

From Kansas

Burying the Election Returns.

St. Louis, Feb. 9.—The Leavenworth correspondent of the Democrat says, the bill providing for the constitution has passed the Legislature. Letters from Lawrence, in the Leavenworth papers, contain accounts of the proceedings of the Board of Commissioners appointed to investigate the election frauds. Mr. McLean, chief clerk in the Surveyor General's office, testified to having sent the returns of both elections to Platte City, at Calhoun's request; and that he had not seen them since. The Delaware Crossing returns had never been received at Leecompton.

This was doubted and Sheriff Walker was dispatched to Leecompton to search Calhoun's office. He found, buried in the ground under a wood pile, the identical returns which McLean swore to having sent to Platte City.

Gov. Denver, the Speaker of the House, and the President of the Senate examined them and swear to the same.

The returns which Calhoun counted on the 14th ult., and the Delaware Crossing Returns are also among them, footing 349 votes.

Previous to this, Dieffendorf testified to having given the Delaware Crossing returns to Calhoun at Weston, subsequent to the court at Leecompton. Writs have been issued for McLean and Mr. Woods, who have to escape arrest.

CHIVALRY IN CONGRESS!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The House was in session all night, mainly engaged in taking the yeas and nays on the motion to adjourn, eating, smoking, sleeping, &c.

At about half past one, a serious affray occurred, which is thus narrated by a member and a witness:

Mr. Grow objected to Mr. Quitman's making any remarks. Mr. Quitman said: "If you are going to object, return to your own side of the House."

Mr. Grow responded, "This is a free Hall, and every man has a right to be where he pleases."

Mr. Keitt then came up to Mr. Grow and said: "I want to know what you mean by such an answer as that?"

Mr. Grow replied: "I mean just what I say; this is a free Hall and a man has a right to be where he pleases."

Mr. Keitt taking Mr. Grow by the throat said: "I will let you know that you are a damned Black Republican puppy!"

Mr. Grow knocked his hand up, saying: "I shall occupy such place in this Hall as I please, and no nigger-driver shall crack his whip over me!"

Mr. Keitt then again grappled Mr. Grow by the throat, and Mr. Grow knocked his hand off, and Mr. Keitt coming at him again, Mr. Grow knocked him down.

The reporter adds: The respective friends of both parties rushed to the rescue. Various members on each side engaged in the fight, which took place in the area fronting the Clerk's desk. Mr. Washburn of Illinois, was conspicuous among the Republicans, dealing heavy blows. The Speaker loudly and imperatively demanded order, and called on the Sergeant-at-Arms to interfere. This functionary, carrying his mace of office, together with his assistants, hurried to the scene, and crowded into the thickest of the fight in which at least a dozen members were engaged. Some minutes elapsed before this truly fearful combat was quieted. Further difficulties are apprehended.

Correspondence of the Tribune.

The President's Leecompton Message.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2, 1858.

The President's Message caused intense excitement in both Houses. In the Senate it was denounced by Mr. Trumbull, in a powerful speech, and in the House was received with exclamations of indignation and contempt from the Republicans and Douglas Democrats.

Its atrocious perversion of the facts in the history of Kansas, and its ultra pro-slavery tone, have had a good effect upon the northern members. The administration side was repudiated. The motion to adjourn was carried, which was a test vote, the pro-slavery side being in the majority.

The South American Members of Congress held a caucus last evening. They are most decidedly Leecompton in opinion, but in voting will probably not dare to separate themselves from the South.

The Douglas Democrats are in caucus tonight. They claim two votes more than they are entitled to on the question of adjournment yesterday.

The caucus of Democratic Senators determined to press the debate on the reference to Leecompton matter, to as speedily a conclusion as possible, and then go on with the consideration of the Army bill, in the expectation that, when the latter should have been disposed of, the Committee on Territories would be able to report on Leecompton. Mr. Douglass was present.

It is now proposed by Mr. Harris of Ill. to modify his resolutions to-morrow for a reference of the Message to a select committee, with a view of bringing in additional Democratic support. It is supposed that three more, besides those who voted on the two adjournment test questions, can be secured.

Members of the Cabinet were visible on the floor of the House to-day, manipulating the weak brethren, as in the times of the Nebraska bill.

The Administration confidently counts on uniting the whole Southern vote in the House for Leecompton, with the exception of three Americans.

There continues to be five anti-Leecompton Democratic votes from Penn., Reilly having joined the number.

Estimates.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says estimates have lately been made of the role in both Houses and against the acceptance of the Leecompton Constitution—that is without qualification—that the House would show that the State will certainly, and the House probably go for it. But circumstances may possibly occur within a month to change the aspect of the matter.

ALBANY PRICES.—The Knickerbocker says:—Last winter hides sold in the streets at eight cents a pound; they now sell for four cents. Sheepskins a year or two ago sold at $3 each; they now sell at prices varying from 62 cents to $1. Leather in a year has fallen about 12 cents per pound. Mutton, which last year sold for 9 cents a pound, now sells for 5 and 6 cents. Butter was 31 cents a pound; it now sells from 16 to 22 cts. Potatoes are a little dearer than last winter. Hams, shoulders, pork, flour, sugar, lard, molasses, &c., are much cheaper than they were a year ago. A dollar to-day, will purchase as much food as a dollar and a half would have bought in January, 1857.

The marriage of the Princess Royal of England, to Prince Frederick William of Prussia, was the great event in England on the 25th inst. The match was not a made up one, but one of affection on both sides. They have been engaged over a year. The Princess is only 17 years of age. She is said to be not handsome, but has the appearance of a well favored English girl, short in stature, and full in figure. The Prince is 25, and his father being her apparent to the Prussian throne, and he his natural successor, should he survive him, it is altogether likely that this royal couple will at some future period be King and Queen of Prussia.

Everett has already, it is said repeated his Washington lecture sixty five times, and the sum realized $36,000 for the Mount Vernon fund.

Money has become over-plenty. The aggregate of gold in the banks of the United States at the present time, is not far from eighty-five millions of dollars, twenty-seven millions more than were in the banks last year at this time. As might be expected, all accounts go to show that a rapid decline in the price of money is beginning, consequent on the accumulation of the gold which is in excess of demand. Abroad, money is coming down. At London, the use of it has fallen full 4 1/2 percent. The question naturally arises—"what shall be done with this excess of the root of evil?" The answer to this question will not doubt be the next stage feature of our strange panic. Only two courses seem open. Either money must become a drug, or we must have another "expansion" of business. If we read "the signs of the times" aright, the latter will be solved in the latter way.

Breadstuffs remain lifeless, with a general complaint of dearth all around. We have nothing new to report.

DIED.

At his late residence, in Washington Township, on Saturday, Feb. 6, JAMES MCLEACHRON, aged 52 years.

Mr. McLeachron was a native of the Highlands of Scotland, but a resident of this County for several years.

In the death of Mr. McLeachron, the County has lost one of its best citizens. His heart was always open to all calls of necessity or mercy. There are many outside of his own family circle, who will bow their heads in sorrow at this dispensation of an overruling Providence.

He will be missed by all those who knew him. There is a void left among his former neighbors and acquaintances that will not soon be filled. The writer of this formed his acquaintance during the past season, but soon found that in his generous devotedness to his work, his whole-souled philanthropy, and his active zeal, none could but love him.

He was one of our most efficient friends and helpers in establishing this publishing office, and we shall sorely miss his aid and counsel in the future prosecution of the duties incumbent upon us.

But, although the "last of earth" has come with this good man, and although the dealing of an overruling hand seem painful and inscrutable to some, may we not truly, with perfect confidence, that He who doeth not unjustly afflict the children of men, doeth all things well.

We sincerely sympathize with the family of the deceased in this sad hour of sorrow. And although we mourn the loss of the departed, may we not hope that "After life's fitful fever he sleeps well."

SIR JAMES CLARK'S Celebrated Female Pills!!

PREPARED from a prescription of Sir J. Clark, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen. This invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases incident to the female constitution.

It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and brings on the monthly period with regularity. These Pills should be used two or three weeks previous to confinement; they fortify the constitution and lessen the suffering during labor; enabling the mother to perform her duties with safety to herself and child.

These Pills should not be taken by females during the first three months of pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of nervous and spinal affections, pain in the back and limbs, heaviness, fatigue on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, lowness of spirits, hysterics, whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will affect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, does not contain iron, calomel, antimony or any other mineral.

Full directions accompany each package. Price in the United States and Canada, $1.00. For sale in Ligonier, by O. ARNOLD & Co.

PROSPECTUS OF THE WEEKLY TOLEDO BLADE, FOR 1858.

DURING the past year this old and popular Newspaper has been greatly improved in its typographical appearance, and in the character and variety of its contents, and it now, in the extent and variety of its matter, is unsurpassed by any Paper within the range of the wide circulation!

The publishers refer with pride to the improvements of the past as the best guarantee that its future will be one of continued progress. The aim of the publishers of

The Weekly Blade Will ever be to make it a high toned, useful and instructive Journal, and they will, therefore, exclude from its columns whatever is a tendency to debase the morals or enervate taste. At the same time great care will be taken to please its readers by providing for their entertainment whatever seems appropriate from the abundant stores of modern literature. Among the topics thus embraced may be mentioned—A wide range of News Items, Political News and Articles, Scientific Matters, Recent Inventions, Sketches, Poetry, Tales, &c., together with the best Washington correspondence to be found in any Western paper.

Wit and Humor also receives a full share of attention. Especial pains are taken to furnish the latest and most accurate quotations of the Produce, Grain, Cattle and Money Markets

Of the principal cities of the Union, as well as of Liverpool and London.

A special department will hereafter be devoted exclusively to the interests of the Farmer.

The Proprietors invite a comparison between the WEEKLY TOLEDO BLADE and any Western Weekly Journal, feeling assured that it is well worthy the attention of the reading public as a good, interesting, agreeable and valuable Newspaper for all classes of readers, and especially as a Paper for the Farmer.

The wide circulation which the Weekly Blade has attained enables the proprietors to offer it at the following
