

Two New U. S. Certificates Next Year

Two entirely new United States government securities will be issued in 1921. They are a $1 treasury savings stamp and a $100 treasury savings certificate. The decision to issue these securities comes as a result of the savings campaign carried on by the treasury department during the present year in industrial plants throughout the country. This campaign has demonstrated that workers like a $1 stamp for saving and that they also are seeking an investment security of the government.

The new $1 savings stamp will be similar in design and terms to the treasury savings certificate of $100 and $1,000 maturity value, although of different color.

The 25 cent thrift stamp and the 15 cent savings stamp have obtained so strong a foothold in the schools of the nation that their issue will be continued in 1921, not only to encourage saving and give investment, but also to give every American youth the opportunity of becoming an active partner in the business of the national government. This should go far to create habits of financial strength and practical patriotism throughout the nation.

The 1921 government savings stamp of $1 maturity value will be larger in size than the 1920 issue, will be orange in color and will bear the portrait head of Lincoln.

REDS CAPTURE SEBASTOPOL, HOLD ENTIRE CRIMEAN PENINSULA

The Bolshevik forces fighting General Wrangle's army have captured the important harbor of Sebastopol on the Crimean peninsula, have forced Wrangle and his aides and army to evacuate that port and are now in control of the entire peninsula, according to recent dispatches from Constantinople. French warships conveyed Wrangle and his wife and staff from the captured city. American destroyers aided in removing the wounded and refugees from the harbor. The photo of Trotsky, Lenin's minister of war, is the most recent one of the red leader's chief aid.

GIVE COURT CREDIT DUE SAYS ALLEN

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 1.—Charles Allen, labor leader, was not giving the Kansas industrial court credit for what it has done and was urging other states not to adopt any schemes which would provide readjustment of labor disputes by governmental agencies of adjustment. Gov. Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, before the twelfth annual conference of governors, which opened its third day session today, called on labor to give the industrial court a fair and honest trial.

"No readjustment of prices of wages as meet and improve the situation when the fundamental cause is inefficiency of production to satisfy the demand," declared Gov. Allen.

Gov. Allen discussed at length the reasons leading up to the establishment of the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations and declared that despite the attacks on the court by Samuel Gompers and other labor leaders that it had been the laboring man's "only safe and dependable weapon he ever had—his weapon of impartial justice under the reasonable government which he himself helps to create."

payable Dec. 15.

Receipts for November, totalling $104,000,000 are about $21,000,000 in excess of receipts for November last year.

Reduced imports caused sharp decreases in customs duties during November, but for the five months up to December such revenues were ahead of the corresponding period last year by $12,000,000. Heavier December imports, including shipments to meet the demands of the holiday trade, assessed at luxuries, are expected to increase these figures.

HAMMOND OFFICE IS TAKEN OVER

Today the Hammond office of the U. S. Employment service along with other branches in the state was taken over the control of the Indiana Industrial Board as provided at the special session of the legislature.

By the change, Director Kleinsmith at Indianapolis turns over the management in Indiana to one of the members of the commission who will henceforth direct the bureau in addition to his other duties. Ed. Kroer, examiner in charge of the Hammond office received word a few days ago to the effect that the commission desired to retain the present branch managers.

A new departure was also instituted today from national headquarters at Washington. This is what is termed a federal clearing house of labor. Under the plan a branch office like Hammond which is short on labor can send a list of its needs to Washington. This will be forwarded to the clearing center at Chicago.

At the same time cities which have a surplus of labor will list all men who are willing to go to other cities even out of the state. These lists will also find their way to the clearing house. By this means men will be moved from the surplus communities to those where shortages exist.

Mr. Kroer already has the necessary forms for filing applications for work in other parts of the country or for procuring help from other places to be used in Hammond. It is expected that this will prove of great help when industry is once more running at top speed.

WITFUL CASE OF CHILDREN DESERTION

Three Tots Found With Nothing to Eat and No Fire in the House

Three little children with nothing to eat and no fire in the house were found huddled in bed to keep warm when Officer Reckler of the Hammond Police visited the Anton Buzna's home, 306 Fields avenue, last night. The father and mother were gone. The destitute condition of the little bits, the oldest of whom is 8 and the youngest 2, is due to a family row which occurred in the Buzna's home Sunday morning. The matter was patched up temporarily, but neither Buzna or his wife was satisfied. Each evidently planned to desert the other for the mother slipped away from the house early Tuesday morning. The father likewise disappeared a short time later, unaware, it is believed, that his wife had also run away.

When the children awoke they were alone in a cold house. Worse, there was no fuel with which to build a fire and the oldest child had been able to scrounge around until he found the party remnants from supper the evening before. That was the only food in the house. He divided it among the three and they spent the day playing out of doors.

That evening neighbors, who had noted the absence of the parents, notified the police. It was found that the children had crawled into bed early in order to keep warm. They had eaten nothing since morning.

Officer Reckler managed to find some fuel and warmed up the house. While he was doing this the officers on his night shift were clubbing together to buy the little ones a supper. This was taken to the house and the youngsters went back to bed warm and with full stomachs. The matter was placed before the juvenile authorities this morning and steps will be taken to care for the children, while efforts are being made at finding the parents.

REVENUES REACH OVER TWO BILLION

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Government revenues, mainly from income and profit taxes, have reached $2,014,000,000 for the first five months period of the fiscal year. This is $2,000,000 less than totals for the same period in 1919. Secretary Houston was informed today.

More than $1,000,000,000 is expected to be added by collections this month in the last installment of the income tax, based upon returns for earnings last year. These revenues are

Health is Happiness

WHAT CERTAIN FOODS ARE GOOD FOR

For insomnia eat lettuce; a glass of warm milk before retiring will also tend to give you the wanted sleep. A glass of sugared water is another very harmless agent to quiet your nerves and consequently help you to go to sleep.

Spinach is one of the most versatile remedies Nature has provided. Containing iron, it is a blood builder, acting at the same time as a gentle laxative. It helps to beautify your skin, is valuable for the person trying to reduce, as well as for those having liver trouble or rheumatism, and should be eaten freely by young and old.

Tomatoes are good for the liver; they cool the blood and are readily digested. As they contain acid, patients suffering from rheumatism or diabetes should use them rather sparingly.

Rheubarb, however, is just the thing for rheumatism.

Lemons are antifebrile and a preventive for malaria. Physicians in European countries prescribe lemon cure for rheumatism. This cure is said to be very unpleasant, but effective.

Figs in any form will help the constipated.

Red beets are good for the blood (and complexion at the same time) and should be used plentifully.

Blackberries are a good tonic as well as an astringent. When suffering from diarrhoea take blackberry brandy. Dried blackberries will also act against the malady.

Fruit is altogether healthy and nourishing, as to apples, the old saying is quite true: "An apple a day keeps the doctor away."

POWDERS TAKEN IN BANANA

will make it easier to have the youngsters take medicine. Split a banana, scoop out some of the pulp, fill the powder in the space thus gained, and place the two parts together. The child will hardly notice the taste of the powder.

THE NECESSARY AMOUNT OF SLEEP

Don't limit yourself any more than you have to in the amount of sleep you take at night. Don't try to keep to a seven-hour night, if that isn't enough to rest you; and don't stay in bed eight hours if six and a half or seven is enough. Remember that those who do hard physical work usually require less sleep than those who lead sedentary occupations. Muscular fatigue, if not excessive, aids the process of sleeping and is more easily overcome than nerve or brain fatigue.

TO PREVENT CHAPPED LIPS

and at the same time restore their color use the following preparation: 1/2-oz. of olive oil put in double boiler; when warm add 1/2-oz. melted white wax; place about 1/2-oz. alkali chips in a small piece of coarse muslin. Strain it and add to it a few drops of essence of rose.

IF BABY HAS A COLD

and cannot breathe through its nose, dissolve a little vasoline, put a drop (with a medicine dropper) into each nostril. It will quickly clear the nasal passages. Take a bit of cotton rolled and wet to finish the clearing of the nostrils.
