

Richmond:

SATURDAY, JULY 10, 1824.

— I am requested to say that the Rev. Elias Vickers, will preach in the school house, on Thursday evening next, at early candle light.

INDIAN MURDERERS.

Two of the prisoners who were arrested for the Murder of the Indians in Madison county, broke jail on the 4th instant, and made their escape. The sheriff offers a reward of two hundred dollars for their apprehension, or one hundred for either of them. Their names are John T. Bridge, and Andrew Sawyer. "BRIDGE is a little bald headed, had on a brown coloured coat, tow linen pantaloons. SAWYER is of a rather dark complexion, hard of hearing, speaks Dutch tolerably well—had on a blue linsey coat and linen pantaloons."

CAUTION.

— The friends of Mr. Adams throughout the state, are warned to be on their guard, as I am well assured that a plot is getting up, to bring forward other electoral candidates than those already before the public. The name of James Snowden has already been announced. The plot commenced among some limbs of the law in Union county; those engaged are known, and, unless they desist, shall be held up to the public scorn and contempt.

Editors, throughout the state, friendly to Mr. Adams, would do well to warn the people of this nefarious plan.

WONDERS.

A paper printed at Vevay, publishes the names of all the Presidential candidates, and affixes to the name of Mr. Adams' the words, "Washington City Caucus Candidate"! When was Mr. Adams nominated by a caucus held at Washington? Will the editor publish the names of those who attended?

The editor of the Brookville paper says the Adams electoral Ticket was "brought out by the caucus at Corydon"! Pray how was the Clay ticket "brought out"? Is not a ticket "brought out" by a majority of the Legislature, far more respectable, than one "brought out" by some five or six Lawyers, who took especial good care to nominate themselves?

The Vevay editor says: "A writer in the Liberty Hall, of Cincinnati, states that John Q. Adams is at this moment a slave holder." This writer was publicly called upon for his proof, but never gave it; the proof he thought, was not material; the charge was made, and that was all he could do. But what should be said of those who echo such foul calumnies?

The editor of the Brookville paper says Mr. Adams is a federalist, and proves it by an article from the pen of Noah, editor of the New York National Advocate! and promises more proof from the pen of Dawson, the editor of the Cincinnati Advertiser! Verily he must be hard run when such men are brought forward as witnesses.

An anonymous writer in a Cincinnati paper insinuates that Mr. Adams is a Deist, under the garb of Unitarianism? And another anonymous writer in the Eaton paper supposes him to be an Episcopalian, and draws the sage conclusion that he would establish a National Church! Thus a man who has lived for more than forty years in the practice of every christian duty is reproached for it. The purity of his morals and the integrity of his heart is by the basest perversion made a cause of censure!

Such things are hardly worth noticing, but they serve to show with what Munchausen tales some attempt to gull and deceive the people.

A meeting of the friends of Mr. Adams was held at Springfield, Clark county, Ohio, on the 28th ult. Resolutions were passed approving his principles and abilities, and pledging themselves to support the Adams Electoral Ticket.

A large and respectable meeting of the citizens of Washington county, was held at Marietta, Ohio, on the 9th ult. for the purpose of nominating a suitable candidate for the Presidential chair:—José Quincy ADAMS was unanimously nominated for President, and Andrew Jackson for Vice-President.

The Miami Republican says:—"The Piqua Gazette, published in Miami county, has become the advocate of Mr. Adams. Every mail brings fresh intelligence from every part of this state, and indeed, from almost every part of the Union, that the American people are determined to reward the talents, patriotism, integrity and republican virtue of Mr. Adams, with the first office within their gift."

INTEGRITY.—The editor of the Harrisonburg (Va.) Register, [who is warmly devoted to Mr. Crawford,] confesses, in his last number, with a candour and nobleness characteristic of the true Virginian, that—

"On calm reflection, we are led to believe, that WE MAY NOT ALWAYS HAVE DONE JUSTICE, to the high character of Mr. JOHN Q. ADAMS. We apprehend we have rather misunderstood his motives, and ascribed to him sentiments at variance with his principles; and foreign to the general tenor of his life. 'To err is human'—to acknowledge error, commendable. We are not afraid to do right, nor ashamed to retract our steps, when Justice demands it."

PROVIDENCE, R. I. June 10.

CONVENTION.—The Delegates elected agreeably to an act of the General Assembly, will meet in Newport, on the 21st. to form a written constitution. Our present Charter of Government, if such it may be called, we have had nearly two hundred years. In 1644, Roger Williams visited England, as agent of the settlers in this state, and obtained of the Earl of Warwick, one of the Plymouth company, a free charter of incorporation for Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. In 1662, a royal charter was granted to them, by Charles II. This charter constituted an assembly, consisting of a governor, deputy, and ten senators, with the representatives from the several towns, all to be chosen by the freemen. In this charter will be recognized our present State Government.

— NOTICE.—

THE subscriber earnestly requests all those indebted to him either by note or book account, to call and discharge their bills within ten days.—Being about to quit business in Richmond, it is essentially necessary that my books should be closed. JAMES MAGUIRE.

Richmond, June 25, 1824. 18—St.

I HEREBY inform the citizens of Wayne county, that I am authorized, and have commenced the Collection of Revenues for the present year, under the regulations of the new law on that subject, which provides that the collector shall receive the taxes at his office, at the county seat; and is very severe indeed, on the collector, in case of default in paying over the money to the treasury exactly at the time specified by law. You will therefore perceive the necessity the collector is under of coercing payment.—I am well aware of the "hardships of times," and the great "scarcity of money," yet as the law makes no provisions for indulgence on that account, I can assure the people no indulgence can or will be given; and I hope, the people will exert themselves to settle their tax immediately. Non-resident owners of land or town lots, or their agents, are informed that I will advertise for sale, all such land or town lots remaining unpaid, on the first of August next.

I will attend at my office in Centreville, on Fridays and Saturdays, in each week, until the 20th day of July next, for the purpose of receiving taxes.

Those in arrears for 1823, are particularly requested to call and discharge the same.

SAMUEL HANNAH, Sheriff, W. C.

June 7th, 1824. 14—St.

Notice is hereby given,

TO the Non-resident owners of the following Lots in the town of Richmond, that if the Corporation Tax for the years 1819, 1820, 1821, 1822, and 1824, be not paid before the 2d day of August next, they will, on that day, be exposed to sale, or so much of them as will discharge the tax due, together with the cost of sale, &c.

Sale to commence at 10 o'clock, at the house of Ephraim Lacey.
