The literature department of the Hammond Women's Club met with Mrs. John Huchel on Morraine avenue Tuesday afternoon. After a short business session Mrs. J. A. Aubry took charge of the program. The lesson study for the afternoon was a comparison of "Adam Bede" by George Eliott as the "Scarlet Letter" by Hawthorne. Mrs. Aubry gave a sketch of the life of George Eliott one of the greatest of English novelists, who wrote of the people with whom she lived and whose own life and character are depicted in story of Adam Bede. Mrs. Aubry gave a complete review of the story and read excerpts from the book showing George Eliott's style and manner of expression.

After a few selections on the victrola Mrs. Aubry resumed the lesson, she handled "The Scarlet Letter" by Hawthorne in the same interesting manner by giving a sketch of the author's life and then by a detailed account of the story and comparison and contrasting of the situations in both books. The lesson showed the careful preparation and appreciative reading and the general discussion which followed proved interesting in the interchanging of ideas.

FIVE BIG PACKERS GET ANOTHER WEEK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The five big packers yesterday granted an extension of one week time in which to perfect a new plan for the sale of their stockyard interests, to conform to the terms of the court's decree for the divorcement of those properties from packer control. The district supreme court, ready to hear final arguments on the original plan for selling the stock yards to Prince & company of Boston, was advised of an eleventh hour change in the packers' attitude and with the consent of the government, decided to allow the packers to perfect their selling agreement.

ASQUITH PREDICTS IRELAND INQUIRY

ATH, Scotland, Oct. 14.—Former Premier Asquith in a speech here today predicted that parliament would demand a thorough and impartial inquiry into reprisals by the "black and tan" police in Ireland. Former Premier Asquith is now a member of the house of commons and it would be possible for him to demand such an investigation when parliament convenes next Tuesday.

TOKIO, Oct. 14.—John Wanamaker Philadelphia merchant, was unanimously elected president of the World Sunday School association now in convention here.

RAILROAD PROTEST SENT TO PALMER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson has referred to Atty. Gen. Palmer, the protest of the railroads against the ruling of Comptroller of the Treasury. The protest that payments can be made to the railroads of the government guarantee until the railroads have rendered a final accounting for the period of government control. It was learned today that the president has asked the attorney general for a decision on the matter. The railroads contend that unless payments of the government guarantee are made shortly many railroads will be financially embarrassed.

NO TAX REVISION BY NEXT CONGRESS

(INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE) WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The White House today issued a statement, prepared by Senator Glass, of Virginia, predicting that there will be no revision of taxes at the next session of congress or the proposed special session to follow if the republicans are elected, but declared that the proposed session will be devoted to "scrapping the league of nations," and inducing the 41 nations now in the league to "join Mr. Harding the junkies, the sultan of Turkey and Lenin and Trotsky in their 'association of nations'."

MANY SUITS SHOW THIS LOOSE PANEL EFFECT IN BACK

The new fall suits show many touches which have not been seen for some time. Embroidery and fur trimming are two of the most notable features. The fur usually trims the collar and often forms tabs or pocket patches, as on this pretty suit of peach bloom. Another feature which is often seen is the loose panel back effect with a belted front. That is a very distinctive feature of this suit.

devoted to "scrapping the league of nations," and inducing the 41 nations now in the league to "join Mr. Harding the junkies, the sultan of Turkey and Lenin and Trotsky in their 'association of nations'."

The statement was issued in reply to a statement from Senator Penrose predicting reduction of taxes if republicans are elected.

AFTER UKRAINIANS

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—The Russian soviet is preparing to launch a gigantic offensive against the Ukrainians and the army of Gen. Wrangel on the Crimean front," said an announcement issued by the Ukrainian press bureau today.

BERLIN SILENT ON AID TO IRISH

(By FRANK MASON) (STAFF CORRESPONDENT I. N. SERVICE) BERLIN, Oct. 14.—The German government is carefully guarding the secret of her war-time relations with Ireland, if there were any. Following the sensational charge made by President Lloyd George last Saturday, that Ireland gave assistance to the German submarine campaign an effort was made here to obtain official confirmation or denial. But it is not officially known whether or not there were submarine bases on the Irish coast or whether the Irish were assisted in organizing an anti-English army.

our raw materials and we need American goods. American capitalists know perfectly well what they want. They are coming a struggle with the Japanese for domination of the Pacific. They realize that America must soon challenge England for supremacy in the world's markets.

"Whether they like it or not Soviet Russia is a great power. After three years of blockade and countless revolutions military intervention and the Polish war, Soviet Russia is stronger than ever. America will gain nothing for herself by President Wilson's virtuous refusal to deal with us because our government does not suit his tastes. "Leaders of the republican party seem to realize that the period of isolation from European affairs is past. It is evident that the country cannot play such a part without utilizing the immense unexploited reservoir of raw materials offered by soviet Russia. And, in turn Soviet Russia can purchase unlimited quantities of manufactured goods."

"After the great war soviet Russia remains the only solvent European country. Mr. Colby (the American secretary of state) tells the Italian government we will not keep our agreements. But Mr. Colby to my mind, should weigh his words more cautiously. He will not be able to cite a single instance nor a single fact of our failing to carry out our obligations."

John M. Keynes, who was a member of the British delegation to the peace conference, afterwards wrote a book criticizing the peace treaty for what he termed its harshness. He expressed fears of a complete European collapse because of the economic and financial terms imposed by the treaty.

"And what about Wm. Bullitt? Did not he bring out obligations of the American government. Didn't John Maynard Keynes, an authority on the economic consequences of the war, and others who were not Bolsheviks, give an estimate of Mr. Wilson's obligations? Mr. Bullitt was a member of the American delegation to the peace conference. He went to Russia and made an investigation with results that were favorable to the soviet regime. Later Mr. Bullitt said that President Wilson had refused to accept his report."
