JAPANESE ACTIVITIES WORRY U.S.

Washington Uneasy Because Of Large Numbers of Jap Troops Sent to Siberia.

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS.
WASHINGTON, April 17.—The activities of Japanese troops along the Chinese Eastern railway and in the vicinity of Vladivostok, Khabarovsk and Nikolayevsk in Eastern Siberia are being watched from Washington with uneasy interest.

MANY SERIOUS CLASHES.
Clashes between Japanese troops and the Russians and between the Japanese and armed workers, among them being Czechs, along the line of communication by rail from the Pacific region to the sea of Japan are growing in seriousness and frequency, while officials here admit neither the exact cause of the friction nor the precise aim of Japan's military operations has been made clear.

TWO NEW DIVISIONS SENT.
The state department has been informed that two new Japanese divisions will be dispatched to Asia almost immediately. A message from Tokyo explained that those divisions are to relieve tired divisions now in Siberia. This is taken to indicate that instead of withdrawing from that part of the world, as Japan was supposed to do when the French, British and Americans cleared out of Russia, as they have now done, Japan intends keeping large forces there.

JAPAN TO STAY IN SIBERIA.
These forces now number about 26,000. The original intention of the allies was for the U. S., France, England and Japan each to send to Russia about 7,000 men. Japan first sent 20,000, but later cut this number down to half only to reinforce the "wolf-troop" subsequently by two fresh brigades.

An excerpt from a Japanese paper printed in Hawaii has reached Washington with the assertion that the Japanese are in Siberia to stay.

CANT EXPLAIN ATTITUDE.
Officials declare they are unable to place an authoritative interpretation upon Japan's actions, though in some quarters the opinion was hazarded that the "Montrose doctrine of the East" with Japan playing the principal role, may have something to do with developments.

The United States has recognized that Japan "has special interests in China" but this agreement does not extend to Siberia. In this connection it is pointed out that Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho through questions put to Secretary of State Lansing last fall, revealed a possible considerable difference of opinion between the country and Japan as to Japan's policy in China, which policy was believed to have been expanded to cover at least parts of Siberia.

Senator Borah brought out the fact that it was Count Ishii, the Japanese ambassador, who has urged that the words "special interest" be included in the Japanese-American agreement signed in 1917, and that there was room for doubt as to the exact interpretation Japan put upon the words.

At the Japanese embassy here it was explained that the fighting around Vladivostok, at Nikolayevsk and Khabarovsk was due to the aggressive attitude of the Russians, necessitating their disarmament and since they were disarmed, conditions are becoming quiet.

OMAHA MAN IS LATEST CORN KING
CHICAGO, April 17.—Another big grain coup has been credited to George A. Roberts, of Omaha, Neb., who put through a deal in corn a year ago that made him $2,200,000. According to board of trade reports today, he has just netted $1,600,000 as the result of his speculation in rice, buying that grain at $1.46 a bushel last January and unloading it recently on a $2 market. He declined to discuss his trades today.

FOOD SHORTAGE BROUGHT ABOUT BY FARM CRISIS

City Drains Country of Its Labor—Christie Says Grain Must Bring Higher Price.

(SPECIAL TO THE TIMES)
LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 17.—"The people of the United States are demanding automobiles, musical instruments, jewelry, fine clothes and recreation more than they wish food," said Prof. G. L. Christie of Purdue University in a statement issued on Thursday on the agricultural situation in Indiana.

"These people are willing to pay high prices for all such articles that laboring men engaged in the manufacture of these materials may be paid wages two, three and five times as great as the farmer can afford to pay. Cheap land and cheap labor have gone," continues Prof. Christie, "and so the last of cheap food has been seen. From now on consumers must pay the price that allows the farmer a fair return for his labor and his investment."

A conference of members of the agricultural staff of Purdue University was held to consider phases of the present agricultural situation. Many reports received from the various counties in the state are alarming and show an unsettled condition.

In the statement issued by Prof. Christie the public is warned of the increasing seriousness of the situation. The demand for luxuries is decreasing food production because the big wage paid in the city for the manufacture of luxuries is drawing labor from the country and reducing crop acreage.

"There is much idle land in the state as a result of this condition. In answer to the question of the Indiana farmer as to what he should do it is urged that he go ahead and do the very best possible under the conditions.

The statement concludes.
