

RETURNING VOLUNTEERS

Kansas Sail on the Tartar; Washingtons, on the Pennsylvania, and Nevadans on the Ohio.

ALL WILL START WITHIN A FEW DAYS.

Kansas and Washington Will Leave Over Four Hundred Men Behind. Most of Them Re-Enlisting—An Interesting Chat With Brig-Gen. Funston.

Manila, Sept. 2.—Of the troops about to return to the United States, the Kansas men will leave on board the transport Tartar, the Washington regiment on board the Pennsylvania, and the Nevada cavalry on the Ohio. All these departures will occur within the next week.

The Kansas Regiment.
Eight hundred men of the Kansas regiment will return, and 200 will remain at Manila, 150 of them re-enlisting. Three officers and 30 men of the Kansas regiment were killed, and 19 officers and men died from disease during the smallpox epidemic, while 122 members of the regiment were wounded.

The Washingtons.
Of the Washingtons, 875 men are embarking, while eight officers and 200 men will stay, most of those remaining enlisting in the new regiments being formed here.

One of the officers of the regiment was killed, one was wounded, and one died from disease. Twenty-four of the men were killed, 18 were wounded, and nine died.

Gen. Funston's Old Wound.
Gen. Frederick Funston and Mrs. Funston are with the general's regiment. Gen. Funston has undergone an operation, necessitated by an injury resulting from a fall from his horse while serving in the Cuban army with Gen. Gomez.

In the course of an interview, Gen. Funston remarked that he would not mind staying in Luzon. He dislikes war, but inasmuch as there is fighting, he would like to remain and aid in bringing it to a close. Speaking of the future, he said:

Solution of the Problem.

"The only solution of the problem will be through whipping the insurgents. I do not think they will surrender. When we begin active operations against them on a larger scale, in the autumn, we will scatter them into small bands, and I think when the soldiers composing these bands see that they are persistently pursued, they will throw away or hide their arms and return to their pursuits of peace. A year hence small bodies of armed men will be able to go anywhere in Luzon. The island was always infested with bandits, and was never safe for Europeans to travel in. Probably after the end of the fighting the highwaymen will be more numerous, because the members of Aguinaldo's army who have lived for years with guns in their hands, have acquired a taste for bush life, and would rather continue as highwaymen than return to work.

Cavalry Greatly Needed.

"Cavalry is greatly needed here. The country, when dry, is superb for cavalry operations. The insurgents have none. One of their strong points is their ability to retreat rapidly. Cavalry could overtake and hopelessly scatter and punish them, and could subsist largely off the country. When cavalry is once here, it should be given a chance to go ahead, and not be kept in tow for guard duty. Our greatest successes have been gained when the regimental commanders have been allowed to quickly follow up the advantages gained in battle. Small bodies of Americans, operating freely, and commanded by officers of dash and energy, could badly break up the enemy. The capture of Aguinaldo by cavalry would be a less difficult proposition than the capture of the Apache chiefs of Arizona."

FUNERAL OF COL. HAWKINS.

Remains of the Late Commander of the Tenth Pennsylvania Laid to Rest with Honors.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 2.—The remains of Col. Alexander Leroy Hawkins, commander of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, who died on ship board while en route to San Francisco from Manila, were buried with military honors in the family lot in the Washington cemetery at Washington, Pa.

A provisional regiment, composed of three companies each of the Fourteenth, Seventeenth and Eighteenth regiments, Pennsylvania guard, under command of Col. Wm. J. Glenn, headed the funeral cortege, followed by the Tenth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, under command of Lieut. Col. Barnett, and members of the Fifteenth Pennsylvania cavalry.

The ceremonies at the cemetery were in charge of Chaplain Hunter, of the Tenth.

YELLOW JACK AT NEW ORLEANS

One Death and Two New Cases Reported Yesterday.—Mobile Promptly Quarantined.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 2.—Owing to one death by yellow fever in New Orleans and two other cases declared there, Mobile city authorities proclaimed, last night, a quarantine against persons, baggage and freight from New Orleans entering Mobile county. The night train from New Orleans, due at 12:30 a. m., will be prohibited from discharging New Orleans passengers here.

McKINLEY'S PROCLAMATION.

Cuban Office Holders the Only Class Who Unqualifiedly Approve the President's Position.

Havana, Sept. 4.—The consensus of opinion in Havana regarding the census proclamation can now be ascertained with a reasonable degree of accuracy. When the proclamation was first made known all elements were apparently satisfied. Now the only ones who appear to give full approval are Cuban office holders. These say that the proclamation is the work of a master head and ought to satisfy everybody. Their outspoken approbation, if there were no other reason, would cause all elements to suspect the existence of something wrong somewhere.

What the Independents Want.

The independents, as the members of the party advocating independence are called, say that President McKinley should have made some declaration regarding absolute independence for Cuba. Those who favor an American protectorate consider that the proclamation does not offer adequate guarantees to property and the investor. The annexationists assert that the proclamation tells literally nothing respecting President McKinley's purpose and that no one is any wiser regarding the future of the island than before. They, however, believe that the administration is inclined to adopt the theory that it would be impossible immediately to turn over the reins of government to the Cubans without precipitating civil war.

Object on General Principles.

The malcontents—those who abuse everything, no matter what, that is done by the present administration—object to the proclamation on general principles. American officials believe that there is nothing to be worried about from any point of view.

Don't Care What Happens.

As to the foreign capitalists, their opinion is fairly represented by the president of an important railway who said yesterday:

"We do not care what happens. The United States has assumed Spain's responsibility in the island and even if a republic is established, its officials would of necessity obey Washington implicitly. It is this conviction that has led English capitalists and Germans to invest capital in the island. American capital—I do not see why—continues timid, despite the fact that the United States is pledged before the world to give the island some stable form of government, whether the realization be soon or late."

Cuban Autonomy.

Prominent members of the former autonomist party intend to form a club to promote Cuban autonomy under an American protectorate. Among the promoters of the movement are some of the principle men of the island. They claim to represent a very large number who have been completely ignored in the reconstruction of the insular government. Positions which, as they contend, they are eminently qualified to hold, owing to personal character and family connections, have been given to "incompetents who have degraded the Cuban name not only in the eyes of the world, but among the Cubans themselves."

Gen. Lee Criticized.

La Patricia, commenting upon the assertion of Gen. Lee that it would be wise to keep the United States troops here to safeguard the interests of Americans and foreigners, says that he does not wish an American protectorate, but merely protection for the foreigner.

The Nuevo Pais, commenting upon the statement, remarks that a protectorate would be infinitely preferable to such an arrangement as Gen. Lee suggested.

Something to Lay to Heart.

Nuevo Pais says: "In spite of the fact that Santo Domingo has plenty of able men, the republic is in a state of chaos. Let Cubans lay this fact to heart. What Cubans can read the story of Venezuela after she attained independence without trembling at the thought of what Cuba would become if the American troops were withdrawn? Let us bear in mind our own history. Let us recall the fact that three mutually hostile Cuban parties began together to oppose Spain, and that Gomez, seeing the discord among our people, declared that Cubans could not be free. Bearing these things in mind can we believe that peace is possible and that property can be guarded in the island without American help?"

To Buy a Newspaper Plant.

Quintin Banderas arrived yesterday afternoon from Santiago de Cuba. He says he has come to buy the plant for a newspaper at Santiago, to be called "The Cuban Banner," and also to talk over the political programme with the leaders of the Cuban national party of which he is the founder. He declined to offer an opinion regarding the governor general's refusal to pay on the supplementary lists of the Cuban troops, but his attorney remarked that such a refusal, if persisted in, would be attended with great circumstances, as men who had fought for 30 years in behalf of Cuba would not consent to be put off in that fashion.

Would-Be Lynchers in New York.

New York, Sept. 4.—Policeman Patrick O'Keefe, attached to the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street station, was shot through the head and chest yesterday by Michael Farrell, in Farrell's saloon, a notorious dive on Second avenue. O'Keefe will die. Farrell was placed under arrest after a long chase and a desperate fight in which he made further effort to murder. A mob of several thousand persons gathered after the shooting and made a determined effort to lynch the Italian.

SHOOK THE WHOLE CITY.

Explosion, Followed by Fire, at the Republic Iron Works in Pittsburgh, Pa.

FIVE MEN WERE INSTANTLY KILLED.

Several Others Received Injuries Some of Which Will Prove Fatal.—Fire Followed the Explosion, Adding to the Horrors of the Dreadful Disaster.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 2.—A boiler explosion at the Republic iron works on South Twenty-fourth street, shortly before daylight, killed five men and seriously injured seven. Fire which broke out following the explosion, added to the horror. The mill was partly wrecked and the entire plant was compelled to close down. The list of killed and injured is as follows:

The Killed.

David Matthews, heater; married. Thomas Beavens, heater; married. Wm. Thomas heater; married. John Warminski, heater. Unknown man, crushed almost beyond recognition.

The Injured.

Malachi Donohue, 58 years of age, puddler; fatally burned. Neil Donohue, his son, 28 years old; will die. Frederick Herb, 48 years old; will die.

Stephen Macaski. Henry Sanders. Peter Schmitzer. Unknown man, cut about head; left the hospital without giving his name.

Few Men Were Around.

The explosion occurred just as the night force was leaving and the day force was coming off duty, so that there were only a few men in the mill at the time. It occurred in the 14-inch department, and the concussion was terrific. Buildings were shaken a mile away, and dust filled the air for two or three blocks. It entered open windows and nearly suffocated persons who were aroused by the roar and the shock.

The Wreckage Took Fire.

Immediately following the explosion the wreckage took fire, and this added to the difficulties encountered in rescuing the burned and mutilated victims.

A fire alarm was quickly sounded, and in a short time the flames were under control, after which the firemen were employed in searching the ruins for the dead and injured.

Bodies Recovered.

The first two bodies taken out were identified as those of Beavens and Matthews.

The bodies were lying against the wrecked furnace. The men had been knocked down by flying bricks and were roasted to death by the heat from their own furnace.

The others were found soon after and sent to the morgue. The injured were removed to the South Side hospital, where they received prompt attention.

The Boiler's Flight.

When the boiler burst a section of it, weighing four tons, was blown through the roof and crashed into the side of the house of Gregory Sanders, on Wright's alley, about 200 yards distant. The building, which was of frame, was wrecked, but the occupants escaped with a bad fright. This flying portion of the boiler tore down the central supports of the roof which fell in and partially burned some of those injured.

The cause of the explosion has not yet been determined. The damage to the plant was heavy but the firm could not estimate it at this time.

FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION.

Three Men Killed Outright and Five Others Mortally Injured.—Building Totally Wrecked.

Manistee, Mich., Sept. 2.—The boiler in Chapman & Sargent's bowl factory at Copemish, 30 miles north of here, exploded yesterday afternoon, killing three men and fatally injuring four others. The dead are:

Charles Handy. Perry Melafont. George Estabrook.

The following were fatally injured: Oliver Sanders, Robert Peterson, Charles Taylor, Howard Ketcham.

George Rice was severely, but not fatally scalded. The building was totally wrecked, debris being scattered for 80 rods around. Water was immediately thrown on the ruins and fire prevented. Handy, who was the fireman, was found with his head blown completely off. The other men were working at the machines in the mill when the explosion occurred. All but three of them leave families. The loss to the factory will be $5,000.

The Marblehead at San Diego.

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 2.—The United States cruiser Marblehead arrived here at 2 p. m. yesterday.

Considering Military Rates.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 2.—After a session lasting for two days, the Trans-missouri committee of the Western Passenger association concluded its sessions yesterday. The principal matter under discussion was the question of military rates. Trans-missouri roads are vitally interested in this. The movement of the several new regiments now being formed will naturally affect them, as the soldiers must be transported over their roads to the Pacific coast preparatory to embarkings for Manila.

DEMOCRATIC DECLARATION.

Made by Hon. William T. Mooney, Temporary Chairman at the Ohio State Convention.

In his address to the Ohio democratic state convention at Zanesville, August 30, Hon. William T. Mooney, temporary chairman, in the course of his remarks said:

"There will be to-day no contest as to the platform declarations which our party shall make. There is no difference of opinion. The democratic party of Ohio stands squarely upon every plank of the Chicago platform of 1896. We believed it then and we believe it now."

"The people who sent us here do not believe in a double standard of democracy. In 1896 the test was: 'Are you loyal to the platform?' and that is the Ohio test to-day."

"The party in Ohio is too thoroughly honest, too completely convinced, too disinterestedly in earnest, to desire to be misunderstood. The reaffirmation of the national platform does not eliminate and does not fail to both recognize and emphasize that we demand the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver, at the ratio of sixteen to one, without regard to the present or assistance of any nation on earth."

"We believe that the democratization of silver in this country in 1873 was accomplished by fraud and crime; that the action was taken without any demand from the people of the United States, and we decline to believe that blessings have flowed or will flow from legislation so procured and so enacted. We still distrust the new found solicitude of England to promote our material welfare, and we deny the right of the British parliament to participate in the government of this union, in monetary or other matters."

"The leaders of the republican party are committed to a bank currency. Not being able to go into partnership with Europe on the silver question, and recognizing their inability to cope with the question themselves, the republicans have resolved to appoint a receiver for the money question, and their selection for a receiver, not inappropriately, to be the banks of the country. All honest men, however, may be amazed at the effrontery of a party which can maintain a position that the government is unable to sustain an American financial policy and the next moment asserts that the American banks can be relied upon to formulate and carry out a safe and proper financial policy. And we are at a loss to understand why the banks can be charged with this exercise of governmental power, they did not in some manner demonstrate their fitness for the trust in the money famine of 1894, when their vaults were bursting with the accumulated money."

"If there has been an increase in the world's supply of gold, and if that increase has any measure found its way to our mints, and if an increase in our money supply has contributed to our prosperity, as our adversaries state, it follows that we were right in 1896, when we contended that the money supply if increased would result in prosperous times. If it be added that the scale of general prices, excluding only the commodities the manufacture and sale of which is controlled by a trust—that the scale of general prices of all other articles is still on the decline, and if it be further considered that India has been forced by the money power of England to go to the gold standard, and that the bank of England has been for some time and is now making frantic efforts to supply from other sources a gold reserve for its vassal, thus reducing this country's distributive share, it must follow that we are right now in our contention for recognition of the white metal."

"We are pointed to a business revival in the United States and it is argued that this makes most strongly against our position. That there has been a revival none will deny, and that the revival is not confined to this country our adversaries will not contend. Revival of trade in Canada, Germany and Mexico, as well as the United States, proves too much; for the republican party has nothing in common with Germany, holds Mexico as a 'horrible example,' and till it yields up a portion of Alaska will not be reestablished on a parity with Canada. The business revival for which so much is claimed is naught but the reaction succeeding a world panic and a world famine. Such reactions always come, are always marked and are sometimes spasmodic. Business revived after the panics of '87, '92, '94, '96, '97, '98, '99, '00, '01, '02, '03, '04, '05, '06, '07, '08, '09, '10, '11, '12, '13, '14, '15, '16, '17, '18, '19, '20, '21, '22, '23, '24,
