THE LATEST IN FASHIONS

A RED RIDINGHOOD CAPE FOR THE DEBUTANTE.
Only a very young woman could stand the childish coquettishness of this evening wrap and only a young girl would be willing to risk the musing of a carefully built evening culture for the sake of coquetry. The cape is most simply built, in circular fashion, from heavy broadcloth, and a lining of quilted satin makes the garment still more warm and cozy. The hood portion is lined, more softly, with shirred chiffon, and the cord and tassels fastening is also very simple and girlish.
