A Good Home.—Any one in pursuit of so desirable a situation as a good home may find an interesting item in the advertisement of Mr. E. Smith, who advertises a beautiful farm of 250 acres for sale.

The Marshall Com. Pleas Court is now in session at this place—Judge Esenr presiding. Business, thus far, is being forwarded with unusual expedition.

Religious Notice.—There will be preaching at the Court-House next Sunday at 10 o'clock A. M., by Rev. Steadman A. Chaplin.

Know Nothings by a Know Something.

We are half inclined to believe that most of the Editors who are denouncing the Know Nothings are themselves members; but make a great outcry about the organization, to prevent suspicion being directed towards them. For, when money is lost the chap that knows where it is, is always the loudest in condemning the thief; and the genius who plays off a practical joke on his neighbor pretends to be the severest in his condemnation of all such rascality. We can find out anything about them, but here is a Baltimore Editor who appears to "Know Something" about what they are at:—S. B. Reg.

From the Baltimore Patriot.

The "Know Nothings."

The result of the corporate elections in New Orleans, Washington and Philadelphia, shows the organization of a powerful interest known by the significant appellation which heads this article. They have come upon the politicians as some of those signal scourges with which heaven has chosen to afflict the wickedness of man, have come upon the earth, moving in inscrutable and irresistible and inexorable power, and leaving no other record of its nature than the devastation of its path.

Politicians stand aghast. They have been struck dumb in the councils. They have been carried fainting from the seats. Their charms have lost their potency.—Their pride is humbled. Like the storm of hell and brimstone which swept over the doomed cities,—like the pestilence which spared not the Bosphorus at the foot of the Monarch on the throne, the "Know-Nothings" seem moving over the land on a mission of political punishment and prostration.

As these severe marks of divine indignation were generally followed by prayer repentance and reformation, we may hope that a few more salutary admonitions may have the effect of restoring the purity of official appointment and party action throughout the United States.

We are in total ignorance of the principles or purposes of the "Know Nothings"—except so far as may be inferred from results. It seems a volunteer police in aid of public morality. It recognises no Federal division—contends for no political system. It has discarded the machinery of conventions—it makes no noisy and vindictive declamations—it works in obscurity and shame. It has elevated thus far to office honest and capable citizens. It has only made its known by us works and there is, we believe no authorized publication of its character or purposes.

None of Your Business.—An old maid in a down eastern village, called, in her inquisitive way, up to a young and very pretty lady, a great favorite in the town (who as she had "warmed" out of somebody with whom she had been tatting,) was about to get married to a worthy young gentleman living in the same place. She began her questioning adroitly.

"I hear somebody is going to get married."

"Who do you guess 'tis now?"
"I don't know, I am sure."
"Couldn't you guess now; don't you think of somebody that's going to be married?"

"I guess not."

"Well now, Susan, sposin' anybody was to ask me if you wasn't engaged, and was going to be married 'fore long what should I say to 'em?"

"Tell 'em," said Susan, "that you don't know anything about it, and that it is none of your business."

The "business" of "pumping" was over for that day—in that quarter at least.

Know Nothings.

The following is said to be the platform of the association called the "Know Nothings."

1. Repeal of all Naturalization Laws.
2. None but native Americans for office.
3. A pure American Common School System.

4. War to the hilt on Romanism.

5. Opposition, first and last, to the formation of military companies composed of foreigners.

6. The advocacy of a sound, health, and safe nationality.

7. Hostility to all Papal influences, in whatever form, and under whatever name.

8. American institutions and American sentiments.

9. More stringent and effective Emigration Laws.

10. The amplest protection to Protestant interests.

11. The doctrines of the revered Washington and his compatriots.

12. The sending back of all foreign paupers landed on our shores.

13. The formation of Societies to protect all American interests.

14. Eternal enmity to all who attempt to carry out the principles of a foreign Church or State.

15. Our country, our whole country and nothing but our country.

16. And, finally, American laws and American legislation; and doth to all foreign influence, whether in high places or low.

A Yankee has invented a machine which will churn, pound cloths and pump water and when completed will milk the cow, get tea and whip the children.

A lazy boy makes a lazy man, just as sure as a crooked twig makes a crooked tree. Who ever yet saw a boy grow up in idleness that did not make a shiftless vagabond when he became a man, unless he had a fortune to keep up appearances? The great masses of thieves, paupers and criminals that fill our penitentiaries and almshouses have come up to us that they are being brought up in idleness.—Those who constitute the business portion of the community, those who make our great and useful men, were trained up in their boyhood to be industrious.—When a boy is old enough to begin to play in the streets, then he is old enough to begin to work. Of course we would not deprive children of healthy, playful exercise, or the time they should spend in study, but teach them to work little by little, as a child is taught at school. In this way they acquire habits of industry that will not forsake them when they grow up.

"Sammy, my boy, what are the breachest of trust?" said a father to his smartest son.

"What a funny question, Pa!"

"Can't you answer it Sammy?"

"Yes, Pa, but I don't like to."

"What a silly boy. Come, out with my son."

"Well, Pa, your Sunday trowsers are breeches of trust, cause you got 'em on tick."

There's a brandy smash as the wag said when a drunken man fell through a pane of glass.

Perfectly Disappointed

We had until late considered the days for selling and of course buying Patent Medicines, but the price of the Patent Medicines, and the cost of the boxes, and the cost of getting the boxes free, and labor, &c. But we give it up, Dr. A. L. Adams' Liver Balsam is a fool of more, used more, and creating more excitement than any other Compound before the public, and should not this be the case. It is positively producing more excess than any other Medicine now extant. It is an ostensible fact that this Medicine is good to what it claims as a medicine, and we do not know in what case it is in which it claims to be. We please to advise that there is no harm in taking it. See the testimonials in this paper. 184.
