THE GERMAN NATIVE LAND.

Know ye the land where, tall and green,
The ancient forest oaks are seen?
Where the old Rhine waves sounding run
Through vineyards gleaming in the sun?
We know the lovely land full well!
'Tis where the free-souled Germans dwell.

Know ye the land where truth is told;
Where word of man is good as gold?
The honest land, where love and truth
Bloom on an everlasting youth?
We know that honest land full well!
'Tis where the free-souled Germans dwell.

Know ye the land where each vile song
Is banished from the jovial throng?
The sacred land, where free from art
Religion sways the simple heart?
We know that sacred land full well!
'Tis where the free-souled Germans dwell.

The Holter's Nomination.

For a long time it has been the fixed determination of a large number of staunch and earnest Republicans, that under no circumstances would they again vote for Hon. Wm. Williams for Congress. And this determination was reached from a settled conviction that the man is lacking in moral and political integrity, and it would be far less an injury to the Republican party to be defeated in the district than to continue in office a man whom they believe to be unworthy of their suffrages. This feeling culminated last week in the nomination of General Hascall as an independent candidate for Congress.

The men who nominated him yield to no others in their devotion to the Republican cause. Some of them have given proof of their attachment and zeal on the field of battle—others have been connected with the party from its organization, and all have worked for its success, and now only demand its purification. Such men may be denounced, trampled and scribbled, but they cannot be read out, or excluded from the party. Whether they support this candidate or that, they are still Republicans, ready to sustain the party organization and support its candidates whenever they are worthy of support.

Party ties are strong, but they cannot blind men's consciences. For the manner of his votes are cast as we are responsible to our country, our consciences, and our God, and not to any party organization. There are times in the history of all parties when resistance to party organization is both a duty and an honor. Such we believe to be the case now. We find no fault with those who vote for Mr. Williams. It is their right to do so, and it is ours to vote for Gen. Hascall, or any other man who may be set up against him. The right will triumph, and sooner or later all men will see it.

The opponents of Mr. Williams will take no steps backward. They will resist by all fair and honorable means his reelection. If Gen. Hascall proves acceptable, as we believe he will, to this opposition, he is the man for our votes—if there is a better man we shall try him, but in no event shall we vote for Billy Williams.

Early Breakfast.

A bad custom is prevalent in many families, especially among farmers, of working an hour or two before breakfast, attending to "chores," hoeing in the garden, cutting wood, mowing, etc. This is convenient on many accounts, but it is not conducive to health. The prevalent opinion is that the morning air is the purest and most healthful and bracing, but the contrary is the fact. At no hour of the day is the air more filled with damp mists, fogs and miasmas, than about sunrise. The heat of the sun gradually dissipates the miasmatic influences as the day advances. An early meal braces up the system against these external influences. Every one knows the languor and faintness often experienced for the first hour in the morning, and that is increased by want of food. We do not agree with the boarding school regime, which prescribes a long walk before breakfast as a means of promoting health.

Probably the best custom would be to furnish every member of the household, especially those who labor out of doors, with a single cup of warm coffee, well "milked," immediately after rising from bed. Then let them attend to their chores, or mowing, hoeing, etc., for an hour or two, while the teams are feeding and the breakfast preparing. They will feel better and do more work.—American Agriculturist.

Persons will think up the amount of real and personal property they are worth and leave the figures at their homes it will greatly oblige the census takers.

An exchange very truly says that trying to do business without advertising is like winking through a pair of green goggles. You may know that you are doing it, but nobody else does.

The Register urgently advocates the building of a street railway in South Bend. It demonstrates that these lines pay a large per cent. on the investment in various places no larger than "the Bend."

A correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat says: "At the present rate of progress, Indiana will be in 20 years, at least, even with the present rate of improvement, and will only then have commenced the development of her resources. It is to-day, in reality, a much younger State than Illinois. A great deal of the best land that has hitherto passed through it to a more attractive territory are now returning to remain here."

Miss Rebecca A. Myers, living with Samuel Osborne, Esq., in North Bend (w.), in this county, is perhaps the smallest woman in the State of Indiana. She is now in her eighteenth year, is three feet four inches in height, and weighs but 30 lbs.—Her form is perfect, she is as handsome as a little pig, quite well educated, sprightly, and entertaining in conversation.—Knox Ledger.

The three dry goods firms, Sterns & Bros., Wyman & Co., and Dunn & Co., who have advertised so extensively in the city papers, notwithstanding the unusual hard times through which we have, and are passing, claim that their sales this spring exceeded those of the same period in several former years. This is significant, as proving beyond the possibility of a doubt, that judicious advertising does pay.—South Bend Union.

An extra train has been put on the Main Line route, to run between White Pigeon and Elkhart. Leaves White Pigeon at 12:25 p. m., and arrives in Elkhart in time to connect with the fast train east and returns to Pigeon at 3:45 p. m. This change has been made for the purpose of accommodating passengers coming over the Grand Rapids branch from the north, so that they can reap the advantages of the lightning trains from Buffalo and Chicago each way.—Elkhart Union.

CURIOUS CALCULATIONS.—The North Western Advertiser makes the following curious calculations: The public debt is two thousand five hundred millions of dollars, and each greenback dollar bill is about seven inches in length. Place two thousand five hundred of them in a line, and it will be over 250,000 miles long! It is 25,000 miles around the earth. The public debt would therefore make a band of greenback dollars that would encircle the globe more than ten times. It is 240,000 miles to the moon. If this is so, our debt would make a rope of greenback dollars long enough to cable the moon to the earth, and have over 10,000 miles to spare!

Consumption.

Consumption is not a disease of the lungs but one of the system, showing itself in the lungs. If you fully comprehend this you are ready for the common-sense treatment.

Avoiding all local treatment by inhalation, all the panaceas, including whisky and cod liver oil (fashionable to day, exploded to-morrow), employ those natural methods about which wise doctors have never differed.

1. Walk in all kinds of weather, two or three times a day. If too weak for this, begin with the saddle.

2. Hanging by the hands in rings suspended from the ceiling above the floor, swinging backward and forward, sideways and in a circle. The effect upon the walls of the chest is very remarkable. Have known such swinging to reduce the pulse very sensibly in a week. In each exercise continue until slightly fatigued.

3. Wash the entire skin with tepid water and good neutral soap every morning, on returning from the first walk, and rub the skin to redness every night on going to bed with sharp hair gloves.—Lawrence's English Patent gloves are the best. All druggists sell them.

4. Sleep much, retiring before nine, adding a nap in the middle of the day.—Never forget that good ventilation during the hours of sleep is vital in every case of diseased lungs.

5. Eat for breakfast and dinner, oat meal, cracked wheat, beef, mutton, plain bread, potatoes and other vegetables, except tomatoes. U. S. no pastry or other trash. Eat no supper.

6. Cultivate jovial people. Laughter is the most precious of all possible exercises for chronic lung affections.—Exchange.

Save the Best Calves.
Farmers cannot keep up their stock—not to think about improving it—if they are beguiled by the crafty butchers into selling their best calves for wool, and raising their poorest. The opposite practice should be inexorably followed.

More than this: no keeping for the first ten weeks of a calf's life. It may be too good. Many farmers put two calves on a single cow, or feed them with skimmed milk—miserably poor at that—anything to keep the breath of life in them until grass comes, and they are turned into the pasture. Farmers put their pastures to grub their discards, warrens, and poverty stricken way through the months of the summer. All this is as costly as it is wicked.

Save the best calves, feed them on the best food, and give them enough of it at the outset, and when weaned, give them something besides hard work to live on during the first six months of their lives.—Heath and Home.

Doctor.

"Doctor," exclaimed a waggish Son of Temperance, to a well known doctor, who was passing out of the post office, "Doc, how long will it take hanging to produce death?"

"Twenty, or at most thirty minutes," replied the doctor, pausing; "but why do you ask?"

"Oh, because last night I saw a man hanging for two mortal hours, and he isn't dead yet."

"You did!" exclaimed the doctor, emphatically, "I haven't heard a word of this yet. Where did the man hang?"

"He was hanging around an ale shop on Pearl street," replied the wag. The doctor gave utterance to something that sounded very much like a blasphemous expression, and passed on.

SPECTACLES,

Which have been extensively used in Great Britain and United States, its past eight years, and for which they claim the undoubted advantages over those of ordinary use, the proof of which may be seen in their constantly increasing business during the past eight years.

1st. That from the perfect construction of the lenses, they assist and preserve the sight, and prevent the frequent changes unnecessary in ordinary spectacles.

2nd. That they confer a brilliancy and distinctness of vision, with an amount of ease and comfort not hitherto enjoyed by spectacle wearers.

3rd. That the material from which the Lenses are ground is manufactured specially for optic purposes, and is pure, hard and brilliant, and not liable to become scratched.

4th. That the frames in which they are set, whether gold, silver or steel, are of the finest quality and finish, and guaranteed perfect in every respect.

They are the only Spectacles that pass unscathed as well as under the microscope, and are cheap, because the best, always lasting many years without change being necessary.

One of the first trials in Ligonier, at the Store of their Agents every 6 months, for the purpose of fitting those having difficulty in seeing, when any Spectacles are sold, during the interval will be exchanged free of charge if not properly fitted.

DOTY'S WASHING-MACHINE

Lately Much Improved—and the
New Universal Clothes-Wringer,
Improved with Rowell's Patent Double Dog wheels, and the Patent Stop, are now announced far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented, and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.

Those who have used them give testimony as follows:

"We like our Machine much; could not use of for over five years, and is now as good as new. I have also had a Doty Washer for some three years, which we use every week, and could not do without it. It is the best I ever used, and will last years yet.—E. D. Van Slyke, Editor of Democratic Rep., Hamilton, N. Y."
