COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Thickness and Lustre At Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy;" thus avoiding a lot of muss. While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.—Adv.

ENTERTAIN LARGE AUDIENCE.
A more enjoyable evening's entertainment than that given last evening by the Killarney Girls at the First Presbyterian church in South Hohman street has not been given in Hammond for some time. The church auditorium was taxed to its utmost capacity and the large audience was delighted with the program. In the audience were a number of the Chicago friends of the concert company and Adrian Newens, the staff critic for the Redpath Lyceum Bureau of Chicago under whose management of the company appeared. Mr. Newens is a favorite with Hammond audiences, having lectured here on three different occasions. The members of the company were highly talented. Among them were Rita Rich, reader and harpist, Laura Wernow, reader and accompanist, Margaret Andrieu, contralto soloist and reader, and Martha Stielz, cellist and vocalist. They entertained the audience with readings, piano violin, cello and vocal solos and after the program arranged for the evening they were forced to appear again and again in response to hearty encores.

Mrs. A. W. Hoffman the chairman for the evening introduced the members of the company in a very charming manner. The following young women ushered, Elene Reiter, Katherine Sharrer, Mae McEwen and Georgia DeWeese.

The concert last evening was the first in the course of entertainment to be given this winter under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church. The Strollers will give the next entertainment on the evening of December 8. Other numbers will be given by Phildelah Rice, impersonator and J. Adam Bede, lecturer.

AN ENJOYABLE MEETING.
The Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. held a most enjoyable meeting last evening at the home of Miss Agnes Maguire in Oakley avenue. Many important business matters were discussed. Mrs. James R. Graves, president of the W. C. T. U. met with the young people last evening and offered several valuable suggestions, one of which was to maintain a room in the new W. C. T. U. Hospital. The members decided to do this and plans to make the necessary money were discussed. A social hour was enjoyed following the business meeting. Miss Helen Beebe gave a reading which was greatly enjoyed after which the hostess served her guests with dainty refreshments. Announcement was made of the next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Graves, 894 Erie street on the evening of the 20th. The members of the society are asked to dress to represent some well known actor or actress.

HOLD WEEKLY MEETING.
