The "count out" in South Carolina gives Hayes 804 majority. The Democratic Governor and State ticket are elected.

Let them throw out the alleged bulldozed Louisiana parishes, and the Democrats will still have a majority. You are beaten, Mr. Packard.—Courier-Journal.

This is an anxious time for the defaulters and thieves in the Government service, whose crimes are yet undetected. Every one of them is hoping and praying that the Returning Board will count in Gov. Hayes.

No party ever before in the history of this country endeavored to hold on to the Government when the people had given it notice to quit. A party of "Moral Ideas" ought to have nicer notions of the ownership of property.

The result of the "count out" of the election is still in doubt. Tilden has a majority of over 300,000 of the popular vote, and with an honest deal has a decided majority of the electoral vote also. What the result will be no man can tell.

The Rings were in favor of Gov. Hayes' election before his defeat, and they are now in favor of counting him in in spite of it. Does any one suppose that there is a corrupt organization in the country that is not anxiously working and waiting for Gov. Hayes' election by count, in the face of his defeat by ballot? The Rings know that Gov. Tilden's accession to the Presidency means political death to them, and they, having failed to prevent it by fair means, will do their best with foul.

Gov. Tilden is the man of destiny. When he was announced as a candidate for the nomination for Governor, every politician predicted that he would never receive it. He got it by a two-thirds vote. Then they predicted his defeat. He was elected by over 50,000 majority. Then they predicted that the delegation from his own State would not support him for the Presidency. That delegation was unanimously instructed for him, and unanimously voted for him. A disastrous failure to receive the nomination was the next prediction. He was nominated on the second ballot by a two-thirds vote. Then his overwhelming defeat was the new prophecy. He received a popular majority of 400,000, and 203 electoral votes, and it was not until twenty-four hours after that the Republicans regained their balance sufficiently to conceive the scheme of fraud they are now maturing. But not even fraud, backed by the whole force of the Administration, can keep him out of the Presidency. His opponents have invariably been brought to naught before, and they will be overthrown again.

Tough On the Returning Board.

Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Commercial.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19, 10:25 p. m.—I have just been looking carefully over election figures at Democratic headquarters. They have certified copies of official returns from 48 parishes. In three parishes the Republicans made the mistake of only putting the name of one district elector upon their ticket; consequently five Hayes electors lost 2,213 votes which the Returning Board cannot restore. The mistake occurred by allowing the local printer to print the tickets, and he supposed that only the district elector and for the State at large were to be voted for in that district. From the certified copies of official returns from forty-eight parishes, and unofficial but reliable returns from the ten remaining parishes, Tilden is ahead 5,248 votes—that is, he is that number of votes ahead of the five Hayes electors who failed to have their names on tickets, and 2,248 ahead of the highest Hayes elector.

The Returning Board will have its hands full to get over this. Even if they throw out the five disputed parishes, Tilden will still be ahead. The mistake of omitting the names of five Hayes electors from the tickets in three parishes may be fatal to the Republican cause. Even the Returning Board cannot count in electors not voted for.

A western lawyer who was defending a man on trial for wife murder, sought euphonious and innocent phrases with which to describe his client's crime, and finally said, "He winnowed her into paradise with a fence rail."

THE COLLECTION.

The Returning Board of Louisiana Commence Operations.

A Fair Count Will Give Tilden a Majority of Over 7,000.

Three of the Board Controlled by Pinchback and Warmoth.

A Curious Feature of the Republican Canvass Disclosed.

The Returning Board of Louisiana commenced work Monday, and the canvass so far tallies with the duplicates in possession of the Democratic Committee, which secures the State to Tilden by a majority of over 7,000. The Board of Florida has done nothing as yet, and it will probably be several days before the result in these States are announced.

The following is the latest from Louisiana:

(Special Dispatch to the Courier-Journal.)
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20.—The Returning Board has at last got to work. They met at noon in the Senate chamber, with an army of officers and clerks, including a squad of police. The presence of the army to protect their deliberations was not apparent, in view of the fact that not half a dozen people except those immediately interested were about the doors. All the doors except one were nailed up to prevent the ingress of the mob, which was not on hand. The white members were very talkative and consequential. The colored members sat in solemn silence.

THE PROGRESS OF THE CANVASS.

Everything went along smoothly to-day, as only three parishes—Avoyelles, Assumption, and Ascension, in which there is no contest, were canvassed. The Tilden committee noted with pleasure, however, that the returns from these parishes tallied exactly with the duplicates in the possession of the Democratic State Committee, and upon which their claim of a majority of over 7,000 for Tilden is based.

WARMOTH AND PINCHBACK.

The report that Warmoth and Pinchback will control three members of the board in furtherance of a scheme to secure the return of a Legislature which will elect both of them to the Senate, one for the long and the other for the short term, gains credence, and excites a good deal of interest. It is known that Kenner and Cazenove, and perhaps another member, are in the interest of Warmoth and Pinchback, and that the latter are opposed to Packard. It is said that they will secure the vote of the State for Hayes, Nicholls, and Warmoth and Pinchback, instead of a Kellogg Legislature.

A CURIOUS FEATURE.

A curious feature of the Republican canvass was disclosed to-day in the discovery of the following communication, a copy of which, the names and figures being changed, was sent by the Secretary of the Republican State Committee to every supervisor of registration in the State. The supervisor is a State officer.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 28th
To the Supervisor of Registration, Parish of Assumption, La.—Dear Sir: It is well known to this committee, from an examination, that the vote in your parish is 2,200 and the Republican majority is 900. You are expected to register and state the full strength of the Republican party in your parish. Your recognition by the State Administration will depend upon your doing your full duty in the premises. And you will not be held to have done your full duty unless the Republican registration in your parish reaches 2,200 and the Republican vote is at least 2,100. All the local candidates and committees are directed to aid you to the utmost in obtaining this result, and every facility is and will be afforded you, but you must obtain the results called for herein, without fail. Once obtained, your recognition will be ample and generous. Very respectfully your obedient servant,
D. J. M. A. JEWETT,
Secretary.

We had rather see Tilden President than Hayes counted in by fraud; and, what is more, we believe Hayes would, too.—Norfolk Bulletin.

So must every honest Republican feel, and so must feel every man who cares to maintain the integrity of our institutions. But we fear that Zach Chandler and Doc Cameron do not take this view of the matter.—New York Sun, Nov. 19th.

He has carried that paper and the Daily Witness on his shoulders as long as could be asked of one man. It is understood that he has sunk not far from fifty thousand dollars on each of these papers."

The Methodist well says: "The retirement of Dr. Talnage from the Christian at Work, his new engagement upon the Advance, and the employment of Dr. W. M. Taylor as editor of the Christian at Work, provoke a comment upon the effort to float religious papers into success upon the names of popular preachers. The obvious fact is that it is a failure. The less known fact is that it is a shame. The great popular preacher does not edit the paper; that is done by some able man, usually kept out of sight, and deprived of his well-earned meed of praise."

The friends of the movement to have God recognized in the United States Constitution will hold a convention in Staunton, Va., Nov. 15. The President, in his call for the convention, states: "The position of the national reform movement is eminently conservative. It proposes, simply, to preserve those Christian usages which have been uniformly observed from the earliest colonial times till the present—usages which have been unchallenged until these latter years. It asks no legal or constitutional changes but such as are necessary, as a safe and secure foundation on which these Christian features of our Government can rest."

The Floor of an Opera House Gives Way—A Scene of Horror.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—A Sacramento dispatch says that last night, during the performance at Moore's opera house, the floor gave way, killing seven and wounding about one hundred spectators. The opera house was situated over a large livery stable on Second street, between K and L, and was formerly used as a State armory, but had recently been converted into a theater by putting up a gallery and a tier of boxes, making the hall capable of seating a thousand. The floor was unsupported except by the usual beams. A vaudeville troupe had engaged the theater, and it being the opening of the establishment the house was crowded. Soon after the performance commenced a sudden sinking of the floor was noticed, accompanied by the cracking of beams, and directly the entire auditorium, carrying with it stage and gallery, was precipitated into the stable beneath. The rear portion was partly supported by stables beneath, and the audience were thrown forward towards the stage. The lights were extinguished by the concussion, and a scene of fearful confusion ensued. The fire alarm struck and in a few moments the department were on the ground, and with the assistance of the police proceeded to rescue the wounded and remove the dead. A great crowd in the meantime assembled, and the excitement was intense. Hundreds crawled from the ruins unaided and uninjured. On clearing away the debris, the following were found dead: S. W. Perry, janitor of the house; Frank Meyer and W. J. Foster, composers in the Record-Union office; Henry Vane; Ezra Woolson, formerly County Treasurer; Michael Foreman and two unknown performers escaped with some bruises. Eddie Peak, of the Swiss bell ringers, and Mrs. Wilson, a variety performer, were most injured, though neither seriously. Many of the wounded were taken from the ruins in a crippled condition, and a number will probably die.

A Good Little Boy.

In ward No. 5, a few evenings ago, a fond mother undertook to teach her little boy the Lord's prayer. The little fellow repeated the words after her until she came to "Give us this day our daily bread," when he paused and seemed to be thinking very hard. At last he said: "There ain't no use asking God for that bread. You can't humbug God that way, ma, for he is everywhere, and he knows we have done eat supper, and he must have seen that big plate of biscuits in the safe, and if we try to fool him he'll catch us out on the fly, first stop."—San Antonio (Texas) Herald.

Signs of a Prosperous Farmer.

When you see his barn larger than his house, it shows that he will have large profits and small afflictions.

When you see him driving his work, instead of his work driving him, it shows that he will never be driven from good resolutions, and that he will certainly work his way to prosperity.

When you always see in his wood-house a sufficiency for three months or more, it shows that he will be a more than ninety-days' wonder, in farming operations, and that he is not sleeping in his house after a drunken frolic.

When he has a house separate from the main building, purposely for ashes, and an iron or tin vessel to transport them, it shows that he never built his dwelling to be a funeral pile for his family, and perhaps himself.

When his shed is housed in summer, and his farming implements covered both in winter and summer, it plainly shows that he will have a good house over his head in the summer of early life, and the winter of old age.

When his cattle are properly shielded and fed in winter, it evidences that he is acting according to Scripture, which says that "a merciful man is merciful to his beast."

When he is seen subscribing for a newspaper, and paying in advance, it shows that he is speaking like a book respecting the latest improvements in agriculture, and that he never gets his walking pants to the land of poverty.

South Bend Tribune: Some extremely curious specimens of stone have been exhibited at this office by Stephen Lovell, who has lately moved here from the vicinity of Terre Haute. Some of them resemble turnips with perfect fidelity, and others have a close likeness to potatoes. Mr. Lovell states that his collection did embrace others still more curious—a stone with a formation exactly like a human foot, others like the hoofs of horses, a cow's horn, a two-story house, etc. The stones were picked up on Honey Creek, fifteen miles southeast of Terre Haute. Mr. Lovell says that these specimens may be found for a distance of about two hundred yards by the wagon load.

Let's, the clerk of Cook county, Ill., finding that the returns from sixteen towns were unaccompanied by the essential tallysheet, has announced his purpose to reject them. The Republicans are in a terrible state of indignation, as the throwing out of these returns will defeat a number of Republican candidates, among whom is Shelby Cullum, gubernatorial candidate, and possibly throw the electoral vote of the State for Tilden.
