Monon's Steamboat Line.

The Monon route is making extensive preparations for hauling a big crowd this year. Last season a large sum of money was expended in putting the Michigan City branch in good condition, and it will be operated the coming summer as a part of the Monon's lake and rail line for a general excursion business.

Two steamers have been chartered to run from Michigan City to Jackson Park and Chicago harbor in connection with the road. One boat will carry 3,000 passengers and the other has a capacity of 1,100. The trains bringing excursionists will arrive at Michigan City in the evening. Their passengers will be transferred to the steamers, which will leave about midnight for Jackson park. The run by boat is about four hours, but the passengers will be allowed to remain in their berths until morning. The boats will go on to Chicago harbor, taking those down town who wish to see the city first. In the evening they will call again at the park and take excursionists back to Michigan City, where trains will be in readiness for the passengers. Its boat line will give the Monon quite an advantage in extending low rates to people along its line. The boats can take passengers from Michigan City for 50 cents and then make good money out of the traffic. This is far cheaper than the road could do it by rail.

A full vested train will be run from Atlanta to Chicago throughout the season. Extra train service will be added by sections with the schedule the way it is now. The road has added materially to its equipment. Ten new coaches were built last year, and twenty-five more are now under way. Three parlor diners are also under construction. New locomotives, of heavy build and especially designed for fast running, are also being built. Preparatory for its immense traffic the Monon spent $1,000,000 the last year on its roadbed. General Passenger Agent James Barker says the outlook is favorable for a great traffic.

The Monon, like most other roads, is not prepared to announce its position on excursion rates. The road by its steamboat connection can handle an immense traffic without causing a glut of trains on its Chicago division, and as the boats must be kept running it is likely that rates will be made which will give them passengers. Two or three excursions by way of Michigan City were given last summer and the railroad officials were simply astonished at the number of people crowding into their trains for a trip to Chicago.

It has been well said that a man who does not take a newspaper, because it will require an outlay of a dollar, has a poor idea of economy. He would probably be surprised if one should suggest that it is as much his duty to provide his family with food for the brain as with victuals and clothing for the body. The farmer who exacts from his children constant employment or drudgery on the farm, and does not take a newspaper, so that his family may pleasantly while away their leisure hours and acquire knowledge of county facts and events, should not be surprised if his children exhibit that uncouthness which comes from complete ignorance of thoughts and achievements.

The Indiana Senate has passed the bill appropriating $25,000 additional for the removal of the limestone ledge from the Kankakee river at Momence. A report submitted by the commissioners showed that the work could be let at 83 cents per cubic yard, or a total cost of about $57,000; that $34,000 of the original appropriation was unexpended, and that Messrs. Shely and Cass, large land owners along the Kankakee, had agreed to pay all cost for the improvement over the contract price. The work will be begun as early in the spring as possible. This would seem to indicate that the question had finally been decided for good, and that the rock will be moved.—Kentland Enterprise.

Catholic Notes.

The students of the college had a gala day last Wednesday. The program consisted of speeches recalling the heroic deeds of the great immortal Washington, the father of our country, and an entertainment by the Columbian Literary Society, concluding with enthusiastic singing of several national songs.

The golden jubilee of the Pope was celebrated in a most appropriate manner last Sunday. The Rev. B. Boebner preached an impressive sermon on the papal dignity and its responsibility.

The young ladies Sodality met last Sunday and elected the following officers: President, Miss Amzie Beck; Secretary, Miss Annie Meyer; Treasurer, Miss Annie Nagle. The officers deserve credit for their efforts in making the Sodality so prominent. The membership is larger than ever.

Sixty Years Bondage

Dear Sir— I have been afflicted with Asthma over sixty years. I tried everything on me, both gave me up to do. I have taken three different cures, and all have failed. I am better than I have been for over fifty years. I am my own work, and with every one who is afflicted with it, I give them the same advice.

Yours truly, MRS. MARY HUNTER.
