SALES FOR TRINIDAD

J. L. MacCall, formerly of Indiana Harbor and recently appointed Major in the Quartermaster section of the Reserve Corps, has been elected to Junior Partnership in an export and import firm in the Isle of Trinidad, British West Indies. The firm will handle cocoa beans and has already contracted to furnish a ship in the East with 1,000,000 pounds. Mr. MacCall sailed on the 14th for Port of Spain, the largest city in Trinidad and the family will follow April 1.

POLICEMAN'S BALL APRIL 22

The East Chicago and Indiana Harbor police have set the date for their seventh annual ball for April 22, Thursday, and will hold the ball in the Masonic Temple at East Chicago. The proceeds of the ball will be used toward the purchase of new uniforms for all officers. The music will be by sterling.

HITS LIGHT POST

Edward J. Peters, 4740 Baring ave., while turning from the car tracks on Michigan avenue in Indiana Harbor, collided and hit one of the ornamental light posts. The post was broken off and the machine badly damaged but no one was hurt.

PERFORMS A GREAT SERVICE

The Employment Commission of Indiana, operating through its nine offices in various parts of the state, is performing a service to the public at large, of which only a very small portion of the population of this great commonwealth have any conception. A statement made by Fred Klein, State Director of the Service.

The general conception of an employment office is that of a third floor back room, dingy, dirty and up narrow stairways, presided over by a person whose sole interest is that of the profit to be derived from those out of employment and who can least afford to pay for a job.

In contrast to the free employment offices of the past, we now have the Free Employment Service of the State in co-operation with the Federal Government. The offices are in charge of high-class men and women; selected for their peculiar ability and qualifications and are chosen by the Employment Commission from a number recommended by the several cities and through their mayors, business and labor organizations.

The modern employment office is a high grade business institution, created for the benefit of the unemployed as well as for the employer. It serves the purpose of centralizing opportunities for employment and obviates the necessity of the unemployed traveling from place to place, seeking employment at the expense of time and money, and it has the additional effect, through proper guidance, of stabilizing labor conditions.

The local employment office, under the management of Herbert B. Jones, in the City Hall building, is an example of the modern service in actual operation.

MANY SEE SCOUT EXHIBIT

Between five and six hundred people of Indiana Harbor saw the wonders of the Boy Scout exhibit at the Riley School Friday and Saturday evening of last week and because of the large attendance and the extreme cold of Saturday the exhibit will again be open this evening for the last opportunity to see all of the articles in one exhibit.

Because of the large number who attended Friday night and in order to enable the people to view the exhibit with some degree of comfort it was necessary to close the doors. The crowd was not as large Saturday night because of the cold and those in charge decided to continue the exhibit for one night in order to give every one a chance to see what the Scouts have accomplished in their spare hours.

The blue ribbon structure of the exhibit is the power house although the big cabin, barn, bank, bridge, boarding house, city hall, village store and others are deserving of mention. One well known contractor of the city has declared all of the structures to be very well constructed.

Twin City News Notes

Miss Ethel Wilson, of Kenney ave., whose birthday was on Valentine day, shared the honors with her niece, Margaret Dorotha Such, and held celebration for several of the juvenile friends with decorations all in the selection of the Valentine date and colors of dainty pink. The affair took place at the grandmother of little Margaret, Mrs. Esther Rooney in Kennedy ave. It was a delightful afternoon for the young folks.

A wedding took place of a very well known Calumet couple, the bride, Miss Emma Black, and the groom, John Vargo, were married by the Rev. P. Shaffer of the Holy Trinity church, Sunday. After the church services there was a reception for the many friends at the bride's home. Miss Black was formerly in the employ of Kovach Bros. in Chicago ave., and Mr. Vargo is employed at the Grasselli Chemical Co. They will live in Calumet.

The literary department of the East Chicago Woman's Club will meet with Mrs. D. F. Cornell, 4101 Baring ave., tomorrow afternoon with the first part of Book V of Aristotle's Logic taken up as the study of the afternoon. Reservations for the theater party to see Southern-Marlowe, date of February 28th, have been completed and twenty three is the number that will be in attendance on that afternoon.

The music department of the East Chicago Woman's Club is under postponement from this evening to next Monday evening when Mrs. H. E. Bloomberg of North Olcott ave. will be the hostess as originally planned.

Lady Elks will meet tomorrow evening at their regular session with Mrs. J. B. Walker in North Baring ave.

A guest at the Frank G. Halem home in Fir st., for the week end were Miss Minnie Bender and Mr. D. W. Matthews of South Bend, Ind.

LADY'S APRON.

When preparing the dinner or working around in the kitchen you will find this style of apron the very thing. It is not big and cumbersome, but very light and comfortable. The sleeves in either long or short length are cut in one, with the front part, which continues around to the back, where it fastens with just one button. The belt holds the apron into the figure at the waistline.

The lady's apron No. 3564 is cut in sizes 36, 40 and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 2 1/2 yards 32-inch material and 8 1/4 yards binding.

Union No. 185 will meet Wednesday evening in regular session and it is desired that all members be present for the transaction of business necessary to the order.

St. Patrick's Day is early claiming attention from a committee that will sponsor a dance on that date, March 17, at the Odd Fellow's hall, Indiana Harbor. It is to be a club affair with invitations and tickets soon in distribution. The favors will be in the vivid hues of green and a most pleasant time anticipated.

Mrs. A. Riffle of Fir st., was a hostess at a Valentine event, Saturday evening, with the late evening diversion consisting of Five Hundred in which the awards were captured by the Misses George Deitch, D. W. Coursey and Mrs. Gil of Hammond. The appointments consisted of the dainty colors and favors attendant with the festive date. Mrs. Coradine of Chicago and Mrs. Gil of Hammond were the out-of-town guests.

The postponed meeting of the literary department of the Indiana Harbor Woman's Club will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. J. E. Freeman in Beacon st., instead of on Wednesday their regular day selected. Mrs. Freeman will be leader in the study of "Leaves of Grass" and Mrs. Frances Byers, city librarian, will contribute poems on the author, Walt Whitman. All members urged to be present.

Owing to the misunderstanding of a death record as given over the telephone the name of Theodore Heim was confused with that of Thelma Heim, of 2908 Drummond st., where the loss of a babe, eight months, was suffered. It is to be regretted that Mr. Heim was inconvenienced with this erroneous report and burdened with the sympathy that should have gone to the other family.

Mrs. Omar Glass of the Mark Addition is a hostess tomorrow afternoon to members of her embroidery club, but the diversion will be Buncie instead of crochets. Indiana Harbor ladies going are: Mesdames A. J. Riffe, George Deitch and mother, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. D. W. Coursey and Mrs. J. E. Coradine, formerly of this city and now of Chicago.

The No Name club instead of meeting tomorrow evening at a member's home, their usual form of diversion, will go to Chicago to view Southern-Marlowe. The reservations have been gained.

PISO'S

A MINUTE A DAY

You may have noticed that it still is daylight well after 5:30 p. m.

Each day the sun sets a minute later; a month from now the day will be a half hour longer.

The difference between the long, contentment-giving summer days of June and the dreary, early dark afternoons of January is after all a difference of minutes—a minute a day.

It's the little things that count. Something saved each day and put in the bank weekly or monthly brings contentment well worth having.

The Woman's Guild of the Church of St. Alban will meet with Mrs. J. F. Peters 2312 Grapevine st., tomorrow afternoon and enjoy a social session. All members are urgently requested to be present.

A card party will be in progress at the hall of St. Patrick's church, tomorrow evening with an invitation extended to the public. The awards have been selected in view of creating a large patronage as this is the last card party until after the Lenten season which comes in on the day following. There is no restriction on the number attending.

Sixteen of the younger folks of the Hungarian Reformed church in Calumet presented play last evening in the social room of the church entitled "The Bookkeeper." The participants have organized under the name of the Christian Endeavorers, and will plan for future benefits for the church. Their first performance was most successful and they were treated to a tea party by a committee comprised of four, Miss Helena Paul and the Messrs Joseph Spanias, Anton Balog, and Thomas Fodor. The cast was made up of sixteen. The decorations at the social which followed were cleverly carried out in the Valentine suggestions.

"Netter" suite of the "Junior Beauty Book Sewing Circle" met Saturday afternoon at the home of the Misses Estella and Ellen M. McKenzie, 4841 Main ave., East Chicago. A very large throng of laque enthusiasts were present and were into their work with a spirit fully worthy of the splendid mission that prompted the Valentine day meeting. A committee consisting of the Misses Yvonne Carroll, Loreta Flynn, Joan Black, Alice Black, Estella McKenzie and Mary E. McKenzie had been appointed, at a previous meeting to prepare a suitable Valentine for General Feistling, and proudly reported their work in the form of a very beautiful silk American flag. Without the slightest thought of debate the beloved Valentine was adopted and distributed to the fortunate general, bearing the inscription: "To Our Dear General, beloved in Peace, Invincible in War." This memorable meeting was lovingly dedicated to a noble ideal, and most fittingly closed with the inspiring strains of "The Star Spangled Banner."

WATCH FOR DANGER

This is only one of many fire dangers that no good housekeeper permits. But even the most careful household needs complete protection of a policy in the Hartford Fire Insurance Company. We can furnish it. The "Hartford" insures against nearly every kind of damage that can possibly occur to nearly every kind of property.

CLAIR M. STEPHENS, Indiana Harbor, Indiana.

You Have No Guarantees From Your Neighbor

You may take every precaution against fire yourself, but you have no assurance that your neighbor will be equally as careful. That is another reason why it is necessary to have complete fire insurance protection, ENOUGH protection.

If fire came tonight would tomorrow find you a heavy loser, or even worse than that, financially ruined?

Just as you would consult a good lawyer or a good doctor if you needed legal or medical advice, bring your insurance problems to experts. You will find them in our insurance department. It doesn't cost a penny more to have experts write your protection.

The State of California has chosen Horse-Shoe Tires for use on all state-owned cars for 1920.

In giving this endorsement California has followed the lead of many Municipalities and great business Corporations.

Tests such as theirs are what have made the rapid growth of Horse-Shoe Tires possible, and we shall welcome the day when more tires are bought on actual records of performance.
