

COUNTRY CLUB HAS STAG PARTY
One hundred Hammondites who were present last night at the stag party at the Hammond Country Club are loud in their praise of the ability of Wilfred Krayer to whom John Huchel had entrusted the business of tag promotion.

Prominent in the crowd seated at the supper tables was a long string of Rooster club members, recent additions to the Country Club. Following the supper, the entertainment began and continued unabated for two hours. There were a couple of rule girl singers and dancers, a black face story teller, and clog dancer and an Irish monologist. Then one of those strong guys who seem to be made of rubber and have no feeling did the trick of freezing himself from a snarl of chains which wound him to a board. The stunt, which claimed most attention was the wrestling match between two Chicago champions. One represented the Chicago A. C. while the other hailed from the street car line. They were dubbed Red and Green respectively. Because of Green's attitude with the street car line, Red at once was the popular favorite. However, Green copied the first fall in twenty and minutes with some sort of three-point suspension hold. Red came back for a victory in the second grapple in six minutes. Then Green did it again in a little less than twenty minutes giving him two out of three.

All in all, the stag is considered one of the most successful ever held at the club and from the interest shown, promises a lively season for 1939.

BEAUTIFUL DECORATION
Spring atmosphere prevails one of the big windows of the E. C. Ames store where the decorator has done himself proud and produced one of the most beautiful window displays ever seen in Hammond. A background of screen with chicken finches is used. Sprigs of vines hanging at intervals appear. In the foreground is a pine tree and from the needle leaves a spray of the threads to represent water playing over a bed of flowers. Around this are arranged numerous articles necessary to spring with.

garden tools, cutlery, goods and the very necessary wheelbarrow. The attractiveness of the display is indicated by the fact that scores of people were stopped to look at it in one hour this morning.

CHANCE IN THE AIR SERVICE

Eighty-four men had perished in the hands of the air service in the hands of the air service in the hands of the air service.
