

the crown of Great Britain. He stands alone—the being of another age. As long and as far as liberal principles shall be revered, will the names of ADAMS and of JEFFERSON be cherished, and recorded on the same glowing tablet with those of WASHINGTON and FRANKLIN.

ISAAC B. DESHA made an attempt, on the 8th inst. to take his own life. He cut his wind-pipe; but it was thought that the wound would not prove fatal.

EXECUTION OF BEAUCHAMP.—At Frankfort, of Friday, the 7th inst. J. O. Beauchamp paid the forfeit of his life for the violation of the laws of his country by the murder of Col. Sharp: between 5 and 6000 persons were supposed to be present.—During the morning, one of the most tragical scenes transpired that we have ever read of; it appears Mrs. Beauchamp had some days previous, procured a quantity of dynamite, which she supposed would have been sufficient to have terminated the existence of herself and husband. They both took it—but it proved insufficient to accomplish the object. On the morning of the execution, Mrs. Beauchamp having entered the dungeon, provided with a case knife, filed to a sharp point, with which it appears, that after being in a short time she stabbed herself twice below the breast, having previously made a solemn declaration not to survive her husband, which proved mortal in about half an hour.—Beauchamp immediately after stabbed himself in the abdomen, and was prevented from killing himself by the interference of his wife before she died. The noise caused alarm, and the guards rushed in and the scene was truly horrid; both found sheltering in their blood, he was notwithstanding, carried out on a wagon to the place of execution on the brow of the hill joining Frankfort, where he met his fatal fate.—Dayton Watchman.

VIRGINIA.—The long drought in this State was succeeded by the fall of mighty rains—bridges, mills, factories and crops were swept away by resistless torrents, and the choicest parts of whole counties present only scenes of devastation, such as never before were witnessed. The damage, at one point, amounted to $40,000. The flood has been general—the papers say to be filled with accounts of destruction, and the aggregate loss must have been several hundred thousand dollars. The "mountain streams" have all been deluged far beyond their usually highest waters, and the inhabitants on the borders all have suffered. James' river has discharged a vast quantity of water.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—About 34 or 35 buildings were destroyed by fire at Charleston, on the morning of the 24th ult.—loss estimated at $100,000.

THE Georgetown Gazette of the 23d inst. says—"a second crop of corn was planted yesterday in Georgetown, for this year's growth."

CONNECTICUT.—The late house of assembly of this state, consisted of 206 members; these, 126 were farmers, 36 were merchants, 30 were lawyers, 18 were mechanics and manufactures, and six were physicians.—Niles.

OBITUARY.

DIED.—In the vicinity of this place, last evening, Miss RACHEL THOMPSON, in the 23d year of her age.

A great and good man has fallen—THOMAS JEFFERSON, the liberal and the just, the wise and the good, hath departed from works to rewards. He left us on the 4th instant, at 10 minutes before one o'clock, the 50th anniversary of the day, and possibly, at the hour when he stood in the presence of the revolutionary congress, and tendered to HANCOCK the great charter—the declaration of independence, of which he was the author: and he died too, while grateful millions were celebrating the glorious jubilee of freedom, and a thousand cannons had just made, as it were, an "appeal to heaven" for the preservation of the rights and liberties of the people of the United States, through ages on ages—long as the Alleghenies shall stand on their basis, or the Mississippi roll his waters into the sea. He was born April 2, 1743.

I am afraid to trust myself, at present, to do much more than mention the fact of the decease of our venerable and illustrious friend—whose principles will be referred to as authority and govern public opinion in many great questions affecting the rights of man and the necessary and proper powers of government instituted for his benefit, as with the force of "holy writ," in respect to other and yet more important matters—for he was, indeed, "the apostle of democracy;" and his life and conduct corresponded with his professions of attachment to the whole human family—his fellow beings, "created free and equal, and endowed by their creator with certain natural and inalienable rights, such as life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." The simplicity and the goodness of his heart, were only to be equalled by the steadiness and zeal with which he labored to enlighten and improve mankind. He lived long enough to witness the splendid success of his efforts, and even to mature the last child of his care, the university of Virginia—a monument of his assiduity, even in the last moments of his invaluable life, to benefit and bless the people whom he loved. May he rest in peace! "The earth hath returned to the dust as it was, and the spirit to GOD who gave it"—but his memory will be sweet to uncounted multitudes, and happily associated with those of Washington and Franklin, so long as history shall endure and virtue have a votary amongst men.—Niles.

We stop the press to announce, that, by the arrival of the steam boat Eliza, we have the sad intelligence of the death of the venerable JOHN ADAMS. He died on the fourth of July. Thus two of those patriots who signed the Declaration of Independence, and two ex Presidents, just 50 years afterwards took their departure to the realms of bliss. A very remarkable coincidence!—National Crisis, July 17.

Vertical Spinner.

THE SUBSCRIBER takes this method to inform the public that he has purchased the exclusive right of JOHN BROWN'S patent

VERTICAL SPINNER.

For the County of Wayne, Indiana, and that he will furnish Machines upon the shortest notice, at the rate of SIXTEEN DOLLARS EACH, with a reasonable credit, if required. This machine is well calculated for duration, very simple in its construction, and will produce more yarn from the roll than four common wheels, with less labour, and of a superior quality. The subscriber wishes not to recommend these labour-saving machines higher than they will recommend themselves by their utility; but that persons desirous of purchasing them would call at RICHMOND, or at NEWPORT, in New-Garden township, where they will be kept in operation, and examine their merits for themselves.

NATHAN SMITH.

Richmond, May 9th, 1826.

The following certificate and recommendations were copied from G. Coffeen's advertisement, in a Lebanon paper:

Waynesville, Ohio, August 6, 1825.

WE, the undersigned, certify, that Mrs. Worrell, of this place, did spin three cuts and sixty threads handsome woollen yarn, from the roll, in thirty minutes, on a VERTICAL SPINNER, of six spindles, exhibited in this place, by Mr. Coffeen.

H. LATHROP,
JOHN WORRELL.

Lebanon, Ohio, July 22, 1825.

Having seen the VERTICAL SPINNER in operation, I take much pleasure, in compliance with the request of Mr. Coffeen, who has acquired an interest in the patent right, to state my opinion of it.—It appears to me, that it is well adapted to the saving of much labour, and that it recommends itself to the public patronage, by that consideration, as well as by its great cheapness and utility.

HENRY CLAY.

July 18, 1825.

I have seen a spinning machine, called the VERTICAL SPINNER, exhibited during the last session of the Legislature of New-York, at Albany, by Mr. West, and I then concurred in the general opinion, then entertained in favor of its utility, and I have no reason since to change that opinion.

DEAR SIR,
