DAILY LETTER From SANTA CLAUS

North Pole,
December 13, 1920

Mr. Dan Enright, "The Agent,"
Hammond, Indiana.

Dear Dan:—You have always been one of the prime movers in anything that's for the common good and from your letter I guess you're keeping the old reputation all polishing 'n everything.

I understand you do all you can for the Boy Scouts, and are helping to boost for the Hammond athletic field. You're right, hop to it.

What is especially pleasing to me right now, though, is your recommendation to me of where to get my automobiles and musical instruments that I'm going to give away, this year. Dan, you know you show real judgment when you tell me to see W. F. Stromberger about a Jackson Six or a Case automobile. That Jackson is sure there, in workmanship, wear and looks, too—well, just notice Doc Sharrer when he goes by sometime—he drives one. The Case is simplicity itself, very graceful lines and is surely full o' pep. I expect to leave several of both kinds of cars in Hammond Xmas Eve.

Speaking of Musical Instruments, I should say the Straube Piano Co. do carry a great line. That's where I selected my Melo Harps, and the genuine Edison and Victrola talking machines. Then they have all the latest music rolls and records.

Say Dan, here's something confidential. There's a letter on my desk from the secretary of the Local Order of International Gossips instructing me to deliver a Golden Ear Drum to the president of the federated Gossips Societies of Lake County. The letter states that the local president has heard so much gossip, she's losing her hearing.

I want you to deliver this Golden Drum, personally for me.

Now Dan, when you go to bed Christmas Eve, don't turn your famous Burglar Alarm on, because I'll get in anyway.

Best wishes to the wife and baby.

SANTA CLAUS.

P. S.—I understand Mac Draft is in Hammond cleaning chimneys for me. Tell him to watch out and not fall off the Conkey smoke-stack.

THE MACHINE THAT SELLS ITSELF

"Now that you have purchased the Federal, Madam, notice that you bought the machine yourself, it was not sold to you. A prospect like yourself, who wants the best in electric washers that money can buy, comes into the store—I explain in simple terms, the meanings of these Federal features on the job in your home—and the sale is made. And here is another point—you will keep your Federal, it will stay sold."

"Every week will make you more enthusiastic in your praises of this wonderful labor-saving machine. You will get wonderful service from it for many years to come, and if the time ever comes for replacing some minor wornout part, you will get service again, because the Federal organization, like other big concerns, maintains a real service for their customers."
