SATURDAY, JULY 27, 1878.

A general attendance is requested, as business of importance will be brought before the meeting.

JAMES F. STUCKER,

Chairman D. C. C.

Hon. R. P. Main, of New Albany, candidate for State Treasurer on the National ticket, was introduced to the Greenback Mass Meeting Saturday and was loudly applauded. We are of the opinion that there would have been much less applause on that occasion if those present had known that he was, and is, a director in two, and stockholder in three, National Banks.

That Lick Creek "voter" in last week's Republican has certainly been taking a Rip Van Winkle sleep, or thought the readers of that paper had been doing so and were not posted in regard to the matters about which he attempted to write. His claim that the Republican party left the State free from debt has so long since been proven false that no person, except he be a fool or a knave, now asserts such a thing. The new State House references are equally unfortunate for he certainly knows that it was a Republican Legislature that fastened that scheme upon the people. He is also afraid that Mr. Potter's investigating committee will "Mexicanize" our government. Every criminal in the land no doubt thinks he is being Mexicanized just as soon as the officers of the law begin to investigate his crimes. We do not say that "voter" is a criminal, but he evidently sympathizes with those who committed the dastardly frauds, forgeries and perjuries by which Hayes stole the Presidency. He berates the Congress just closed for doing so little, but isn't honest enough to tell that a Republican Senate, the next one will be Democratic, locked the wheels of legislation and stubbornly resisted, and in many cases defeated, the measures inaugurated in the Democratic House for the relief of the people. He closes his remarkable article by a "bloody shirt" appeal in behalf of the Republican party, forgetting that the war, in which we venture he took no part, has been over for about thirteen years. He is a wonderful man, that voter is. He'll "look above party" — in a word, X.

Democrats of Orange County, be true to your ancient faith; stand firmly by that grand old party with which you have so long been identified, and for the success of which you have so heroically battled in the past. Don't desert its ranks now when we are upon the eve of success. Day is breaking; there is light ahead. Let us make one more determined and combined effort and success is certain. With the success of the Democratic party, all the financial, and other, reforms you are demanding are assured. The Democratic party is the peoples party; it is pledged to carry out all that you are demanding. It is the only party that has the numbers, discipline and organization to successfully battle with the Republican party, which has brought upon the country the evils you are complaining of. It now controls the popular branch of our National Legislature; that the next Senate will also be Democratic, Republicans admit. Every desertion from its ranks weakens its chances of success and strengthens that of our common enemy. Stand firm.

In his speech before the Greenback Mass Meeting Saturday, Mr. Jos. Cox took the board of Commissioners to task for not publishing the allowances made by them in all of the county papers, instead of the News alone; saying that "everybody didn't read Buskirk's paper." In the first place Mr. Cox is mistaken, everybody does read our paper, and, in the next place, the law requires them to publish it in the paper having the largest circulation in the county, (we hope this reference to circulation won't make Joey, and "old experience," of the Republican, mad), provided, it can be done at a cost not to exceed five cents for each allowance. In obedience to law they have them published in the News, on account of its circulation and are not authorized to have them published in more than one paper, but there is nothing to prohibit the other papers from copying them, either from the Auditor's records, or from our columns, for the benefit of their reader, as we used to do before the passage of the law requiring their publication.

Hon. W. A. Taylor, of Dubois county, who received the nomination for State Senator is about 35 years of age, a clever gentleman and possesses abilities that eminently fit him for the responsible position to which he aspires and to which his nomination insures his election. While claiming nothing for ourself we thought, and still think, that Orange county was entitled to the candidate, but the convention decided otherwise. That decision is to us a law, and no one will more heartily or cheerfully support Mr. Taylor than will the writer, who was his opponent for the nomination. He will receive the unanimous and hearty support of the Democracy of Orange county.

While at the Shoals attending the convention last week we had the pleasure of meeting the following well known newspaper folk: O. O. Stealy, of the Courier Journal; Capt. Potters, of the New Albany Ledger-Standard; Miss Laura Ream, of the Cincinnati Commercial; Mr. Waters, of the Central Catholic; Dr. A. J. Thomas, of the Cincinnati Inquirer; S. Belding, of the Davis County Democrat; R. E. Purcell, of the Vincennes Sun; Murray Briggs, of the Sullivan Democrat; W. P. Knight, of the Pike County Democrat; Mr. Alford, of the Bloomfield Democrat; Hughes East, of the Indianapolis Sentinel; C. Duane, of the Jasper Courier, and Alex Chomel, of the Loogootee Times.

If any person shall pull off and carry away any corn growing on the stock or any fruit on the tree, pumpkins or melons on the vine, or any other annual product attached to the earth or growing in the soil, or the value of ten cents or upwards, he shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars and may be imprisoned not exceeding six months, and any person concerned in the commission of any such offense shall be compelled to testify against the others. Sec. 76, page 497, 2 Revised Statutes Ind.

This law includes peaches, apples, pears, plums, potatoes, &c. Any person guilty of violating the above statute will certainly be prosecuted to the extent of the law.

And it is known that persons are stealing peaches off the trees not far from Paoli. Stop it before it is too late. You are known.

After the reading of the resolutions they were unanimously adopted.

Messrs. Green and Ripple, of New Albany, were introduced to the meeting, and made able and telling speeches.

Hon. R. P. Main, the Greenback candidate for State Treasurer, was Secretaries.

PAOLI, IND., July 13, 1878.

ED. NEWS—A great many persons, mostly Republicans and deserters from Democratic ranks, are engaged at their usual "dirty-slinging," etc., against the various Democratic candidates and in favor of their own. More especially is this the case with Mr. Speer. There is nothing too mean to be said of him, nothing too low for them to stoop to influence parties to vote for Mr. Hunt. While admitting that Mr. Hunt has qualities that recommend him, yet we deny the assertion that Mr. Speer is not in every way capable of filling the office, as much so as Mr. Hunt. Mr. Speer has been tried and proven faithful, as the records will show or any one can see by visiting the board while in session. We would say to such persons to either prove their sayings or else forever after hold their peace. The assertion that Hunt will be elected remains to be tested, and the returns at the October election will find him like a cow's tail—behind.

During the absence of the committee, Hon. Samuel Wallingford, of Monroe county, being introduced to the meeting, by the President, proceeded to address the meeting, on the Greenback Policy. His speech was able and to the point, and was listened to with marked attention. At the conclusion of his remarks, the committee on resolutions reported the following:

SENTIMENTS OF THE INDEPENDENT GREENBACK MEN OF ORANGE COUNTY.

We, the Independent Greenback men of Orange county, feeling the ruin, burthen of taxation, and prostration of business, resulting from National Legislation, do hereby declare the following as our sentiments on the questions now agitating the country:

1. An unconditional repeal of the Specie Resumption act.

2. An immediate repeal of the National Bank Law, and issue of greenbacks by the Government for like amount, made legal tender in the payment of all debts, both public and private.

3. The payment, according to the original contract, of the thirteen hundred millions of bonds now outstanding, so that the burthen of taxation may be equally born by the rich and the poor.

5. We denounce the spirit of extravagance exhibited by our rulers, in raising the salaries of officers, from County Commissioners to President, at a time when our nation was bearing the burthen of a debt of more than two billions of dollars.

6. As the resumption of specie payment is a trick of National Legislation to increase the purchasing power of money by decreasing its volume, we demand the payment of the bonds in greenbacks to an amount sufficient to relieve the debtor class from bankruptcy and ruin.

After the Congressional Convention was over the Senatorial Convention for the district composed of the counties of Martin, Dubois and Orange was held. There were but two candidates, Hon. Wm. A. Taylor, of Dubois, and Theos. B. Buskirk, of Orange. Four ballots resulted in a tie, but on the fifth ballot Mr. Taylor received a majority of all the votes cast and was declared nominated. There were full 6,000 people present and every thing passed off pleasantly.

While at Shoals last week Hon. D. W. Voorhees informed the writer that he would arrange his appointments so as to enable him to make a speech here at an early day. Mr. Voorhees's coming will be greeted by thousands of the toiling masses, by whom he is idolized on account of his able and fearless championship of their cause in the halls of Congress as well as upon the stump. There is no man in Indiana that has a firmer hold upon the hearts of the people than Dan Voorhees, the great Democratic Greenback orator and statesman.

The Greenback mass meeting Saturday was very well attended, many of those present, however, being there from curiosity. A Greenback club was organized consisting, as we are informed, of about 60 members. No nominations for county offices were made, nor have we learned what they intend doing in that direction.

This law includes peaches, apples, pears, plums, potatoes, &c. Any person guilty of violating the above statute will certainly be prosecuted to the extent of the law.

Bring me your produce and get the highest market price for it.

Mrs. E. J. Beschman.
