BICYCLE MAN IS INJURED

O. L. Linendoll, proprietor of the Triangle bicycle shop, corner Oakley avenue and Sibley street, figured in an accident yesterday which will lay him up for several days.

Accompanied by Joe Nutini, the two rode on one motorcycle yesterday, Laporte having been their destination. Near Westville the machine struck a pig, which, instead of getting out of their way as expected, jumped directly in front of the motorcycle, causing a spill in which Mr. Linendoll was injured.

Nutini saved himself by a quick jump, but later in the day while returning home he permitted his foot to catch in the wheel, which caused a second accident and slight injuries for him. Linendoll had to go to a doctor at Westville who sutured a bad scalp wound. He sustained other bruises which are keeping him in bed today. They returned on the machine which figured in the accident.

RESORT OWNERS ARE DESPERATE

the collector of the tribute from the dives and that he is supposed to give each of "the boys" their share.

He says that for some reason or another Johnson took a dislike to him and began framing up stories against him to get him in trouble with his wife. The trouble followed as a matter of course, and that was taken as an excuse for his discharge from the police force. He was told that his discharge was for the "good of the service."

It Is No Joke Now.

Camp said that this remark might prove to be no joke. It is understood that he has delivered an ultimatum to the powers that be to the effect that he will squeal on the whole city administration if it does not take him back on the force.

It is understood that the committee of trustees who have charge of the police force will hold a meeting this afternoon to consider Camp's ultimatum. If they decide that they had better not take a chance on Camp's giving away all of the details of West Hammond grafting they will probably take him back on the force.

But if they make up their minds that they can bluff him into being quiet then he may be discharged so that the collection of tribute can go on uninterrupted.

Slot Machines Gone.

That is the story that Camp tells, and it has interesting possibilities. He says that all of the graft is now divided with the officers who patrol the north side and that the officer who is assigned to the south side does not get any of it.

Following the THE TIMES' expose of conditions in West Hammond it is understood that all of the slot machines in the village have disappeared as if by magic.

A few days ago there was not a saloon in West Hammond that did not have one or two of these machines, but now they are said to be all gone and things are quieter than they have been in some time.
