Mr. Mosser Makes Address.
"No one man can build a city," said George H. Mosser, managing director of the state chamber of commerce in an address at Hotel Ligonier Monday evening.

"It takes men well organized in sympathy and with a fixed purpose to accomplish such a result, declared the speaker to members of the Ligonier Chamber of Commerce and twenty-five guests composed of business men.

"Cities are built by the exertions of brain, heart and hands," said Mr. Mosser, "and the chief asset is the reputation of being a good town."

"The speaker brought a message to Ligonier well worth listening to and it is sure to bear fruit."

President Lyon presided at the meeting which was enthusiastic.

A fine chicken dinner was served which was highly enjoyed by the seventy-five citizens who partook of it.

The next meeting of the Chamber will be held Wednesday noon December 23.

Finds Money in Rags.

As Mrs. Fannie Gushwa employed at the Wilhelm furniture factory at Sturgis was wiping off some furniture in preparation for staining and varnishing she picked up an old rag that had been a skirt. In the hem something was hidden. When Mrs. Gushwa tore it open a roll of bills fell out. Hearing the exclamation of surprise which escaped Mrs. Gushwa, other workers crowded around her and stared in amazement at the roll of currency. Mrs. Gushwa some said began to peel off the faded bills on the outside of the roll and one employee affirms that he saw a $10 bill, a twenty and a fifty. The woman hastily refolded the bills and tucked them into her dress. Mrs. Gushwa says there was only $10 in the rag, but other employees assert that there may have been as much as $2,000 for the said roll was too large to put in an ordinary pocket. The rags in which the money was found were shipped from Cleveland to Sturgis and had been renovated.

Far Bynig Spirited.

The Wawaka correspondent says: "Saturday Elkhart township trappers were right busy with fur buyers from Fort Wayne, Kendallville, South Bend and Goshen. Highest bidder got the pelts, which were some beauties. Thirty-five mink hides were in one collection and the prices given were $7 to $10 apiece. Over $1,000 were paid for furs Saturday alone. There are many mink, skunk and opossum animals here yet untrapped."

Teacher Injured.

Mrs. Noble Neff of Millford was painfully injured just after alighting from the Nappanee-Millford bus, which had been stopped in front of her home there. She was run down by another automobile while crossing the street to her home. The ligaments of her right knee were torn, her right elbow injured and her chin lacerated.

Duties Were Conflicting.

Harry Cook deputy sheriff for Lake county who was charged with acting as a guard at a notorious road house has resigned his office.

The officer was charged with failure to do his duty in not arresting patrons of the road house who carried liquor.

Daring Housebreaker.

A daring daylight housebreaker entered the home of L. M. Lebensburger at Fort Wayne Sunday afternoon and escaped with loot consisting of wearing apparel and a small amount of money.

Gleaners in Convention.

The Ancient Order of Gleaners opened its National convention in South Bend Wednesday with many delegates present. The meeting was attended by Messrs. and Mesdames Will Sharp and William Meroney of Ligonier.

South For Winter.

Mrs. Anna Wolf of R. F. D. 4 has gone south to spend the winter. After stopping on the way to visit relatives she will locate at Vero Beach Florida.

Holiday School Vacation.

The Ligonier schools will close for the holiday vacation Tuesday evening December 22 and reconvene Monday following New Year.

Seven full auto loads of people from Elkhart township nightly attend U. B. revival meetings at Ligonier, says the Wawaka correspondent.

Ancient and Modern Systems of Currency

In the early days of our civilization, when a man's flocks and herds were his only possessions, they also constituted his money, and when metal coins were first introduced many had cattle stamped on them.

The Latin for cattle is "pecus," and it is not a far stretch from this to our word "pecuniary," which is usually associated with money.

Again, the word "cattle" is derived from "capital," the origin of which is the Latin word "caput," meaning a head, and from the very earliest times beasts have been spoken of as so much per head.

It is curious, too, how agriculture has indirectly affected our system of currency. When man found it easier to dig with a bronze or iron spade than with wood, it was not long before iron and bronze coins came into use. Later, when gold and silver were discovered, they were quickly adopted for currency.

The word "salary" comes from "salline." When the Romans dominated Britain they took possession of a great many of the salt mines, because salt was then a valuable commodity; in addition, workmen in the salt mines were frequently paid with salt, and it was not long before this form of remuneration became known as salary.

Would Have History Recorded on Tablets

If we of today were very much concerned that people 10,000 or 15,000 years hence shall know who we were and what we did, we suppose we should follow the advice of Albert Vanderlaan, ceramic expert, and make a pictorial record of ourselves and our achievements on clay plaques. Newsprint crumbles in a few decades, books and manuscripts are perishable, wood turns to dust and iron to rust, brick becomes earth, the marble tombstone weathers into a limestone devoid of inscriptions, and, as we have learned, our national capital is built of rotten sandstone which only repeated coats of weatherproof paint have kept from disintegration. Nothing lasts except glazed pottery—a thing more enduring than stone or metal.

It is looking a long way ahead, but there would be point in reproducing the characteristic physiognomies, edifices, machines and products of our civilization in baked clay. Anyway, we wish prehistoric man had done more systematic work of this kind for the benefit of his successors.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Hymns Form Links

The Old and the New worlds have been linked by hymns. Doctor Reeves tells how American history opened with the singing of a Christian hymn. "On the evening of September 25, 1492, one of the companions of Columbus saw what he thought to be land lying dimly in the west. . . . From all three of the ships, as Columbus himself gives the account in his diary, there rose the sound of the old 'Gloria in Excelsis Deo.' We learn that later in the history of Christian America 'The Bay Psalm Book' was printed in the modest dwelling of the first president of Harvard. President Dwight of Yale, who was a chaplain in the Revolutionary army, edited and partly wrote what was for years the leading hymn and psalm book in the country. In 1737 at Charleston, S. C., John Wesley, an Anglican missionary, published the first hymn book of the Church of England.—W. M. Lettis in Yale Review.

Famous American Society

The Society of Officers of the Continental army called the Society of the Cincinnati, was founded by regular officers of the Continental army at the headquarters of Baron von Steuben on the Hudson, 1783, was named for a traditional Roman dictator, Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus, born about 519 A. D. The name was adopted in allusion to the approaching change from military to civil pursuits and referred to the fact that Cincinnatus when named dictator was discovered by the deputies sent to apprise him of the honor, digging on his farm beyond the Tiber, an occupation he was loath to leave and eager to resume after much military glory.

No Mail for Him

The postal service is laughing at the story of a post-office inspector who went into the hills of Arkansas to check up a village post office. The neighbors said the P. M. had gone fishing. Finding him, the inspector asked, "Are you the postmaster?" After a minute the P. M. said, "Yep. What's your name?" "P. D. Smith." The P. M. reached into his back pocket, took out a bunch of letters and handing over them for the addresses, said, "None. Nothing for ye," and went on fishing.—Capper's Weekly.

Miserable Despair

Despair makes a despicable figure. It is descended from a mean original. It is the offspring of fear, laziness and impatience. It argues a defect of spirit and resolution, and oftentimes of honesty, too. After all, the exercise of this passion is so troublesome that nothing but dirt of evidence and demonstration should force it upon us. I would not despair unless I knew the irrevocable decree was passed. I saw my misfortune recorded in the book of fate, and signed and sealed by necessity.—Jeremy Taylor.

Notice to Stock Owners

The time of the year is here when crowded quarters or worms are principal causes of trouble.

Hogs are coughing and this may be due to several causes. Damp quarters crowded quarters or worms are principal causes. Sanitation and dry quarters, with cough specific handled by me will prove very profitable. If worms a worm medicine mixed in slop will clean them out thoroughly. Tonics-viz Vitaminal and Cod-mineral will give extra growth in hogs with less feed. Cows giving enough extra milk to a few weeks to more than pay for tonic. See me for further information.

Lambs Killed or Maimed.

A shepherd and an Alreadale dog played havoc in the flock of feeding lambs belonging to George Kiracope of Whitley county. The pasture field looked like a battlefield with dead sheep strewn about. Twenty head of sheep were dead and 25 so badly injured they had to be shot. The dogs attacked the sheep from the front, fastening their teeth in the flesh and wool between the sheep's eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Reeve and son Weldon spent Sunday at Mishawaka visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bitner.
