W. W. PARKER VICTIM OF HEART DISEASE

Well Known Hammond Citizen Dies After Long Illness.

Hammond lost one of its prominent citizens and early residents last night when William W. Parker died at his home, 2 Warren st. For a long time Mr. Parker has been in failing health and during the last few weeks has been confined to his bed. He was suffering with heart trouble and was taken to a Chicago hospital in the hope of obtaining relief. He was brought home Wednesday when it was realized that the fight was hopeless.

Mr. Parker was born in Williamsport, Ind. nearly thirty years ago and came to Hammond thirty-two years ago.

He engaged in business as a contractor for a number of years and later became associated with his son, V. W. Parker. He leaves a widow, one son, V. W. Parker of Hammond, and two daughters, Mrs. Lulu Griffin of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. R. S. Gorman of Kendallville, Ind. The funeral will be held from the home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. T. J. Bassett of the Methodist church officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery in charge of Undertaker Emmerting.

MUTUAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASS'N SHOWS BIG GAIN

Financial circles of Hammond were surprised today by the annual statement of the Mutual Savings & Loan association. The progress made by the association is really amazing. The capital stock was increased twice during the year, first from $500,000 to $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. The assets for the year 1919 show an increase of $260,000, as compared with 1918. The receipts have increased from $158,000 to $485,000.

The officers and directors have reason to feel proud of the steady growth of the association. Each successive year adds to the significance of the Mutual Savings & Loan association's records. Cautious care is exercised in the selection of all loans and the association offers investors the very best securities obtainable, yielding 7 per cent per annum on all money invested.

Boy Scout Column

Hammond, Ind., January 10.
K. S. DAVEY, Editor.

How to make your troop the worst troop in Hammond.

The following advice is for all the Scouts who want their troop to be the poorest in Hammond.

1.—Come to troop meetings whenever you feel like it, not regularly, of course.

2.—If a little late, do not come at all.

3.—When you do come to the meeting, create all the disturbance you can and annoy the Scoutmaster.

4.—Do not pay your dues.

5.—Let George do everything and then kick at the way George does it.

6.—Say nothing when the Scoutmaster asks for your opinion concerning anything, but always stand ready to find fault with what the other members say or do.

7.—Always bear in mind that the Scoutmaster is in Scouting for his own health and that you are conferring a favor upon him by remaining in the Troop.

8.—Never pass a test unless you are threatened in some way by the Scoutmaster.

9.—If a troop Scribe do not let any of the other troops in Hammond know there is such a troop as the one you belong to, or in other words, do not send any news to the Scout Executive. IT MIGHT GET INTO PRINT.

TROOP 4 HAS FEED

The Scouts of Troop 4 sat around their festive board last Saturday evening and partook of a "Bean" Supper. Oh, boy! It sure was some supper. The beans were some the Scouts had raised in their war garden.

The Executive was the guest of honor. Games and songs followed the supper.

NEW TROOP

Mr. Speer, the Boy's Work Director, at the Brooks House in East Hammond is organizing a new troop. We all welcome Mr. Speer into the ranks of Scoutmaster and wish him the best of luck.

WHY A SOLDIER SALUTES

The military salute so familiar to every soldier and scout dates back to very early days. At first it was not intended in the least to show respect to superiors. The upraised arm with the open palm extended was meant merely to show that the soldier did not carry a dagger in his hand and could not attack if he wanted to. An even more remarkable change has come in the meaning of the custom of retiring backward from the presence of royalty. In very early days men backed away from a king to protect themselves from being kicked.

—Boys' Life for December.

ENTER TROOP CONTEST AND RALLY

Each troop in Hammond will be represented in this contest by teams in knot tying, first aid and signalling. The results in the Inter Troop contest will be announced. The Shield, flag and cup will be awarded for the year.

Every Scout, Assistant Scoutmaster, Troop Committee, local councilmen, parent and friend of the organization should be at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening, January 22nd, at 7:30 p. m., to see what can be done and hear more about the Scouting.

We need your best efforts and support if this is to be a success.

SOLDIERS MUST GO TO GARY FOR PAPERS

Owing to the fact that the department of justice has wired Judge Hardy that their records are not yet complete on all of the persons whose second citizenship papers were held up at the last naturalization session in the Hammond superior court, Judge Hardy will not hold the special session that was scheduled for Tuesday, January 13.

At this time it had been planned to grant full papers to all soldiers who applied, but ex-service men who desire naturalization were advised to go to Judge Greenwald's court at Gary Monday.

KNOCKED HOLD-UP IN DITCH; THEN LET HIM ESCAPE

When two men stopped him and ordered him, at the point of a gun, to throw up his hands, Raymond Ramack did so, in a hurry, but his right hand came in contact with the eye of the man with the gun and toppled him into a ditch. Ramack followed him into the ditch but took pity on the poor holdup and let him go without further chastisement.

Ramack who lives at 40 Clinton st. was going home from work at the Campbell plant and was taking his usual route through the Erie yards when he was stopped by the two men who were preceding him. When Ramack knocked the one man into the ditch, the other ran away.

ACCUSES RIVAL OF SMASHING WINDOWS

Alleging that a rival in business is trying to carry out his threat to put him out of business in short order, Albert Shlensky appeared at the Hammond police station this morning and reported that both of the front windows of his store at 231 State street, had been smashed last night.

Mr. Shlensky who is head of the new Hammond Produce Co., opened the fruit and vegetable store Friday. He says that a competitor warned him to keep out of the field. Mr. Shlensky says that the windows were evidently smashed towards morning as little of the fruit was frozen. Had the act been committed earlier in the night his loss would have amounted to several thousand dollars.

Revenue men yesterday afternoon arrested Peter Sertle who has a soft drink saloon at 856 Summer street, in Hammond, on a charge of making wine. They also claim to have evidence that Sertle was selling the wine.

CARE FOR PUPILS AND PREPARE FOR NEW SCHOOLHOUSE

Arrangements for taking care of the pupils of the Lincoln school in temporary school rooms on the North Side and in the Irving and Central buildings were made by the Hammond Board of Education yesterday. Plans were also made for raising a bond issue for the purpose of erecting an up-to-date building to replace the old structure.

The children of the kindergarten will have their classes in a room of the West grocery building at the corner of Gaston and Washburn sts.; the first grade (A and B) will meet in a room in the Tubrey Theater building on Hohman st.; the second, third and B of the fourth will attend the Irving school and A of the fourth and all of the fifth will attend the Central school. Those who are transferred to the Irving school will have only half-day sessions, using the rooms of the regular Irving classes, which will have also only half-day sessions.

The arrangements for attendance at the Irving school will last only until arrangements can be made which will allow of full day sessions for pupils of both buildings.

The board has decided to erect a building to replace the Lincoln which will accommodate all of the grades, but they have not yet decided on the details of the building or where it will be placed. The old site of the Lincoln school may be used or a new location may be selected.

Capital and Surplus, $65,000.00

What Happens?

¶ The retiring merchant who possesses a "oh-I-guess-I'll-wait-till-they-come-in" attitude towards the general public, gets badly fooled.

¶ They just don't come in.

¶ The merchant who puts his foot forward—who advertises bargains—gets the cream of the trade. His store is prosperous looking, his clerks are busy.

¶ Prosperity is his.

¶ With a newspaper, whose circulation covers the district every night at his command, the merchant who doesn't advertise simply doesn't want business.

¶ That's all there is to that.

¶ You can't get away from that fact. Go where you will in Lake County or in any part of it, The Times goes every night.

¶ The people in these days of high prices are looking for bargains.

That's What Happens!

A STRONGER BANK

With its Surplus again increased, making the Combined Capital and Surplus $150,000, this Bank takes on a new element of strength.
