

THE LATEST IN FASHIONS

SCHOOLGIRL'S ROSE GARLANDED HAT.

Simplicity marks the hats designed for girls still in the schoolroom. As in this one of coarsely woven straw in a delicate shade of rose, the harsh effect of the braid is mitigated by partially facing the brim with black velvet which matches the broad band encircling the large square crown. Over the top of the crown wanders a wide garland of closely-set pale pink rosebuds which terminate against the upturned brim. This is one of the new shapes which may be adjusted in the manner which best becomes the face of its wearer, for the looped side is quite as often set at the back or the side of the head as it is almost directly above the brow.

POLICE BALL, ENJOYABLE AFFAIR OF THE SEASON

While the policemen's fourth annual ball at the Hammond Athletic club rooms last night was second to no previous social event for the general good spirit of the occasion, it was nevertheless in a class by itself for its decoration scheme. No ball room in Hammond was ever more profusely decorated, nowhere was there ever more riot of colors than at the ball room. The only regret about the whole affair is that all the splendor should pass away with the morning.

Mayor Becker and Mrs. Becker lead the grand march, and were followed immediately by Chief Austgen and Mrs. Austgen. Several hundred people fell in line and marched to the martial music of Elster's orchestra.

Decorations Riot of Colors.

As the midnight hour approached those of the guests who desired were seated with a luncheon, a section of the floor and one of the club rooms having been reserved as lunch rooms. The policemen themselves had charge of the whole floor and gave their first attention to the comforts and accommodation of their guests. The decorative feature of the hall was the big surprise of the evening. Garlands of seagrass, palms, streamers,

Japanese umbrellas and lanterns, flags, Japanese umbrellas and lanterns, flags, bunting and banners hanging from covered every bit of the ceiling and wall space. The many lights which shone bright as ever were softened, however, by the color scheme. A big five-foot electric star in front of the club house lighted the way to the building, while another such an emblem, although somewhat smaller, decorated the north end of the hall.

Spared No Expense.

The whole cost a big amount of money, and much work on the part of the committee. A handsome sum of money was realized from the affair and this will be used as the nest egg for a policeman's fund to meet any emergencies which may arise in the future.

By the splendid success of last night the Hammond police department has assured for itself deserving success for its future efforts.

The committees were as follows: Arrangement—Emil Bundo, chairman; Oscar Borchert, secretary; Captain Fred Rimbach, treasurer; S. Trinen, Michael Herman and John Kunz. Reception committee—Frank Shine, Charles See and Herman Miller. Floor committee—John Kunz, Gus Hohman and Nicholas Elisele.

pected from Hammond and vicinity and a large attendance is expected as the party is one of the first large affairs of the post-Lenten season. Informal dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock.
