

THE LATEST IN FASHIONS

THE HUSSAR TURBAN IN WHITE FOX.

These high fur turbans are worn tipped far to the right side of the head, shading and sometimes almost covering the right eye. This gives a very jaunty, rakish air which is becoming only to a few faces. This hussar turban is of snowy fox fur, two animal heads making an appropriate trimming on the left side. Not so appropriate, but very graceful, are the white bird wings which also decorate this white fur hat. The veil is a fine white mesh, dotted with pin spots in gray.

A DANCING PARTY.

One of the leading society events of the season was a Halloween dancing party at which the members of the Hammond Athletic association entertained last Saturday evening in their club house in Bellview place. Invitations to attend were extended the members and many of their friends in Hammond and East Chicago. There was a large attendance at the party and everyone reports the entertainment as having been a very delightful one. Sixteen dances composed the program for the evening and an excellent program of music was rendered for the dancing. Dancing began about 8:30 o'clock. The committee announced another dance for the Thanksgiving holidays and invitations will be sent out about the middle of the month. The hall was very attractively decorated for the evening with autumn foliage and Jack o' lanterns. Suspended at the entrance to the hall was the word "Welcome" cut in large red letters and at the rear was a large American flag. There was a wide corner, characteristic of Halloween where older and apple were served during the intermissions. The party was one of the leading events of the week and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who were present.

AD SOCIETY MEETS.

The members of the Ladies Aid Society of the First Methodist church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Miss Lena Krinbill, 199 Ann street. A full attendance of members is desired as the usual business will be disposed of.

AN EVENING PARTY.

Miss Myrtle Webb very pleasantly entertained many of her friends at a Halloween party Saturday evening at her home in Carroll street. About thirty guests were in attendance at the party, many of them school friends of the hostess. They met early in the evening and in they arrived at the Webb residence in Homewood and they were met by a ghost, who directed them to the back door, where they were met by another ghost, who blindfolded and ushered them into the large basement. The first degree of the initiation took place in the basement, after which they were entertained in the parlors. A pleasant time followed, when various games appropriate to Halloween followed. At a late hour they were invited to the large hall upstairs and each guest was provided with a candle and asked to find their way to the witch hunt. The entertainment was very enjoyable and continued until a late hour, when the guests were invited into the dining room and served with a dainty three-course luncheon. The parlors were prettily decorated with autumn leaves and Jack o' lanterns. The color scheme was carried out in orange and black and festoons of these colors were draped in the archways and doorways. The dining room was done in white and orange and dainty souvenirs were chosen for the decorations. The refreshments as far as was possible were also carried out in these colors.

Repairing done evenings, 114 Plummer avenue, second door west of Hohman.

ENTERTAIN INFORMALLY.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Lederer informally entertained a company of their friends last Saturday evening at their home in West Sibley street. Mr. and Mrs. Lederer entertained at a typical Halloween party, and the home was very prettily decorated with Jack o' lanterns and fall foliage and ferns. During the evening the guests enjoyed games and music.

Two fortune tellers furnished pleasant entertainment, when they gave readings for all the guests. At 12 o'clock the guests were invited into the dining room and served with an elaborate luncheon. The menu chosen for the party was characteristic of the Halloween season. Covers were laid for thirty guests.
