rule when in fact he wanted to appoint the police commissioners for the purpose of strengthening his political machine. A. F. Knotts was hitting such lies in the interest of Hammond's bill that he was the consternation of the Gary men and was recognized by both the Hammond republicans and the democrats, who fought side by side for that bill, as one of the most efficient fighters at the state capital.

Republicans Must Have a Fighter. The Hammond republicans have been casting over the field. They realize that the man who defeats Lawrence Becker or the candidate of the democratic party selects will have to be a fighter. They name over the men who have been suggested from time to time, and only when they come to the name of A. F. Knotts do they arrive at the conclusion that the will fill the bill in this respect.

From the conversations of scores of republicans, it is clear that they do not want a man who will say "Yes, the democratic administration has given us a fair administration, but we want you to vote for a man who gave and will give us a better one."

What the republicans of Hammond want is a candidate who will rip the present city administration up the back and down again. Point out the lack of progressiveness, show where false economies have in reality been gross extravagances, show how the police department, which Becker did not control, has been denied everything it asked, while the fire department, which Becker did control, has been given everything it asked.

Richard Schaaf Was Acceptable. The republicans are ready to rally around any man who will get out and fight. They would have made Dick Schaaf their nominee in a minute of the had but signified his intention of being a candidate. Many of them are saying, "Knotts is the only man who will give us the scrap we want; who will hear the democratic lion in his den." They don't want the municipal campaign to be any more of a compromise than the county campaign was. Every body knows that Dick Schaaf did not compromise on a single vote.

The office of mayor is open to any man who will redeem Hammond from democracy, and the average republican is aware of the fact that there are very few men who dare undertake the responsibility.

It is suggested in some quarters that Mr. Knotts might be assailed on his street car franchise record, but a comparison, paragraph for paragraph, of the franchise that Mayor Becker recently gave to his political friends will instantly put at rest any argument along this line and besides the character of the service and the proposed extensions on the present street railway, they say, compares very favorably to the service that the Gary Interurban line is giving in Gary, and consequently the service that the people of Hammond may expect here.

Tired of Standing Still. Above all, the friends of the ex-mayor say that the people of Hammond are tired of stagnation. The people on the North side have rebelled against it and have repeatedly denounced the present administration. The people of the East side have rebelled against the delay in opening the Columbian avenue bridge and the people of the South side have been assailed to death for a widened street that is the greatest monstrosity in the way of a public improvement that was ever invented.

They are convinced that A. F. Knotts would stand for progress along conservative lines. That he would help to put Hammond in the van of the cities of the region. That is the platform they would expect him to run on.

A. F. Knotts listens to all this talk. He has heard it from the lips of people of half a dozen nationalities and in each case he has shaken his head. What the outcome will be remains to be seen but the suggestion of Mr. Knotts' candidacy is at least interesting.
