

DIVEKEEPER PRETERS CHARGES

Notorious Dave Johnson, a Negro, Would Blame A. A. Rodman, Colored Vice Crusader, With Fire in the Former's Place.

HIS WORD AGAINST THAT OF A CLEAN MAN

Claims That He Saw the Reformer Running Away From His Place at Shortly Before Midnight and Immediately After Discovering the Kerosene Soaked Paper.

A. A. Rodman, one of the most effective negro reformers in the city, was arrested at 3 o'clock by the Gary police on a warrant charged with arson. The affidavit was sworn out by the notorious Dave Johnson, who claims that after discovering a fire in his house he saw Rodman running away.

Although Johnson claims to have two others who will bear him out in the fact that Rodman was seen to be leaving his place just after the fire was discovered, Rodman's friends assert that the arrest was merely an attempt to bluff and blackmail him into submission.

There is no colored man of higher reputation in the city than Alexander Rodman, who has had much to do with the driving out of the bad element from the city and whose life and property have been continually threatened because of his activity along these lines.

Rodman Believed to Be Innocent. Late last night Johnson claimed that he discovered a fire under the rear stairs of his house and that as he went out to investigate he saw a man running away, and in the moonlight made out the features of A. A. Rodman. Two other men who happened to discover the fire at the same time have also been secured to verify the statement.

It is claimed that not only were papers stuffed under the rear stairway, but that they were soaked with kerosene and that had not the blaze been discovered as soon as it was the entire building would have been destroyed. There is every indication that an attempt was made to burn down the Johnson place last night, but there is a great deal of question about the guilt of A. A. Rodman. The latter's friends point out other motives for persons to have attempted to burn this place down which look more feasible.

When Rodman was arrested in his shack at 3 o'clock this morning he stoutly maintained his innocence, and claimed that he had not left his shack at Eleventh avenue and Broadway that evening. After he was taken to the police station he was able to give bond and was released pending his hearing today or tomorrow.

Johnson and his witnesses about the notorious place claim that they fired two shots at the fleeing man without bringing him to a halt. It is not known whether the fire was extinguished before or after they gave chase. In any event but little damage was done.

CHICKS BURNED UP

(Special to THE TIMES.) Indiana Harbor, Ind., Aug. 9.—A number of chickens were burned to death and property valued at $100 destroyed in a blaze which occurred in a barn at the corner of 13th and Elm street Saturday afternoon. It is thought the fire was caused by sparks from a steam roller which had passed the place a few minutes before the flames were discovered. The fire department responded promptly and had the flames under control before serious loss could result.

Local Inspection of Improvements Is Made by City Officials and Result Is Expected to Benefit Harbor City Largely.

(Special to THE TIMES.) Indiana Harbor, Ind., Aug. 9.—The trip taken by the city and county officials to view the improvements that have been completed and are now in progress in Indiana Harbor may be productive of important results for the harbor. It is hoped that the outing may be the means of interesting the county officials in the necessity of two new bridges, which the city hopes that the county will take upon itself. The twenty-first century limited over the Lake Shore was due about then, so it was decided to wait and watch this ponderous demon of modern railroad-making take the big bascule bridge over the canal.

Then the journey along the line of the canal was made and the sewer work inspected, and the company broke up, feeling well satisfied with their day.

suggestion of the county officials, who took the opportunity, being in the vicinity, to inspect the work. The party then drove through Hessville, down Kennedy avenue, through Gibson and inspected the crossing over the canal on 15th street and on Chicago avenue, where the bridges are desired built. Thence they repaired to Indiana Harbor where luncheon was had at the South Bay hotel. The luncheon was unusually sumptuous, and proved very enjoyable, and after it had been partaken of the company adjourned to the boat landing where a gasoline launch was in waiting to take the party to the harbor, where the bridges could be viewed and the big interlocking station, which is said to be the largest in the world, inspected. The twentieth century limited over the Lake Shore was due about then, so it was decided to wait and watch this ponderous demon of modern railroad-making take the big bascule bridge over the canal.

not positively pronounced by the attending physicians, but from all symptoms it is thought she was the sad victim of either internal abscess or hemorrhage.

Funeral Today.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Lowell today at 2 o'clock. Rev. Duane, preaching the kind words of consolation to the grief-stricken parents, brothers and sisters, aged grandparents, uncles and aunts, and a large circle of friends, in whose esteem she was held very highly. Interment was made in the Lowell cemetery, six of her cousins acting as pallbearers.

Grace Burdette Palmer, second child and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer, was born at Creston, Ind., Aug. 1, 1882. At the early age of 12 years she confessed faith in her savior, uniting with the Creston Methodist church under the pastorate of the Rev. T. E. George. She remained an active and consistent Christian, being about her duty to church only when poor health or some other unavoidable cause prevented her.

She was united in marriage to Harry E. Taylor, May 9, 1908. In this union two sweet little girls, Leah, aged 3, and Leona, 4 years old, were born, who are now deprived of the tender care of a loving mother. The deceased leaves to mourn her besides the two daughters, her parents, three brothers, Robert, Oliver and Harold, and three sisters, Mrs. Mary E. Thompson and Ella and Henrietta Palmer. Mrs. Taylor was of a kindly disposition, her heart and hand always being ready to do a kind act. Her sudden sickness and death comes as a sorrowful shock to the entire community in which she was universally loved and respected.

TWO DEATHS DUE TO RAIL ACCIDENTS

price of a ticket, and was struck by the train leaving Whiting at 11:55 p. m. while walking on the tracks. The remains are still at Krohn and Burns' undertaking rooms at Indiana Harbor, and the inquest was held this afternoon.

South Chicago Boy Killed.

The second accident, which also resulted in a young man's death, took place on the Pennsylvania tracks, Albert Lawrence, aged 22 years, who resides with his sister, Mrs. George W. Smith, 3961 Avenue M, South Chicago, was the victim. Lawrence, with a companion, had come to Whiting to take the 12:35 train on the Pennsylvania to Clark Station, where, it is said, they intended to spend a few days camping. Officer P. J. Mullaney, who met the train, in speaking of the affair said: "There were several foreigners at the station who were leaving for their native land. They were accompanied by several relatives who were crying and carrying on at their departure."

"My attention was called in the direction of them to see that none were injured when the train pulled out. The train had pulled out when I heard terrible screams, but naturally I thought it was one of the women in the crowd giving vent to her feelings. The train had gone only about one hundred yards when it stopped again. I ran to see what the trouble was, and there was Lawrence under the train with one foot cut off at the ankle and the other leg off at the knee. The train crew all helped to get the man out and a stretcher was secured from the baggage car, upon which he was rushed through the street to the office of Dr. B. L. Doolittle, on 119th street.

Dies in Hammond Hospital.

When the condition of the man was seen by Dr. A. J. Lauer and Dr. E. L. Dewey were called in to assist in the amputation. The ambulance was secured at 3:30 a. m. and Lawrence was taken to St. Margaret's hospital in Hammond. No sooner had the ambulance gone than Lawrence's sister and brother-in-law and two other relatives, unable to secure a car, reached here in a wagon. When Mrs. Smith learned of the extent of her brother's injuries she went into hysterics.

The case was hopeless from the beginning, and all day yesterday the young man suffered intensely until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when death relieved his sufferings.

The remains were taken to South Chicago, from where the interment will take place.

Lawrence was a printer by trade, being employed in the office of the South Chicago Calumet. He was well-liked by his many friends, and the news of his misfortune was received with much regret.

Hurt in Runaway.

Dr. E. D. Dewey figured in a runaway yesterday which might have cost him his life, but which fortunately, owing to his presence of mind, resulted only in a skinned ankle.

The doctor is having his buggy repaired, and is using only a temporary rig. When started out yesterday, about noon, he was anxious to make a hurry up call, so he made the horse go pretty fast. While going at a good pace the shaft of the buggy broke and jabbed into the animal. The more the driver would pull the lines the faster he would go. When he came to Oliver street he turned down, which was about the worst thing the horse could do, for the new high school under construction has caused brick to be piled up for quite a distance and a greater part of the thoroughfare to be blocked. The doctor saw certain death staring him in the face if that kept up very long, so, getting upon the seat, he took one line and headed the horse into the telegraph pole and prepared to jump just before it struck. This he did and received a skinned ankle, but no injuries otherwise. The lines were twisted around the post, but G. J. Badger, coming to the rescue, soon had them undone, and when the broken shaft was tied up the horse was all right.

WEST GETS BIG FIGHT

Nevada or California to Be Scene of Jeffries-Johnson Go, Says Berger.

KETCHEL NOT CONSIDERED Jack's Method of Standing Flat Footed May Aid Him Against Stanley.

New York, Aug. 9.—Nevada or California will be the scene of the Jeffries and Johnson battle, if the men ever get together. This was practically admitted by Sam Berger today, who said that Jeffries preferred to box in America and that the offer made by Hugh D. McIntosh to hold the bout in Australia was not likely to be noticed.

Offers for such a match have been numerous and both the National Sporting club of London and the Cirque de Paris or Hippodrome club of Paris have made bids for the contest. Neither can offer such inducements, however, as would be made on the western coast.

The club at Ely, Nev., which made a bid for the bout early in the discussion between the men, has withdrawn its offer, but it is known that several other mining camps stand ready to offer a fabulous sum for the sake of advertising their property. Where the coast is most likely to cut a figure, however, is in the club at Los Angeles, conducted by Tom McCarey.

He has secured a permit to hold bouts at Vernon, where Jeffries' old arena is located, near the Santa Anita race track. Whether he intends to use the old amphitheater is not yet known. There is considerable litigation over the property and he may prefer to erect a new structure. He has already said he will bid for the bout and offer a big purse. He claims he can get many pledges at $100 per seat if he brings the bout to Los Angeles.

Neither Jeffries nor Johnson seems to consider Stanley Ketchel a serious factor. He is to meet Johnson before the latter opposes Jeffries. Sam Berger and Jeffries both think Ketchel will be easy for Johnson, on account of Jack's superior size. Berger thinks that the big colored boxer's method of standing flat-footed in the ring, which has met with so much criticism, will help him in a bout with Ketchel.

A $300.00 PIANO FOR $50.00

They are going to move to another city and they don't want to carry so much furniture with them. They have a standard make piano which cost $300.00 a year ago. Willing to sacrifice it for $50.00 spot cash, if bought this week.

Are you able to snap up a bargain like this when you see it? Its a shame to have to let such a money saving opportunity escape you when you want so hard to take advantage of it. You could easily pay the $50.00 in installments of $5.00 or $10.00 a month perhaps, but the other fellow wants the full amount.

Why not get the full amount from us, turn it over to the man who wants to sell, and then pay us at the rate of five or ten dollars a month? Isn't this the sensible thing to do?

Opportunities such as we have mentioned are happening right along, but those who are unable to profit by them on account of not having the ready cash, do not always think of coming to people like us to help them out. And to such persons we want this advertisement to serve as a reminder.

We advance money privately on furniture, pianos, horses, wagons, etc., and the property remains in your possession. You can get the money within a few hours time, sometimes within an hour.

Compare our rates with others. You will find our payments easier, the cost lowest, and our service the best.

Ask about the large rebate if the account is paid before it is due. We give you a statement of your account showing all details.

If you owe another loan company, we will pay them off for you and give you more money at lower rates than you are paying.

A WAY OPEN

Many a Hammond Reader Knows It Well.

There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptic. Scores of Hammond people have made it possible. The public statement of their experience is proof of the like of which has never been produced before in Hammond. Read this case of it given by a citizen:

Mrs. Margaret Gehrke, 212 Plummer avenue, Hammond, Ind., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a blessing to mankind. I suffered for years from kidney complaint and, although I tried many remedies, it was not until I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills that I found relief. I was all run down, thin, weak, tired and dejected and I really believe I was on the verge of collapse. My back was weak and painful, especially during the night and in the early morning, and I had no ambition to do anything. The kidney secretions bothered me by passing irregularly. I could not stoop and, if I sat down, I had to assist myself with the arms of the chair upon arising. When I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills, I was in the above condition. To my delight they proved to be just the remedy my system required and I soon began to have new life and energy. My kidneys became normal and the backache grew less severe until it entirely disappeared. My general health was improving all this time and I gained in weight. I used in all seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and at the end of that time a permanent cure had been made. Doan's Kidney Pills are a remedy that all kidney sufferers could try."
