Circuit Court—Judge Osborne presiding—is in session this week. The calendar is filled with an unusual amount of civil business.

We are indebted to Hon. Schuyler Colfax for a copy of the Patent Office Reports for 1856.

The Northern Indianian, and Delhi Weekly Journal, come to us under new colors, in the shape of "fancy Headings"; the latter journal is also considerably enlarged.

We are soon to have only a tri-weekly mail from South Bend. Proposals are being received at the general office to carry it three times a week. Leave Plymouth Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 5 a. m.; arrive at South Bend 12 m. Leave South Bend same days at 1 p. m.; arrive at Plymouth 8 p. m.

We are having a "beautiful little spell" of winter just now. Snow plenty, and sleighing fine. Let the best use be made of it.

There was quite a skirmish in the House the other day, between Grow, of Pa., and Keitt, of S. C., in which the members "pitched in" generally—no particular damage done.

Especially attention is directed to a notice of the New York Musical World, in another column of to-day's paper. It is the best Journal of Music published in America, and should be taken by every musical man. $2 per year in advance.

We would call the attention of our merchants to an advertisement in this week's paper, of the firm of Williams & Huestis, wholesale Grocers, Fort Wayne, Ind. Their stock consists of a general assortment of Groceries, together with everything usually found in a store, except dry goods. Their connection with some of the best, oldest and well known houses in the East, offers them facilities for laying in their stock, unsurpassed by any other house in the West. They are therefore enabled to furnish articles in their line, freight considered, as low as can be bought in New York, Cincinnati, Chicago or any other market.

Fort Wayne is now within two or three hours ride of this place, uninterrupted by any change of cars. Merchants, therefore, in this place and vicinity, can obtain anything they may need in the line of Williams & Huestis, in a few hours, thereby avoiding the expense, delays and loss of time, occasioned by purchasing or ordering from a greater distance.

Williams & Huestis have but one price, and those ordering from them will obtain goods of the same quality and price, as if there in person to purchase. If you would, therefore, save, both money and time, purchase of Williams & Huestis, wholesale Grocers, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Counterfeit Bank Note Detecting is a branch of commercial education that cannot be neglected without loss, especially to the young business man. Consequently, the Iron City Commercial College, to be first and foremost in everything pertaining to a complete business education has engaged permanently, Mr. J. W. Kennedy as the Instructor in this department. Mr. K. is the editor of "Kennedy's Bank Note and Commercial Review," the oldest and most reliable "Counterfeit Detector" in the country, which is a sufficient guaranty that he is every way qualified to give the most satisfactory instruction in his department. He explains to the student the various classes of frauds practised upon our bank note currency, and enables him to make the proper distinction in the detection of each class. This is the only College in which this knowledge is systematically taught to all the students.

A GENTLEMAN

Who, two years ago, lay upon what his physicians and all his friends believed to be his death bed, is now alive and in the full vigor of health. His disease was Consumption, of which nearly all his relatives had died. The circumstances which led to his recovery were as follows: His younger brother was in the habit of reading to him from books about the house, while away his weary hours. One day he read to him from an old book published in London about the middle of the seventeenth century, of what was styled "A symple and certain remeedy for diseases of ye Lungs." Not wholly without hope, and unwilling to leave anything untried which gave promise of relief, the sick and dying man had the prescribed remedies prepared and commenced its use. The result was favorable. In two months he was able to walk about the premises without difficulty, and in seven months from the time that he commenced its use he was entirely well, and has not been confined a day since.

Grateful to wards an all-wise providence for his restoration, he prescribed it for all in his vicinity who were afflicted with diseases of the lungs and general debility, and in every case it has proved effective.

Thoroughly satisfied that it is the only safe and certain cure for Consumption, and wishing to do his fellow beings who are suffering, as much good as possible, he has concluded to send the recipe, with full instructions for putting up and using the medicine, free to all who may order it. He requires all applicants to enclose a postage stamp to pay postage on the return of the answer and recipe, and to M. F. McKelvey, Sandusky City, O., and they will be promptly sent by return of mail.

NOW READY.

THE NEW MAGAZINE,
THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY,

DEVOTED TO

LITERATURE, ART, AND POLITICS.

The Aim of the Periodical will be, First, in Literature, to leave no province unrepresented, so that, while each number will contain articles of an abstract and permanent value, it will also contain the healthiest and most useful of the mind for entertainment in its various forms of narrative, wit and humor, will not go unrepresented. The publishers wish to say, also, that while native writers will receive the most cordial encouragement, and will be mainly relied on to fill the pages of the Atlantic, they will not hesitate to draw from the foreign sources at their command, as occasion may require, relying rather on the competency of an author to treat a particular subject, than on any other claim whatever. In this way they hope to make their Periodical welcome wherever the English language is spoken or read.

Second, in the term Art, it is intended to include the whole range of aesthetics, and every thing gradually to make this critical department a true and fearless representative of Art, in all its various branches, without any regard to prejudice, whether personal or national, or to private considerations of what kind soever.

Third, in Politics, the Atlantic will be the organ of no party or clique, but will honestly endeavor to be the exponent of what its conductors believe to be the American idea. It will deal frankly with persons and parties, endeavoring always to keep in view that moral element which transcends all persons and parties, and which alone makes the basis of a true and lasting national prosperity. It will not rank itself with any sect of antes, but with that body of men which is in favor of Freedom, National Progress and Honor, whether public or private.

As an earnest of the material at their command, they submit the following list of literary persons interested in their enterprise; wishing it, however, to be distinctly understood, that they shall hope for support from every kind of ability, which desires the avenue of their columns, and in the remuneration of which they shall be guided purely by their sense of intrinsic merit:

William H. Prescott, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry W. Longfellow, Rev. F. H. Hedge, D. D., Nathl Hawthorne, John G. Whittier, Oliver Wendell Holmes, James R. Lowell, J. L. Motley, M. D., Geo. Wm. Curtis, Herman Melville, Prof. C. C. Felton, Prof. F. J. Child, E. P. Whipple, Edmund Quincy, author of "Wensley," J. T. Trowbridge, author of "Neighbor Jackwood," etc.; C. W. Paine, author of "Twice Married;" Mrs. H. Beecher Stowe, Mrs. Gaskell, author of "Ruth," "Mary Barton," "North and South," etc.; Mrs. L. Maria Child, Mrs. C. M. Kirkland, Mrs. Pike, author of "Ida May," "Caste," etc.; Mrs. E. M. Whittier, author of "The Dead Secret," "Sherry, Wilkie Collins, author of "Doan Antonio," etc.; Terry Brooks, author of "Aspen Court," etc.; E. M. Whittier, author of "Political Portraits," etc.; James Hannay, author of "Singleton Fentony;" Thos. W. Parsons.

Terms—Three dollars a year, or twenty-five cents a number, and may be obtained of booksellers, periodical agents, or of the publishers.

PROSPECTUS

WEEKLY DAY BOOK, for 1858.

The New York Day Book, (daily and weekly) is an independent Democratic journal, devoted to the support of Democratic ideas and the defense of Democratic institutions. It holds that all those who are naturally equal, are entitled to the same rights and responsible for the same duties, and it will, therefore, advocate the perfect legal and political equality of all citizens, without regard to birth, religion, or any of those factions and accidental things which, in other countries, and sometimes in our own, are permitted to interfere with men's natural rights. It holds, moreover, that that government is best which governs the least—that National Banks, Protective Tariffs, Internal Improvements, and all forms and degrees of special legislation are anti-Republican, corrupting and dangerous to the spirit of Democracy and the permanency of free institutions. It holds, furthermore, that American society, as now constituted, is right in theory as in fact—at the South as at the North—in its domestic regulations as in its political institutions, and will therefore defend the existing constitution—the subordination of negroes as well as the equality of white citizens. These principles and this position it will continue to advocate in the future as in the past, and though the publication department has changed hands, its editors and contributors remain the same as ever.

The success of the Day Book has achieved by bold and fearlessly uttering the whole truth upon the "slavery question" has been unequalled in the history of newspaper literature—not less than thirty thousand subscribers having been received in a single year. We confidently expect even greater success in the future; and while we shall give due attention to politics we also present our readers with an interesting family and business journal, filled with a complete digest of news, foreign and domestic, commercial and monetary articles, full and accurate reports of the cattle, grain, cotton, produce and other markets, accompanied with the newest and latest agricultural information, prepared specially for our columns. Indeed, we give the reader a greater variety of information than is to be obtained in any other weekly journal published in New York. Our reports of markets alone are worth double the subscription price.
