

BIG CROWD EXPECTED AT GAME

Lake county fandom will be out in full force this evening. With the greatest basketball game of the season between the Whiting Red Crowns and the Hammond American Legion scheduled to start promptly at 8 o'clock, the Central gymnasium is expected to be filled with a cheering crowd long before referee Jack Gilroy toots his famous whistle. Arrangements have been made to seat over 400 people and those who get to the gym early will have the best of it. It is expected that more than this number will be turned away as the Central school as cannot hold over 200.

Tonight's big contest, it is predicted, will eclipse any basketball event ever staged in Hammond. Never before in the history of the cross-town game locally have the fans been given the great opportunity to see such an aggregation of famed stars in one lineup. Hammond fans have read and read numerous articles about these players when the latter were starring in college, university, and pro teams, and this is the big chance to see them play.

The fact that it will be the Legion's last appearance in Hammond this year will in itself attract a vast throng. Hammond backers of the local team have clamored for a game with such a renowned five as the Red Crowns and their wish has been complied with. The Whiting team is considered the best in the vicinity and failing to see them in action will be an overt act.

The majority of the Legion players have learned to play the game while students of the Hammond high school. Three have seen university basketball, the trio consisting of Vonnor (Michigan), a Hess (Indiana), and Sheridan (Purdue). Will the locals put up a game as well as expected of Driscoll and Feeney, both recognized as premier basketballers in the game today? Captain Driscoll, the Thompson brothers, and Atchison will try to show the crowd that they can play the game without the advantage of college coaching.

The name of Paddy Driscoll, the most famed member in the Red Crown team, is familiar to every one in Hammond and although Paddy will be playing against Hammond he will still retain the host of friends that he has made through his wonderful performances on the gridiron.

Down at Whiting they think a great deal of the Crowns and the only ones are coming over with "wad" enough to choke a French cow. In betting circles the Whiting crew rate the favorites, but one can never tell, in sets come off and the Legionners will attempt what other great teams in the middle-west have failed to do.
