

Marshall County Democrat
W. J. BURNS, Editor.
PLYMOUTH, THURSDAY,
November 11, 1859.

For the Democrat.
Mr. Editor:—We took occasion, two weeks since, to call on the Local of the Republican, to bring forward the figures, on which he based his calculations that the value of improvements on Lots in Plymouth, were only increased 5 per cent over last year, when the improvements on farms were increased more than 75 per cent. Mr. Phillips like an honest man, backs down. He says, "When we found the article referred to in the above communication (our former article) we took all of the figures therein used, from former numbers of this paper (Republican) and re-published them as true, because they had been talked about by every body, and had been received as correct." We think the last sentence would bear a slight modification. He says further "If Mr. Mc will furnish the true amount, or wait till we find it ourselves, we shall most cheerfully publish it." At any and at all times, we are ready and willing to make any necessary explanation or correction in our power. We must cheerfully comply with his request, to furnish the true amount, on which he should have based his calculation. The value of the Lots and improvements in Plymouth last year, was placed in one column and amounted to $79,500. Value of improvements this year $84,044. Val. of Lots $117,110. Total $317,150. These are the figures from which the calculation should have been made. He further says, "Why did you not deny these charges, or any part of them when Mr. Manning made them at two several times long before we re-published them? We have been asked the same question, probably twenty times by our friends, and our answer uniformly has been that we had retired to private life and did not wish to enter into a Newspaper controversy until the political excitement had subsided and the people had become rational again;—then we proposed to refer to some of those charges, that "nobody denied" and as we retain none but the kindest feelings towards Mr. Phillips and believe him to be a man, in whom we could investigate these charges, without, resorting to the usual quantity of Billingsgate, that generally enters into a controversy in the public Newspapers, we have made choice of him, to investigate these charges with, as he made them in his own column, Mr. Phillips says further, "And the only time we thought of you in connection with these separate figures was, when we published the County's indebtedness for 1853, at $83,613.93, according to your (our) representations, while in fact the true amount was nearer $70,000 as we were informed by our present Auditor." The County's indebtedness, in connection with our last report as Auditor, was pretty well discussed by the papers of this place, last summer, when the R-republicans charged that, we knowingly and intentionally reported the County's indebtedness to be some three or four thousand dollars less, than it really was. We will, however, state the facts in the case again, in order, to enlighten those who are not posted, in reference to this matter, or have forgotten what has been said in defense of our report. In the first report that our predecessor Mr. Danham made, he stated that the books had been kept in such a manner that it was impossible for him, to ascertain the true condition, financially—of the County, but as nearly as he could ascertain, it was as he reported. He based his next report on his first, and so on, and as a doubt, he kept the accounts of the County correctly after his first report, unless some error was accidentally made which escaped detection. When we made our first report, we carefully looked over Mr. Danham's, and came to the conclusion that we could do no better than to take his last report as correct not knowing whether it was really so, but presuming it was. If Danham's last report was correct, we undertake to say, that with the exception of the Rail road stock—ours was correct also, unless there might have been some trivial errors in footing, or transcribing. At the time the R. R. stock was received by the County we conversed with the Board and with various individuals in reference to the prop or way to report stock—they all were of the opinion, that it should be reported as that much receipts, and so we reported it and had the exhibit published, we made up all the reports after that time the same as if the R. R. stock had been money. The things was not done clandestinely, but openly and published, that all could see at a glance, how the reports were made. That there were or were outstanding the sum of $9,531, and $235,27 of interest on the same, more than was stated in our report of 1853, is true, from the fact that the stock was reported as cash, and our impressions are, that almost any Auditor would have done as we did, under the circumstances. The proper way, we presume, would have been, to have ascertained the true cash value of the stock from year to year and reported accordingly. Leaving the stock entirely out of the calculation, if it would stand thus, orders in lieu of R.

R. stock, $9531, in excess on the sum-up to June 1853 $235,27 total $1235,27. Add reported indebtedness $360,95 making a total indebtedness of the County in June 1853 after leaving out the stock and interest on the same—of $4896,22. This amount (all that we can figure on, the County indebtedness to have been at that time the present Auditor's opinion to the contrary notwithstanding. These are the facts in the case, and if it can be shown by figures that the indebtedness of the County, was "nearer 7000," we should be pleased to see it done. We are perfectly willing to shoulder all the responsibilities of our official acts. The party to which we have the honor of being a member, is not accountable for our doings, we alone are responsible. And we pledge ourselves, not to complain, if our official acts, are correctly represented, neither will we find fault with the present Auditor, if he keeps the books as correctly and attends to the office as closely as we did. "Glass House and Stones." T. McDONALD.

Reform in Canada.
A convention of the "reform" party in Upper Canada, consisting of some four hundred and fifty delegates, has just been held at Toronto. The leading spirits in it were George Brown, Adam Ferguson, Malcolm Cameron, Wm. Lyon MacKenzie, David Christie and others. Mr. Ferguson, President. Mr. Brown, it is remembered, was Prime Minister for a brief time upon the dissolution of the ministry some two years ago. Mr. Cameron has been Postmaster General. We do not precisely understand what relation this movement has to the present party in power. The chief avowed purposes of it are to dissolve the existing union of the two Provinces, to give each a legislature having exclusive jurisdiction over its local affairs, and to make them as a confederation with a Congress having jurisdiction over the national affairs. The plan is substantially that of the American system of State and Federal government. Another object of the movement is to check the extravagance which is alleged to have prevailed for some years past, and which has involved upon the Provinces, in a debt of sixty millions of dollars. The idea of the convention did not seem to embrace the lower Provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, &c., in the federation, they being understood to object to anything of the sort, but some of the speakers hinted at the erection of new Provinces towards the northwest, which, becoming rapidly peopled, would swell the confederation to respectable dimensions.

We are not aware of the extent to which the people of the two Provinces are at this time disposed to respond to the action of this convention. We have supposed there was a growing sentiment in favor of federation in all the Provinces, and that nothing was more likely than the early consummation of such event. We cannot understand why the lower Provinces should be opposed to it, as they are said to be. The importance of British North America would be immensely increased by a federal union, and while we cannot see the local interests would be prejudicial by it, we think we can see the general benefit would be greatly promoted by it. We are still of the impression that federation of all the Provinces, stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific, is only a question of time.

The extravagance which has produced the Provincial debt of sixty millions of dollars has created the necessity of an increased revenue. The manner of obtaining this has been by raising the rates of import duties, which measure is damaging to American interests and destroys the advantages which were supposed to have been gained by the reciprocity treaty. If this Executive tariff policy shall be persisted in, we should say there can be little doubt that our government will seize the first opportunity to give notice of the abrogation of the reciprocity arrangement, which, by the way, has never produced the fruit that was anticipated from it. We believe the true interests of both people to be trade and commerce as unrestricted as their intercourse.

Detroit Free Press, 18th.
On the next day, the 16th, the Free Press received further light upon this subject, produced by the principal speaker on the occasion above referred to. He says in 1851, when the present government came into power, the Provincial debt was $29,000,000; when Parliament separated last spring, the debt was $59,500,000. In less than four years, he denominated an act of needless unpopularity by any government that ever existed. Among the monies so spent the Grand Trunk Railway has received sixteen millions. If the road had been built inland, and not on the shores of the lake, he thought it might have been a greater benefit to the Province; but as it was, no reasonable compensation for the money was obtained. He then referred to the tariff, and feared the public debt of the country would prevent the carrying out of a free trade policy. The tariff had increased, of course nearly in the same ratio as the debt; it had been raised to 22 1/2 per cent. The excess of collection of the revenue was enormous, having been increased during the past few years two and a half fold. He feared the result of the high protective tariff upon the reciprocity treaty with the United States. Looking at the results of the legislation of the last five years, he deemed it extraordinary that the people had stood it so long.

The Beggary Appeal Repudiated.
The Reverend CHILDERS' beggary appeal to the British abolitionists for aid to sustain him in his abolition preaching meets with nothing but kicks and rebuffs from those to whom he might naturally look for sympathy. The fact is his partisans here are ashamed that the beggary condition of the "only true abolition church" has been exposed to the public, and they have no sympathy or consolation for the Reverend who made the exposition. Even the board of trustees of his own church repudiate the whole thing and wash their hands of it. At a meeting held on Monday night last, they unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

"Whereas, this board learn, through the public prints, that a Miss Johnstone has made appeals to the people of Great Britain for funds to sustain the Church of the Puritans; and it appears by a letter of pastor of the church, addressed to Rev. C. H. Spurgeon of England, that he (the pastor) and some in leaders have authorized Miss Johnstone to collect money in Great Britain for this purpose; and
"Whereas, in the opinion of this board, such an appeal is contrary to the best interests of the church and society, and calculated to injure them in the estimation of the Christian public, since the contributions sought are for the purpose of meeting the ordinary expenses of worship, which rightfully belong to the congregation to pay;
"Resolved, therefore, That this board disavow all responsibility for the acts of Miss Johnstone as unauthorized by the society on its trustees."

H. REUBEN.—The St. Louis Evening News has a story of a terrible affair which happened in Illinois, opposite that city, on Monday last. A woman, the wife of Robert Greenfield, it is said, left her two little girls, aged four and eight respectively, locked up in the house while visiting at Illinois, and during her absence the wooden building caught fire and burned to the ground, destroying both children. The house was situated upon a knoll east of the machine shop of the Ohio and Mississippi railroad. The mother, it appears, has often been alarmed on account of the children seizing every occasion of her absence to leave the premises and play about in the neighborhood; and fearful of some serious accident resulting from this disposition, the woman locked them in the house. It is supposed they were playing with the fire, and in that way occasioned the calamity by which their lives were lost.

SINGULAR FREAK.—John's Threshed, a gentleman of some seventy years, living in Liberty, Pennsylvania, has been for over 12 years, industriously engaged, with the weather and his health would permit, in digging over a piece of ground near his dwelling, and carrying the stones and some dirt into a pile. Here he has labored, taking on a stone or a shovel full of dirt at a time, until the mound has reached the height of thirty or forty feet, and is much larger than his house. He gave us a reason for his labors, that he had lost a six-pence in his garden. He soon after found several six-pence, but continued to dig until his whole garden has been carried to increase the mound. He is peaceful and industrious in his way, so industriously let him work. To his efforts of assistance he receives a decided negative and digs away alone. Mr. Threshed is a well informed man, and talks rationally on every subject but his last six-pence.

ENCOURAGING A NEW-PAPER.—The following incident illustrates pretty forcibly the idea that some people have of encouraging a new-paper:
The editor and publisher of a paper of one of our inland cities, had a few years ago, among his subscribers, quite a prominent individual of the place, who had been a constant reader of the paper since the commencement of its publication, but who had never paid a penny for subscription. The collector of bills having remonstrated that against the delinquent to his employer, as one impossible to convert into cash, the editor resolved to give the party in question a broad hint as to his remissness the first time an opportunity should occur in public. He did not have to wait long. For in a few days he discovered his negligence, and in the office of the principal hotel, surrounded by quite a group of friends, and disposing of cigars and other little luxuries, sufficient to have liquidated at least one year's subscription. When the laugh at the last joke had subsided, the editor approached the group, and after the usual salutation to his subscribers, remarked:
"Colonel, you have had my paper now for five years, and never paid for it, although the bill has frequently been sent me—I should like my pay for it."
"Pay?" ejaculated the colonel, with genuine or well feigned astonishment; "did you say pay?"
"Certainly," was the reply; "you had my paper, and I want the pay for it."
"Pay?" said the Colonel again; "why it can't be you expect me to pay anything for that paper—I only took the blamed thing to encourage you!"
The laugh from the circle of listeners this dialogue, came in here like the bursting of a bomb shell.—Conn. Bulletin.

They have a queer test in Washington to ascertain how far a man is imbued with patriotism. The test is, that he should not receive any tickets for the fair on or after 15 days old. A railroad ticket, like any other obligation, ought to be good until it is redeemed, and any road that allows such a rule ought to be regarded as a small attempt to get rid of a liability incurred for a valuable consideration.—Atlas.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19.
An accident occurred this afternoon to a train on the Northern and Central railway, about six miles from this city, caused by the spreading of the track, which threw the train off. The conductor Alfred Crawford, was killed. The passengers escaped unharmed.

More Ramors.
CHARLESTON, Va., Nov. 19.
All is now quiet in this town, but the military forces are not yet withdrawn.
The brass, stack yards and implements, amounting in value to several thousand dollars, belonging to Messrs. John Burns, Geo. H. Tate and Mr. Shirley, all of whom were jurors in the recent trials, have been burned.

From Pike's Peak.
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17.
The Leavenworth Express, from Denver City, on the 10th, arrived this afternoon, with $10,000 in treasure.
The provisional government had gone into full operation by the organization of both branches of the legislature.
Sole, governor-elect, delivered a message in which he argues the necessity of the present form of government until Congress shall take action in reference to the territory.
Miners continued to work in several localities. Many preparing for winter diggings.

LEAVENWORTH, Nov. 17.
A. D. Richardson, of the Boston Journal, just arrived from New Mexico and Pike's Peak region.
He reports great excitement throughout New Mexico on account of the recent Indian outrages.
Fifteen men, bearing Pike's Peak emeralds, coming down the Platte River, were destroyed within a short period.

Brownsville in Ashes—100 Citizens Killed.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.
The war department has received a dispatch from Tuleza, dated San Antonio, 12th inst., that an express had just arrived from Brownsville in ashes, killing some 100 citizens, and that Caranias, with 800 men, was marching towards the Nueces river.

How to Cure Bees.—To each hundred pounds of beef, take one ounce and a quarter of salt, two pounds and a half of brown sugar, five pounds of Turk Island salt and two gallons and a half of water, put the whole in a boiler, allow the vessel to fire and boil until the hard ingredients are well dissolved, let it cool and pour it on the beef tightly packed and then put a weight on it and keep it covered. This will make the finest quality of beef.

Gerrit Smith.
We have three telegraphic dispatches relating to this gentleman. One from New York that a requisition had been made by the Governor of Virginia, upon the Governor of New York for him, on a charge of complicity in the Harper's Ferry affair; another from Richmond, saying that a requisition had been made for him; and another from U. S. Attorney, announcing his removal and confinement in the Lunatic Asylum at that place. He has been a man of remarkable powers and remarkable weaknesses, and his faculties were never well balanced. The overthrow of his mind will be attributed to the excitement attendant upon the recent startling events in Virginia, which is known to have greatly disturbed him.

Another Insurgent Arrested.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.
The Alexandria (Va.) Sentinel, of this morning, says a man was arrested in that city yesterday, having been recognized as one of Brown's men at Harper's Ferry. He was committed to jail to await further identification.

There have recently occurred in France two accidents from chemical or incendiary matches; by which five children have been burnt to death. In one instance three children of a farmer not only immolated themselves but burnt down a barn and its contents, and the mother has since died from the agitation caused by the event.

The Population of Kansas.
The Detroit Free Press Says, "The returns of the vote in Kansas on the question of accepting or rejecting the constitution, shows that not less than sixteen or eighteen thousand votes were polled. No one supposes that all the electors were at the poll; and indeed, it is stated that almost the entire population of the Pike's Peak region abstained from voting; and yet the result shows that the population of the Territory is but little, if any, below the number specified in the English bill as requisite to her admission equal to the ratio for a Representative in Congress, if there be five inhabitants to every voter, and if the electors who did not vote be taken into consideration, the total population of the Territory would now press hard upon one hundred thousand. The Territory must now contain very near if not quite that number."

Insurgent.—The Loyal Union says Dr. Barre, the Corner of this County, had an inquest over the dead body of a child found in the bed of its parents last Saturday morning. The verdict was, that the probable cause of the child's death was fright on the part of the parents, the father or came home drunk on the night before, and threatened his wife with violence, and she fled leaving the child with the drunk man and a sister, who caused its suffocation, the man's name is Leonard; and resides near the railroad; near Cambridge, LaPorte Herald.

The Mexican Outlaws.
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19.
Indiana Courier of the 12th inst. says that an express from the Sheriff of Nueces County had arrived, reporting that Cortinas, with 1,500 men and nine cannon, has full possession of the Rio Grande from Brownsville to Roma, and his forces are scouring all the country. All mail communication west of the Nueces are cut off. Corpus Christi is, however, not threatened.

Capt. Tabin, with 100 men from Corpus Christi has been defeated, and it is feared his retreat cut off. The reports are conflicting, the probably very much exaggerated.
The latest reliable accounts are by New Orleans merchants who left Brownsville on the 4th inst., when affairs were unchanged.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19—10 p. m.
Advices from Brazos to the 4th state that Brownsville was not taken on the evening of the 31.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.
The New Orleans Phoenix of Tuesday says the merchants of that city interested in the Rio Grande trade will (should) there be a necessity to do so) fit out at their own expense, an hundred armed men, for the protection of Brownsville and the adjacent settlements.
The reliable ex-Governor Vala has arrived at San Antonio.

OLD BRASS.—The N. Y. Herald says that it has seen a letter from G. W. Wise, of Virginia, in which he states that there is no possibility of a pardon or reprieve being extended to Brown, who therefore will certainly be executed on the appointed day.

How are you getting along? cried the captain of a steamboat to the people of a submerged town upon the Ohio.
"Oh, swimmingly."
A Printer's Devil, wanting to kiss his sweetheart, addressed her as follows:
"Miss Lucy, can I have the pleasure of placing my 'imprint' on your bill?"

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—A MAN TORN LIMB FROM LIMB AND INSTANTLY KILLED.—Thomas O'ara, an Irish wood hauler met with a shocking death at the distillery of Purdie & Holabird this morning. He entered the engine-room, and after arranging with the engineer, with reference to the hauling of some wood, was in the act of passing out, when he stumbled into the beer vat, and getting caught in the machinery, was literally torn a limb from limb. His right arm was mangled and pulled from the socket. The unfortunate man died almost instantly. He has a family.—Lafayette Courier.

AN EXPENSIVE PLUG OF TOBACCO.—A countryman who went on a spree in St. Louis, a few days ago, fell in with a chap who pretended to be a broker, from whom he purchased what he supposed to be a bar of gold, paying for it $275. The metal was weighed with great solemnity, and one end filed off to adjust the weight. Next morning, when he woke up, he found a plug of tobacco, nicely done up in gold foil.

A short time ago an archer seven years of age was found in a shed in suburban New York teaching a class of still younger boys to swear.
