

THE DEMOCRAT.

EDITED AND PUBLISHED BY
D. E. VAN VALKENBURGH.

Thursday, October 24, 1869.

The Cincinnati Gazette, one of the ablest and most influential of the Republican papers of Ohio, frankly confesses that Mr. Pendleton was not beaten on financial issues, and says the Republicans of that State believe that the government "has a legal and moral right to pay the five-twenty bonds in currency." It also states that they condemn Schenck's public credit bill, and will not consent to a payment of a premium on the bonds.

It may be asked, if that paper is correct, why was Pendleton beaten? It gave the same answer that the Times gave several days ago. The Republicans fought the battle on Bountell's treasury statements, the fifteenth amendment and the "anti-war record of the Democrats."

What is dubbed the "anti-war record of the Democrats," and Bountell's treasury statements, were the only effective weapons the Republican leaders had. The fifteenth amendment did not help them, because were Negro suffrage presented singly to the people of Ohio they would vote it down.

After this, let us have no more twaddle about the "repudiation of repudiation in Ohio." — Times.

NEWS—FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—It has been decided that no military review will be held on Tuesday, the 26th instant. An imperial manifesto is expected to appear to-morrow. Many rumors prevail as to its contents, but nothing is positively known. Some journals assert that the government is making enormous military preparations to prevent any disturbance on Tuesday.

Perre Hyacinthe, not having returned to his concert, as ordered by his superior, has been dispossessed of all his charges.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Private telegrams from Europe state that France is upon the verge of a revolution. Next Tuesday promises to be a momentous day, and may witness the proclamation of a republic, or the crushing out of attempts at revolution by the government. Foreign bankers here are in a state of great alarm at the probable effect of this convulsion upon property, as the outbreak promises to be socialistic, and may involve the seizure of the property of rich men for the benefit of the poor.

The mails by the city of Brussels just arrived, show the disturbances at Belleville, near Paris, on the 12th instant, were more serious than reported by telegraph. The cry of "To arms," and "Vive la République!" was raised repeatedly, and in order to excite the wild passions of the crowd, a man was carried on a litter and with cries of "our brothers are being murdered," a furious attack was made upon the police and soldiers, resulting in bloodshed.

LAFORTE, Oct. 15, 1869.

The Convention met at Masonic Hall, and was called to order at 10 o'clock, a. m., by the temporary Chairman, J. B. Stoll, of the Ligonier Banner. The Secretary being absent, Alf. B. Miller, of the South Bend Register was chosen temporary Secretary.

The report of previous meeting was read and adopted.

The Committee on Constitution reported through B. H. Chase, the following:

CONSTITUTION:
Article I. This Association shall be known and designated as the "Editors' and Publishers' Association of the 10th and 11th Districts of Indiana."
Article II. All persons in these Districts connected with newspaper publications, being eligible to membership, and such other persons as from time to time shall be elected as honorary members.

Article III. The officers of the Association shall be elected annually, on the second Friday in October, and shall consist of a President, two Vice Presidents, Recording and Corresponding Secretaries, and Treasurer, who shall discharge the duties usually pertaining to their respective offices.

Article IV. The officers of the Association shall have a majority of the members present at any regular meeting to establish by-laws, and make such rules for its government, as may be deemed necessary, and all members shall be bound in honor to keep and observe the same during the term of their membership.

Article V. The members of this Association shall pay an initiation fee of one dollar, and a like sum annually thereafter, to defray necessary expenses of the Association.

Article VI. These Articles may be altered or amended at any regular meeting of the Association, by the vote of two-thirds of the members present.

Mr. Myers moved that the report be accepted and Committee discharged.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Association then adjourned to the second Friday in April.

A motion to hold the next meeting of the Association at South Bend was unanimously carried.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.

The Constitution was then adopted by sections.

Mr. Hossler offered a resolution that the purpose of this Association, if it had any, was to do away with the present ruinous competition, and the adoption of fair and uniform rates for legal advertising.

Mr. Hossler moved that the thanks of the Association be tendered to the Masons for the use of their Hall. Passed.