New York, November 4.

In the face of the most critical international conditions, the fashion world is carrying on as usual. News comes from Paris that amidst the bombardment by shells, the modistes and courtiers continue their work and are yielding a tremendous output to the eager watchful throngs.

What a wonderful spirit this is! And who else could swallow all the sorrows and trials and discomforts of war and still remain smiling on the surface? No other than France.

Much indeed does civilization owe to this country of countries. Think of the frightful conditions, conditions that would make any one give up in despair, but these people merely smile and prosecute their plans, as near normal as possible.

As War Continues, Wool is Scarce

Less and less fabrics of wool are seen in the new models. This is the inevitable outcome of the usage by the armies of all the wool supply available. The prices are enormous and at the present time a smart luxurious coat is quite as expensive as a fur one. Owing to this fact, many women will possess a fur coat this winter, for they reason that a cloth one is almost as expensive, and fur looks so much more elegant. Indeed, the acme of smartness and exclusiveness looks as though it might be a combination of cloth and fur.

As a result for the extreme demand for fur, the designers in that trade have offered many new and attractive designs in odd and popular combinations. The most popular combination is of seal, dyed muskrat and squirrel. These pelts seem to lend to each other all their individual qualities of softness and charm. Nutria is in big demand because of its excellent wearing qualities. Mole, of course, is beautiful, but that is left for those who may consider the appearance in preference to durability.

Fur as Trimming.

Sometimes it is on the bottom of the skirt, sometimes hugging the neck, and then again it will attach itself to the end of a tunic or perch at the top of a pocket. Wherever it is, it is there. One must swathe in fur if one wishes to be placed under the classification of smartness. Bewitch-atives.

ing, indeed, was a seal-trimmed suit of silk duvety which assumed the line of the peg-top and challenged any straight-lined suit which claimed to be more graceful.

In many instances these little coats, that are so popular in fur, have been copied in cloth. The one illustrated here is developed in black velvet and trimmed leniently with fox fur. This might be developed in satin and with the back in cape effect it would make a fascinating little wrap for evening.

Fur Cloth Appears on Girl's Coat

Problem of the Girl's Coat

The flapper is always a disturbing creature to dress. So much care must be taken that she look graceful instead of awkward, and smart instead of "frumpy." But with the proper clothes this all disappears and just as this little girl, any little girl will have all the assurance that comes with the consciousness of being well-dressed. This model illustrated is developed in heavy tweed material and trimmed with fur cloth. It is a suitable model for the older girl and boarding school Miss.

OFFICIAL FOOD NEWS

By Dr. Harry E. Barnard, Federal Food Administrator for Indiana.

The usual fall decline in market prices of poultry is due to large receipts of immature and poorly fleshed chickens, scarcity of labor and inadequate refrigerating space. A heavy marketing of moulted hens also has a depressing effect on the market. Producers may assist in stabilizing the poultry market by withholding immature chickens and moulting hens and by extending the normal period of fall marketing well into the winter.

Owing to a misunderstanding of the resolution relative to the preferred classification of agricultural line, the following statement of R. S. Baker, assistant priorities commissioner, is made public:

"The state official having supervision of agricultural production or soil conservation (in Indiana the director of extension, Purdue University) may supervise without direction or permit from this division the distribution of burned lime and ground limestone for agricultural purposes, and any manufacturer, producer or dealer in burned lime or ground limestone may supply such products for agricultural purposes under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by such director."

The rapid manufacture of the new crop beet sugar in the West and new crop Louisiana cane sugar in the South together with the freer railway transportation conditions, the reductions that we have made in the consumption of sugar in the manufacture of trades and the patriotic conservation in the past four months, enables us to increase the household allowance of sugar from two pounds per person per month to three pounds per person per month, with the same ratio to public eating places, as from November 1st. This makes good our promise to increase the household allowance of sugar at the earliest possible moment that our supplies would justify and make it possible for the householder to more freely use the apple, cranberry and grapefruit products and to use the fruits canned during the summer without sugar.

The regulations are also revised to the extent that any person may purchase his whole monthly allowance at one time if he so desires, that is, any family may purchase a month's supply for the entire family in one purchase from the retail trades.

The temporary cessation of the cereal movement of the country due to stoppage of exports to secure army tonnage, has caused a greater ability for internal transportation than would otherwise be the case, and we do not feel that with ability to make distribution we have any right to hold supplies for the householders. We are confident that we can continue on this basis for some months to come from the supplies which we have in prospect. Cuba's crop is promised transportation, so that with these conditions we should be able to maintain allied supplies. Make no changes in classes A B and D. (These include manufacturers of food products, bottlers, etc.)

Now, when we have need for every ounce of food that can be put into form for human consumption, it is the soundest economy to let young turkeys live through the fall bug-and-seed-hunting season. A young gobler that weighs ten pounds in October will weigh twelve or thirteen pounds sixty days later if given a little extra feed along toward the end of that period. A hen in the same time will fill out from seven pounds to nine or ten. Such satisfactory gains can be made at no other time. The U. S. Food Administration suggests that in order to take advantage of this favorable season, no young turkey hens weighing less than six pounds dressed, be marketed.

The retail section of the distribution of perishables of the United States food administration has just issued a modified regulation which states that any advance in cost in excess of seven or eight cents per dozen of eggs will be considered evidence of violation of the rule restricting profits to reasonable figures. The seven cents represents the maximum for stores conducting the cash and carry plan and eight cents for the extra service stores. In allowing also, to the retailer, fractional charges, the food administration asserts that it has taken into consideration the rising costs of operation.

Effective about the middle of November, the United States railroad administration has indicated its purpose to increase the truck storage charge for perishables held in cars beyond the free demurrage period of forty-eight hours, to $10 per day. The practice of using cars for warehouses and vending purposes, the food administration is assured, "can not be too strongly condemned." In view of the present transportation situation, where violations are flagrant and willful, the railroad administration asks a statement of the facts for a more appropriate punishment of the offenders.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 10

JACOB DECEIVES HIS FATHER.

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 27:18-29.
GOLDEN TEXT—Speak every man truth with his neighbor—Ephesians 4:25.
DEVOTIONAL READING—Ephesians
4:25-32.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Genesis 27:
1-45; Proverbs 12:17-20; Zechariah 8:16-17;
Acts 6:1-11.

I. Isaac's Purpose Regarding the Birthright (27:1-4).

The infirmity of old age reminded Isaac that he should set his house in order. The particular matter needing attention was the determination as to who should be the head of the house when he was gone. As to whether Isaac knew what God had told Rebekah concerning Jacob's priority we are not told (Gen. 25:23), but it is evident that he lacked spiritual discernment, being under the sway of his appetite. Even though he was ignorant of God's plan as revealed to Rebekah, Esau's action in marrying heathen women (Gen. 26; 34, 35), ought to have convinced Isaac that Esau was unfit to be the head of the house which was in line of the covenant blessing.

II. Rebekah's Scheme to Frustrate
Isaac's Plan (vv. 5-17).

Having heard Isaac's instructions to Esau, she took steps to divert the father's blessing from Esau to Jacob. She knew it was God's will that Jacob should have the birthright, but had no scruples as to what method should be used in its accomplishment.

1. Rebekah's instructions to Jacob
(vv. 5-10).

She sent Jacob to bring two kids from the goats, promising that she would make savory meat, such as Isaac loved. She knew that Isaac's weak spot was his stomach.

2. Jacob's hesitancy (vv. 11-17).

He foresaw the difficulty and danger which confronted him. His hesitancy was not because he had conscientious scruples against doing the deed, but was afraid of being found out. Some have a desire to do evil, but refrain from it because they are afraid of being caught. Rebekah undertakes to bear the curse that may come, so Jacob's scruples are set aside. She clothes him with Esau's raiment, and places into his hands the food.

III. Jacob Deceives Esau (vv. 18-29).

1. Interview between Isaac and
Jacob (vv. 18-25).

The quickness with which the savory meat was brought, aroused suspicion in the mind of Isaac. In order to allay that suspicion Jacob deliberately lied. He not only lied, but blasphemed the name of God in declaring that his success was due to the help of Jehovah. This lie is again repeated when Isaac questions him further. One lie calls for another. Having started on the road of deception he was obliged to lie in order to cover up his deceit.

2. The paternal blessing (vv. 26-29).

It embodied the following particulars: (1) A fertile soil and abundant products (v. 28). Man is dependent upon God for the fruitage of the soil. Few stop to consider their obligation to him for temporal blessings. (2) National pre-eminence (v. 29). God was to give him a numerous and powerful offspring. This has in a large measure been fulfilled, but in a still larger measure it remains to be fulfilled. (3) Pre-eminence among his kindred (v. 29). "The elder shall serve the younger." (4) The object of God's special care (v. 29). Being God's choice, God obligates himself to care for him. Those who would misuse Jacob would suffer; those who would favor Jacob would be favored. Those who are chosen of God enjoy his special care, and we owe to him who would dare to molest them. This included temporal and spiritual blessings. Happy is he who enjoys the friendship of God.

IV. Esau's Remorse (vv. 30-38).

Scarcely had Isaac ceased blessing Jacob till Esau came for the blessing. The secret was now out. Lying and deceit cannot long be hid. In the face of what had been done, Isaac shakes with fear. No doubt this is due to the manifest presence of Jehovah. Esau gives forth a terrible wail. While shedding bitter tears of disappointment, he rages with passion and plans to murder Jacob after Isaac's death. This is a most bitter experience for Esau, but he is merely reaping what he sowed. For a brief indulgence of his flesh he sold his birthright. May Esau's folly warn us of choosing fleshly indulgence rather than spiritual blessings. Whenever one turns from the love of God to the gratification of worldly lusts, he is guilty of Esau's profligacy.

Source of Power.

Only those who are lifted up from the earth draw men unto them. The world is possessed by those who are not possessed by it. The momentum of love is the source of power.—Francis G. Peabody.

Sabbath Observance.

If Sunday had not been observed as a day of rest during the last three centuries, I have not the slightest doubt that we should have been at this moment a poorer people and less civilized.—Macaulay.
