The regular meetings of the County Alliance are on the first Saturday of each month. A full attendance is very much desired at each meeting.

The Republican in its last issue calls our attention to some of the resolutions adopted by the executive committee of the State Alliance, at its recent meeting in Indianapolis. Brother, those resolutions are all right, right because the PILOT people made them. This executive board, to whose resolutions you refer, is composed of three members, two of whom, the president and secretary, are stockholders in the PILOT Publishing Co. The secretary of this state board controls more stock in the PILOT company than any two men in it, and to him, perhaps, more than to any other one man belongs the honor of establishing our paper here. Oh yes, the resolutions are all "O. K." They could not be otherwise, coming from the source they do. Why did you not print all of them? How does the one demanding the stamping of notes by the assessor strike you? Please give us your opinion of this one in next week's issue.

The Republican is still comparing and contrasting the figures of our late elections, and from its investigations seems to get a deal of comfort and a world of information. To show that the Peoples' party, in this county, drew more from the Republicans than from the Democrats, it compares the election of 1888 with 1892 and learns that 290 Republicans to 100 Democrats and 12 Prohibitionists joined the ranks of the calamity howlers. To show that its party is healthy, growing and satisfied, it compares the vote of 1895 with 1892 and finds a Republican gain of 15 per cent. In spite of this 15 per cent increase somehow Mr. Republican, while your majorities, in 1890, ranged from 318 down to 122, this year they range from 42 down to 17 minus.

If your 15 per cent. Republican gain let the People's man into the recorder's office, brought your majorities of 318 to 122 down to 42 to 17, you had better get the boy who figured the cat out of the well, to show you where another 15 per cent. gain will put your party.

The first coins issued from the U. S. mint were the copper cent and half cent. A cent of this coinage contained 260 grains of pure copper. These coins were made under the law of 1792. In 1857 a new coinage law made a one-cent coin composed of 88 parts copper and 12 parts nickel, to take the place of the pure copper coins of 1792. These coins were made a legal tender though they were of less weight, and of less commercial value than the ones they supplanted. In 1864, another coinage act was passed which gave us a new one-cent and two-cent piece; the cent weighing 48 grains, 95 parts copper and 5 parts tin or zinc. Now, one hundred of these, our last one-cent pieces, contain 480 grains, while one hundred of our first ones contained 26,000 grains, yet the law made them of the same money value. In 1882 a pound of these metals, which compose this one and two-cent pieces, was worth twenty cents and a pound of it would make 160 one-cent pieces, worth $1.60. Here we have 20 cents worth of material changed into $1.60 legal tender value and all done by an act of congress. Here is 20 cents worth of intrinsic value and 140 cents worth of "fiat" value. If congress has the power, through the use of the money stamp of the government, to raise the value of a pound of metal this way has it not the power to raise the value of any other material upon which it chooses to impress the government's money stamp? If government can make $1.40 out of nothing, can it not, does it not, really make millions out of nothing? Money is a measure of value, a medium of exchange created by law, hence a creature of law. It is not intrinsic value that makes money, it is not for the intrinsic worth of that piece of paper or that lump of metal that we are willing to exchange our labor, but it is for the legal value of the "stuff" we call money that we are all willing to work.

Gold.

In the debate in the United States senate, February 15, 1878, on the Bland silver bill, Mr. Ingalls, who voted for the bill, said of the gold basis: "No people in a great emergency ever found a faithful ally in gold. It is the most cowardly and treacherous of all metals. It makes no treaty it does not break. It has no friends it does not sooner or later betray. Armies and nations are not maintained by gold. In times of panic and calamity, shipwreck and disaster, it becomes the agent and minister of ruin. No nation ever fought a great war by the aid of gold. On the contrary, in the crisis of the greatest peril, it becomes an enemy more potent than the foe in the field; but when the battle is won and peace has been secured, gold reappears and claim the fruits of victory. In our own civil war it is doubtful if the gold of New York and London did not work us greater injury than the powder and lead and iron of the rebels. It was the most invincible enemy of the public credit. Gold never paid no soldier or sailor. It was worth most when our fortunes were the lowest. Every defeat gave its increased value. It was an open alliance with our enemies the world over, and all its energies were evoked for our destruction. But as usual, when danger had been averted and the victory secured, gold swaggered to the front and secured supremacy."

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's new discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. If you have never used this great cough medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at F. B. Meyer's drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.

For more than twenty years it has had a circulation of 100,000 to 200,000, going regularly into every state and territory of the Union. From fifteen to twenty-five tons of print paper is consumed in each week's edition, and it is regularly mailed to more than half the postoffices in the United States. Besides all the news of the world, it has serial and short stories, wit and humor, poetry, campfire, farm, Sunday school lessons, young folks, poultry, puzzles, household, answers to correspondents, etc., etc.

As a special feature for 1893, Mr. Robinson Locke, editor and proprietor of the BLADE, has just sailed for Japan, and will contribute a series of illustrated letters on the manners and customs of that peculiar country and its people. These articles will be commenced some time in February or March, and will be worth to the readers of the BLADE many times the subscription price, every reader of this paper is invited to send for a specimen copy. The publishers of the BLADE would be glad to send a specimen copy to every reader in this county. Subscription price of the BLADE, one dollar a year.

Five dollars in cash will be paid to any person sending in a small club of subscribers. Write for agent's terms, giving particulars. Address "THE BLADE, TOLEDO, OHIO."

Stricken Down with Heart Disease.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
GENTLEMEN: I feel it my duty, as well as pleasure, to publish, unsolicited, to the world the benefit received from DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE REMEDY. I was stricken down with Heart Disease and its complications a rapid pulse varying from 90 to 140 beats per minute, a choking or burning sensation in the wind pipe, oppression in the chest, much pain in the region of the heart and below lower ribs, pain in the arms, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, weakness and general debility. The arteries in my neck would throb violently, the throbbing of my heart could be heard across a large room and would shake my whole body. I was so nervous that I could not hold my hand steady. I have been under the treatment of eminent physicians, and have taken gallons of Patent Medicines without the least benefit. A friend recommended your remedies. She was cured by Dr. Miles' remedies. I have taken three bottles of your New Heart Cure and two bottles of Nervine. My pulse is normal, I have no more violent throbbing of the heart, I am a well man. I sincerely recommend every one with symptoms of Heart Disease to take Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies and be cured.
