WATER RATE HEARING

The water rate question is again in the hands of the Public Service Commission. The hearing of the evidence of the City of East Chicago and that of the East Chicago and Indiana Harbor Water Company before the commission ended yesterday evening.

The real object of the hearing was the fixing of the water company plant valuation, upon which the judgment of the commission will be based in fixing a water rate.

City Attorney Crites, representing the City of East Chicago, tried to impress upon the commission the large amount of water required for sprinkling.

However, it is the belief among those giving evidence that the rate fixed at this time will only be considered temporary and subject to readjustment.
