miners' organization emerged from the premier's residence, they wore the gravest expression on their faces. All refused to talk to reporters. They proceeded to Unity Hall for another triple alliance conference.

At the board of trade, where daily communiques have been issued as to the progress of the negotiations, it was declared the Downing street meeting was a purely private one. No report was to be issued and no arrangements made for another conference, officials said.

At Plymouth this morning there was mysterious activity among the marine. All were first recalled to the barracks, the buglers sounded assembly in the street in front of their quarters and some detachments were immediately despatched in auto trucks to unknown destinations.

Aircraft may play a tremendously important part in the government's efforts to combat the paralysis of industry, transport and traffic and most of all, food supply due to the strike.

AIRSHIP ACTIVITY.
"Himps" and other airships, including the type manufactured during the war on the zeppelin model, will be used to carry food from ports to inland points while ordinary airplanes will act as mail carriers.

The heads of the air force called on the premier early today and then hastily left for the air ministry to complete their plans.

Public alarm was manifested by a sudden rush for insurance damage looting and pillage. Underwriters were overwhelmed with business. The rates are advancing slightly.

Voluntary economy in the use of lighting also is in evidence on all sides. Some theatres announced they will give only two night performances weekly beginning Monday; as a consolation they will give matinees daily.

Reports as to what is happening at the coal fields were but fragmented but they indicated growing aggressiveness on the part of the strikers. In South Wales for instance, mines forced the stoppage of the fires at the great Glamorgan colliery.
