

We deny that Mr. Pettit ever was a free-soiler.—Terre Haute Journal.
It is much easier denying some things than disproving them. Let the witness be called. John Pettit, take the stand. Tell us, John, was you ever a free-soiler, or not? Answer: "I am devoted to mine-shall knowingly ever be given to pollute the one or oppress the other with Slavery."—Pettit's Letter July 13, 1854.
This is sufficient—adjourn the court.—Terre Haute Express.

THE STARVING IRISH BOY.
Give me three grains of corn, mother,
Give me three grains of corn;
Till the little life I have,
Till the coming of the morn,
I am dying of hunger and cold, mother,
I am dying of hunger and cold;
And half the agony of such a death,
My lips have never told.

It has gnawed like a wolf at my heart, mother,
Like a wolf that is fierce for blood;
All the live-long day, and the night beside,
It is gnawing at the back of my head.
I dreamed of bread in my sleep, mother,
And the sight was heaven to see;
I awoke with an eager longing lip,
But you had no bread for me.

Oh, why should I look to you, mother?
Oh, why should I look to you,
For bread to give your starving boy,
When you are starving too?
I read the famine in your cheek,
And in your eye you said:
And I felt it in your hony hand,
As you laid it on your child.

The Queen has lands and gold, mother,
The Queen has lands and gold;
What you are reaching for in empty breast,
A skeleton have to hold.
A babe that is dying from want, mother,
As I am dying now;
With a hollow eye and sunken cheek,
And famine upon its brow.

What has poor Ireland done, mother?
What has poor Ireland done?
That the world looks on and seems to stare—
Perishing one by one?
Do the men of England care not, mother?
The great men and the high?
For the suffering sons of Erin's Isle,
Whether they live or die?

There's many a brave heart here, mother,
That is dying of hunger and cold,
Whistling all across the channel, mother,
Are many that roll in gold.
There are rich and proud men there, mother,
With wondrous wealth to view—
The food they throw to their dogs to-night,
Would give life to me and you.

Come nearer to my side, mother,
Come nearer to my side;
And hold me as you held
My father when he died.
Quick, for I cannot wait,
My breath is almost gone,
Mother, dear mother—ere I die,
Give me three grains of corn.

CRUMPTON'S Horse Liniment.
THIS Liniment has been before the community, to a limited extent, for the past six years, and we assert without fear of contradiction, that there is no liniment in use that has gained so good a reputation upon its virtues alone, as this Liniment has done, and to prove it we might array before you, certificates of the great power it possesses, for the curing of the various diseases for which we recommend it, from nearly every person that has used it, but should we do so, you would say that it was all a humbug, and the certificates forgeries. We would therefore with but little exception, offer it to you on our own recommendation, requesting a trial by you before it is condemned, resting assured that it will thereby gain a still greater popularity than it has already obtained.

We do not hesitate to say that there is no Liniment in use that will do more in curing Bruises, Strains, Swellings of the Saddle or Collar, Swains, Cuts or Swellings on horses; or in curing Burns, Sores, Rheumatism, Cuts or any of the various diseases, requiring an external application, it being the most penetrating Liniment in use.

Kidney Worm in Hogs.
LONE POINT, Cumberland Co., Ill. May 1851.
Mr. Crumpton, Sir:—From not seeing it noticed, I presume you are not acquainted with the fact, that your Horse Liniment is as certain a cure for Kidney worms as anything I know of. Apply it by rubbing it on the back over the kidneys. I also find it good for weakness in cows backs, sprains of ankles, Hooks and Dog bites.

CRUMPTON'S Strawberry Balm.
For Dysentery, Diarrhea, Griping Pains, Cholera-morbus, Summer Complaint, Cholera, Cholera, Flux, &c. &c.

THIS Preparation is a safe, certain and effectual remedy for dysentery, diarrhea, cholera-morbus, griping pains, looseness of the bowels, summer complaint, flux, colic and all affections of the bowels produced by warm weather, green vegetable food, of damp and unwholesome air.

This Preparation has won a name by its unparalleled success in curing diseases of the bowels, that defies all opposition, particularly all sections of the country where the people are afflicted with the above diseases, and have become acquainted with its virtues, and all that is necessary to convince the most skeptical, is a fair trial.

Warranted purely vegetable and that no injury can arise from the use of it in any case where astringents are admissible.
For sale by
PERSHING & Co. 52m3.

J. D. WORMER'S Condition Powders.
THIS is the first year that these Powders have been offered to the public. Col. Wormer, whose reputation as a Farrier is not only excellent, but held them in an extensive Veterinary practice, for the past twenty five years, with great success.

It is a knowledge of these facts, and the success they have met with in this vicinity induces us to offer them to the public, knowing that they will give satisfaction if properly used.

These powders are very useful in the cure of the various diseases to which Horses and Cattle are subject, such as: Hides-bound, Yellow Water, Induration of the eyes, loss of Appetite, Inward Strains, Fatigue from Hard Exercise, Founder, and Rheumatism or Still complaint, which is so common in the western country.

It purifies the blood, carrying off all humors and prevents horses from foundering and becoming stiff. For coughs and colds it is not excelled by any other preparation. Full directions with each package.

Coroner's Report.
At an inquest held over the remains of a man found in Polk township, Marshall county, Indiana, on the 25th day of February 1854, the jury reported the name of the deceased to Morris Pennington, and an agent resembling closely electricity, or electro magnetism; and second—that the electro magnetic chains, by being worn over and upon the part and organ diseased, furnished to the exhausted nervous fluid which is required to produce a healthy action through the entire system. No disgusting nostrum is allowed to be taken while using the chains, but a rigid observance of the general laws of health are required. Brisk friction upon the part diseased adds much to the effects of the chains, by increasing their magnetic power.

One Thousand Dollars
will be given to any person who will produce so many well authenticated certificates of cure both from intelligent patients and scientific physicians, as have been effected by the use of Pennington's Electric Chains. They never fail to produce what they are advertised to do, and no person has ever been dissatisfied who has given them a trial.

IN FEMALE CASES
More than one hundred permanent cures of Prolapsus Uteri, have been effected within the last year by the use of these chains. By applying one end of the chain over the region of the abdomen, and the other upon the spine just above the hip, the usual severe symptoms incident to that disease are at once removed.

MODE OF USE.
The chain should be moistened before use with common vinegar, and then one end of the chain should be applied directly to the seat of the pain or disease, and the other end exposed to it.

BE NOT DECEIVED! The Electric Chains are not to cure all diseases; but for Nervous diseases it is claimed that NO Medical Agent in the world has produced so many cures in the last year as the Electric Chain.

INSTANT RELIEF from the most acute pain, is produced at the moment of application much more effectually than can be produced by opium, in any of its forms.

Previous to their introduction into this country, they were used in every hospital in Europe, and are secured by patents in France, Germany, Austria, Prussia, and England; and also in the United States.

"THINK CLOSE AND PONDER WELL."
The principles upon which it is claimed that the Chains produce their marvellous cures are, first—that all nervous diseases are attended and produced by a deficient supply of nervous fluid, and an agent resembling closely electricity, or electro magnetism; and second—that the electro magnetic chains, by being worn over and upon the part and organ diseased, furnished to the exhausted nervous fluid which is required to produce a healthy action through the entire system. No disgusting nostrum is allowed to be taken while using the chains, but a rigid observance of the general laws of health are required. Brisk friction upon the part diseased adds much to the effects of the chains, by increasing their magnetic power.
