

CHEAPER ICE IN GARY EXPECTED

Many Hundreds Take Advantage of Foodstuffs Sales in Gary.

With the warm weather in the wane and the consumption of ice decreasing daily, cheaper ice is looked for in Gary according to those in touch of the situation today.

For the past three or four weeks residents have been paying outrageous sums as high as $1.25 a hundred pounds and on account of its scarcity many were glad to get it at that price. Numerous Gary residents who never knew what it was, not to have ice in the ice box have been doing without it for weeks. It was simply a case of them refusing to pay the high price and did without it.

Government investigators who were conducting an investigation into the ice prices and the H. C. L. profiteers in this city stated that the ice prices were outrageous and the highest of any city in the state. The investigators stated that the city would hear from their investigation in the near future.

In an effort to bring down the soaring ice prices Fred Dietrich, chairman of the city ice investigating committee, sent inquiries several days ago, in regard to having ice in carloads shipped to the city and put on sale at cost prices, but up to this hour, nothing definite has been decided upon nor has word been received relative to the promised ice.

In conferring with Sidney Metzel, manager of the Gary Artificial Ice Co., Mr. Metzel told the committee that he now has some carload lots on the way and if he only has to pay $7.00 a ton which he anticipates paying the ice prices will drop.

In the recent ice controversy in which Mr. Metzel was accused of controlling Gary's ice supply and with profiteering, Mayor Hodges made an open declaration that there would be a change in the ice conditions next year if the city had to take steps to put in its own plant. As summer is about over, nothing will be attempted this year.

At the postoffice yesterday morning, a large crowd took advantage of the government's offer to purchase surplus army food and for several hours clerks were kept busy filling out the orders. Several hundred orders were taken. The prices were published in these columns in Saturday's issue.

The orders are to be filled in the order they are turned in, it is thought that Gary's allotment of food will run out before all those wishing to make purchases will be supplied. Orders are distributed at the general delivery window, they filled out by the purchaser and a receipt for the purchase given on payment. The order is then shipped parcel post.

Within a day or so, four cars of government meats and canned goods which was purchased by a committee headed by Chairman John A. Brennan a week ago, will arrive in Gary to be put on sale. Hundreds of inquiries are being made as to the arrival and it is expected that buyers will gobble it up in no time.

The food is to be put on sale at nine different distributing points and a system has been figured out to allow each family to purchase just so much in order that every resident will have an opportunity of "laying in" their supply. Prices will be figured down to cost. Each station will be in charge of a competent overseer, one representative from the Gary Clearing house association and Chief of Police Morris.

A Gary's city market is also giving the H. C. L. a rap and each market day, hundreds of buyers take advantage of the prices and the large variety of garden truck. Monday morning the crowd was so thick in front of the city hall on 7th avenue and the sidewalk across the street was almost impassable. City market master Carroll Stick is to be complimented on his good work.

SHOOTING GRAPS FOR POP EH?

Well, You Can Tell That To Th eJudge, Said Policeman Miller of Gary.

"Come on yuh little Joe, bring dat money home!"

"Ata boy, I'll let yuh ride, who wants it, yuh all gonna break or make me, now com'on yuh bew-ful seben."

In a two-by-four room in a frame building at 1227 Adams street in Gary a regular dark "crap" game was in progress. A former negro police officer, ex-Sergeant Burrus, was in charge of the game.

"That's alright boys, you don't need to worry, I've been a policeman and I know how to fix things up."

Plain Clothesmen Sergeants Elaner and Quant of the morals squad were at the key-hole of the door. Blinds were drawn, windows were closed. The game was already waxing warm, although it was only mid-afternoon.

From a known source, the careless gamblers got a tip just before the two officers broke in the door. Fourteen negroes were gathered about a green cloth covered table in the center of the room and seeing the officers there was a general commotion to make their getaway. The police were prepared for just this and the file of 14 dice throwers were led to the police patrol and headed for the police station.

The police learned later that the gamblers had been tipped off that the police were going to make a raid and had they been five minutes later they would have found the room deserted.

"We were playing for pop," said one of the gamblers.

"Tell that to the judge in the morning," returned Officer Miller who had the task of booking them.

HENRY G. HAY DIES AT GARY Father of Bank President Passes Away at Home Of His Son.

Henry G. Hay Sr., of New York, assistant treasurer of the United States Steel corporation, died here of heart failure this afternoon at the home of his son, Henry G. Hay Jr., president of the Gary State Bank. Mr. Hay Sr. was born in Indianapolis, October 31, 1847. Early he went west and for thirty-three years was a prime factor in the development of Wyoming. He was a rancher, banker, politician and a surveyor general. He laid out the state lines of that late. Mr. Hay was a commissioner to the world's fair at Chicago and a member of the committee that granted Wyoming women the right of equal suffrage.

Mr. Hay was born on the site where now stands the manumit circle and Columbia club now towers. Indianapolis at that time, seventy-two years ago, was built up with low frame houses.

Mr. Hay married his first wife, Ella Bullock, in 1874. Henry G. Hay Jr., president of the Gary State Bank and president of the Gary school board, and Mildred Hay Gibbs of Pasadena, Cal., are children born to this union. Mrs. Hay died in 1905. Mr. Hay was again married in 1903 to Mary Abbott who died in 1907.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home of the son, 730 Jackson street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Father Elliot of Grace Episcopal church, reading the life and sermon. After which in charge of the Williams Undertaking company, the remains will be shipped to the former home of the deceased at Vincennes, Ind., for burial.

THOUSANDS ATTEND FUNERAL OF FIRE CHIEF Gary's Gallant Fire Fight- ers is Remembered At Obsequies Today

Amid banks of floral tributes contributed by organizations, friends, fire departments of the Calumet district and South Bend at Central fire station today at Gary, the remains of the late lamented Assistant Fire Chief Adam Seifert was viewed by thousands of his life friends after which at two o'clock the Rev. William J. Funky preaching the sermon, impressive obsequies were held at the Central station where the deceased had had charge as assistant for many years.

To show devoted love and respect for a departed friend the entire city courts and city hall departments was closed at noon and to make room for the throngs of friends who would attend public services the fire apparatus were removed to the outside in the court just outside of the city hall. A pretentious bier in the south end of the room was placed on which the casket, covered with banks of floral tributes, rested.

After the services the body, mounted on the big new white ladder and hose wagon from No. 8 station, followed in automobiles by the mourning friends, the mayor, local farmers, city officials, fire departments from the Calumet district and South Bend and led by Fire Chief Grant, life long friend of the deceased, and the captains from the six fire stations as pall bearers, they moved from the station to the grave in Oak Hill Cemetery.

A short service was held at the late home, 652 Massachusetts st., before the viewing of the remains held at the Central fire station, the Knights of Pythias lodge, of which the deceased was an honored member, performed the beautiful ritualistic work and last sad rites at the grave.

By the departure of Adam Seifert to the realms of the unknown the world is deprived of a mighty fine man beloved by all who had the pleasure of knowing him. He was born in Germany forty-two years ago and came to America when but an infant in his mother's arms, who with the wife, two sisters and one brother were at the bedside when death came. His family located at South Bend and when manhood was reached a deep friendship was formed between the deceased and Fire Chief Grant of Gary, who was then fire chief at South Bend. Seifert was made captain of the South Bend department, after which he became a member as assistant fire chief of the Gary fire department shortly after Mr. Grant was made chief and the ties of friendship and responsibilities have been

One of the most beautiful of the mid-summer weddings in which Hammond society has been interested took place Saturday at Winnebago Park, Peaches, Wis., where Miss Grace Lena Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lafayette Bell of 97 Webb street, Hammond, became the wife of Annie Cleveland McLean of Montana. The ceremony took place at the summer home of the bride's parents and was pronounced by Father Foxwicks of the Cathedral of Fon Du Lac. The bridal party marched through an aisle formed by garlands and arches of foliage and flowers from the house to the lake front where the ceremony was performed under a canopy of white flowers. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white pussy willow tulle and chignon trimmed with old lace. Her duchess veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and baby's breath. The bride was given away by her father. Attending her were her sister, Miss Gladys Bell as maid of honor who was dressed in apricot organdie, and five bridesmaids who were attractively gowned in the rainbow shades. Miss Frances Rieffeld of New York, who was bridesmaid, carried the train. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of white flowers. The groom, Robert McLean of Montana, wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Father Foxwicks of the Cathedral of Fon Du Lac.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the dance hall which was decorated with baskets of flowers. A fine orchestra played during the evening and at eleven o'clock a supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. McLean left that evening for Duluth where they will spend some time before going to Montana where they will make their future home. DINNER GIVEN FOR C. T. PRALL

As a means of introducing C. T. Prall to the department heads and the other employees of the E. N. Bunnell Motor Co., an excellent dinner was spread Monday evening at the Lyndora hotel at which Mr. Bunnell presided. Thirty employees of the company from the Hammond and Gary branches were present.

Mr. Prall will henceforth be associated with the Bunnell Co. in the sale of Ford machines in Lake County.

He is an experienced man in the automobile business. For three years he was one of the Ford Motor company's assistant managers, having charge of the Chicago branch. From there he went to the Pacific coast where he was branch manager for the Overland at San Francisco for two years.

Mr. Bunnell considers the Hammond company is fortunate in connecting with a man of Mr. Prall's experience and Mr. Prall, after attending the dinner Monday night and talking with the men, realizes he is hooked up with a live bunch. He was especially impressed with the fact that the men seemed to belong to one big family and that there was a decided attitude of co-operation.

He expects to move his family here soon and make Hammond his permanent home.

CAN'T GET THE MOTION PUT.

If members of the Gary city council take a vacation during the month of September, they will have to do of their own accord. This was shown at the close of their regular meeting last night when the subject was brought up for discussion.

When Councilman Freebury raised the question of the council taking a vacation in September, President Ralph Rowley spoke up and overruled the motion, stating that it was not legal.

"Well, there is nothing that can stop us from not attending and if there is not a quorum present, there will be no meeting," several said. The ayes were unanimous and President Rowley's name stood alone and it looks like there will be no council meetings the coming month.

A petition bearing the signatures of twenty-one collection citizens was introduced to reinstate the freight and express stations and it will come up in a hearing before the Public Utilities board Thursday afternoon.

What to Use and Avoid On Faces that Prespire

Skin, to be healthy, must breathe. It also must perspire—must expel through the pores its share of the body's waste material. Certain creams and powders clog the pores, interfering both with elimination and breathing, especially during the heated period. If more women understood this there would be fewer self-ruined complexions. If they would use ordinary mercolized wax instead of cosmetics they would have fresher, younger under-skin is permitted to breathe and to show itself. The exquisite new complexion gradually peeps out one free from any appearance of artificiality.

Obtain an ounce of mercolized wax from your druggist and try it. Apply nightly like cold cream for a week or two, washing it off morning. There's nothing quite so good for an over-tanned or freckled face—adv.
