E. CHICAGO SCOUTS PLAN ACTIVITIES

A. S. Sambrook, scout executive of the Twin City Council, does not believe that Boy Scout activities cease with the cessation of summer camp life.

Instead, it is his opinion that this time of the year is the beginning of a new life and with this idea in view he is fitting out his program accordingly. Executive council members will meet next Monday, when it is expected that they take under consideration reports of the past year and lay plans for the coming year. It is expected that the

DINNERSTORIES

Lord Angus Kennedy tells the story of how once, while on a walking tour in a remote part of the Scottish Highlands, he came to a lonely inn.

Being ravenously hungry, he entered, and asked the landlady for some poached eggs, as being the most likely dish to be provided at so short notice.

The landlady shook her head. "We haven't any eggs, sir," she said. "But," lowering her voice to a whisper, "I dinna doot that I could get you a fine dish of poached salmon."—Pearson's Weekly (London).

A colored couple stood once again before the probation officer.

"Now this," the officer said to both, "seems to me to be a case where there is nothing very much the matter except that your tastes are different. You, Sam, are much older than your wife. It is a case of May married to December."

A slight pause, and then Eva, the wife, was heard to remark in a tired voice: "I really don't know what you means by yer saying May is married to December. If yer goin' to talk that way, it seems to me to be a case of Labor day married to de Day of Rest."—Everybody's.

"Confound it, Louvindy! Looky yer!" demanded Gap Johnson of Rummage Ridge, after a prolonged family jar. "Are you going to give in and own up you're mistook about it?"

"No, I'm not!" snapped Mrs. Johnson. "Then, by—p'tul—thunder, I reckon I'll have to."—Kansas City Star.

John Stephens returned home this morning after a month's vacation spent at Haywood, Wisconsin.

Miss May Gorman will spend the week-end in Fort Wayne with her sister, Miss Helen, who is a student at Sacred Heart Academy.

The Sigma Theta Delta members will be entertained Tuesday evening of next week by Mrs. George McKenna and Miss Margaret McKenna at their home on South Olcott avenue.

St. Mary's alumni entertained at a card party and dance Wednesday evening in the church hall. The prize winners in five hundred were Mrs. Frank Forbeck first, Katherine Fitzpatrick consolation; the men, Peter Whalen first and John Stiles consolation. While in buncos Mary Whalen won first and Romona Haugh consolation; with Pat Collins first and William Leonard consolation. After the scores had been counted and prizes awarded, dancing was enjoyed, as was the lunch served by the committee. Their next social event will be a Halloween party.

Geraldine Gauthier of Magoun avenue, who has been ill the past week threatened with diphtheria, is better and able to be up and around.

The Nu Epsilon Club was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Jack Reardon on North Magoun avenue. The prizes in five hundred were awarded to Mrs. Leonard Kolb and Miss Theresa Godfrey. Dainty refreshments were served. The next meeting will be in two weeks with the Misses Lillian and Margaret Artibey on Magoun avenue.

Laddie Boy More Than Pal for President Harding with Him While He Works

[INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE] WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—"Laddie Boy," President Harding's pet Alreade, is more than just a pal in leisure hours. "Laddie Boy" is at a fashion the President's confidant. Every morning, when the president leaves the mansion proper for the executive offices, "Laddie Boy" prances beside him and goes with the president into his private office and perches himself quietly on one of the guest chairs beside the mahogany table at which the president sits.

"Laddie Boy" retains this perch sometimes more than an hour, jumping down and scampering out into the gardens behind the White House only when the hour arrives for the president's first caller, which is usually about 10 o'clock. While thus ensconced at the president's side

George W. Lewis, and their guest, Mrs. Charles Davis. If the weather permits, the East Chicago people who camp at Liverpool on Deep River will attend a masquerade Halloween party on the grounds this evening.

Hugh Macle of North Olcott avenue returned home Wednesday evening from Clinton, Indiana, where he had been called last week by the death of his father, who passed away following an operation for appendicitis.

A surprise party was given Mrs. Andrew Simko Thursday evening at her home on Chicago avenue. It was in the nature of a housewarming for Mrs. Simko and a farewell to Mrs. Basso of Bridgeport, Conn., out, who has been a house guest of Mrs. Anton Balog. The evening was spent in social chat and enjoying the very appetizing lunch which the ladies had prepared and taken with them. Mrs. Simko was presented with a lovely sterling silver vase and with a bouquet of roses to fill it.

Mrs. J. F. Thompson and her class of boys from the Congregational Sunday School enjoyed their monthly supper last evening in the church dining room. This was the September meeting which was to have taken place last week, but on account of every evening being taken by other organizations of the church this had to be postponed until this week. After supper the boys had their usual fine time playing games until about nine o'clock.

Most of the school teachers are spending the day in Chicago.

The South Side Pinochle Club tendered a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Matthews Thursday evening in honor of their twenty-second wedding anniversary at their home on Olcott avenue. The diversion of the evening was the usual pastime, pinochle, in which the ladies' first prize was awarded to Mrs. Percy Cadman and second to Mrs. Anna Johnson; while the men's went to
