

IRREGULARITY.
Is that what troubles you? Then it's easily and promptly remedied by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They regulate the system perfectly. Take one for a gentle laxative or corrective; three for a cathartic.

If you suffer from Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick or Bilious Headaches, or any derangement of the Liver, stomach, or bowels, try these little Pellets. They bring a permanent cure. Instead of shocking and weakening the system with violence, like the ordinary pills, they act in a perfectly easy and natural way. They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

“German Syrup”

Boschee's German Syrup is more successful in the treatment of Consumption than any other remedy prescribed. It has been tried under every variety of climate. In the bleak, bitter North, in damp New England, in the fickle Middle States, in the hot, moist South—everywhere. It has been in demand by every nationality. It has been employed in every stage of Consumption. In brief it has been used by millions and it's the only true and reliable Consumption Remedy. ®

DR. KILMER'S SWAMP ROOT
THE GREAT KIDNEY, LIVER AND BLADDER CURE.
Diabetes, Excessive quantity and high colored urine, La Gripe, Cures the bad after effects of this trying epidemic and restores lost vigor and vitality. Impure Blood, Eczema, scrofula, malaria, pimplies, blotches. General Weakness, Constitution all run down, loss of ambition, and a disinclination to all sorts of work.

Guarantee—Use contents of One Bottle, if not satisfied, Druggists will refund you the price paid.

At Druggists, 50c. Size, $1.00 Size. "Invalid's Guide to Health" free—Consultation free.

DR. KILMER & CO., BINGHAMTON, N. Y.

Fresh Air and Exercise.
Get all that's possible of both, if in need of flesh strength and nerve force. There's need, too, of plenty of fat-food.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil builds up flesh and strength quicker than any other preparation known to science.

Scott's Emulsion is constantly effecting Cure of Consumption, Bronchitis and kindred diseases where other methods FAIL.

Prepared by Scott & Bowne, N. Y. All druggists.

Unlike the Dutch Process
No Alkalies —OR—Other Chemicals are used in the preparation of
W. BAKER & CO'S Breakfast Cocoa which is absolutely pure and soluble.
It has more than three times the strength of Cocoa mixed with Starch, Arrowroot or Sugar, and far more economical costing less than one cent a cup. It is delicious, nourishing, and EASILY DIGESTED.

Sold by Grocers everywhere.
W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

Dr. BULLE'S COUGH SYRUP
THE PEOPLE'S REMEDY. PRICE 25c.
Salvation Oil Try it Painless.

NOTHING LIKE S.S.S.

SWIFT'S SPECIFICO is truly unlike any other blood medicine. It cures diseases of the blood and skin by removing the poison and at the same time supplies good blood to the wasted parts. Don't be imposed on by substitutes which are said to be just as good, it is not true. No medicine has performed as many wonderful cures, or relieved so much suffering.

“My blood was badly poisoned last year, which got my whole system out of order—diseased and a constant source of suffering, no appetite and no enjoyment of life. Two bottles of S.S.S. brought me right out. There is no better remedy for blood diseases.”

JOHN GAVIN, Dayton, Ohio.

Treatise on blood and skin diseases mailed free.

SWIFT'S SPECIFICO CO., Atlanta, Ga.

INDIANA STATE NEWS.

A LEAGUE of young ladies has been formed in Shelbyville with thirty-one signers up to date, who say they will not wear hoop skirts.

EDWIN STUART, manager of the opera house, a prominent Elk and a well-known actor, died at his home in Logansport, of paresis. He was buried in Chicago.

HENRY NELSON, a workman at the Stiner chilled plow works, in South Bend, was fatally injured by the fragments of a broken emery wheel. One cheek was crushed, and the right eye will have to be removed.

LITTLE river is up, and ten squares of Huntington are flooded. Albert Glieck's two-story house and a barn on Samuel Johnson's property were demolished. Heavy ice did the business.

The Cleveland club, of Indianapolis, has been assigned to the first division, next to Tammany, in the inaugural parade.

AT Martinsville Mrs. Jos. Felix, aged 85 years, fell on the icy pavement a few days ago. She thought she was little, if any, hurt at first. Later, one of her limbs turned red black and she went to bed, dying in great agony. She left a husband and two children.

A MAIL pouch thrown off at Orleans was cut open and robbed.

The Fielding sisters, evangelists, are doing good work in the vicinity of West Fork.

The people of Dublin are up in arms about the starting of a saloon there.

THE Indiana house of representatives passed a bill taxing the receipts of foreign building and loan associations, also subjecting them to inspection and requiring them to deposit $50,000 with the auditor to protect local shareholders.

THE new city directory will give Muncie a population of 19,783. The census report of '80 gave Muncie 5,219. In '90 the population was 11,845; eighteen months ago the Emerson directory people issued a book that gave the city about 14,000. The growth is wonderful.

MILAN is about to begin a bank. At a meeting held recently to inaugurate the enterprise ninety-one shares of stock were subscribed. Milan is a village of 300 to 400 inhabitants. There are banks at Versailles, Osgood and Batesville, in the same county.

The body of Saloonist Robinson was found in a gravel pit pond at Anderson. Suicide.

JOHN P. JOHNSON and A. S. Hughes, were arrested at Columbus by a deputy United States marshal for violation of the United States revenue laws.

CHARLES E. GRAVES has been appointed receiver of the New Aveline house at Fort Wayne, by consent of all parties concerned; and has taken charge of the hotel.

AT a contest the other evening R. G. Davis of Crawfordsville, was chosen to represent Wabash college in the state oratorical contest. His subject was "The Conflict of the Closing Century—Capital and Labor."

OTTO FAULKENBURG, upon a charge of assaulting John Underhill in the form of white-capping near Branchville on February 15, 1892, pleaded guilty the other morning in court. He implicates four others, including Marsh Land, a local lawyer, as well as two cousins and a brother-in-law. The evidence of Linton Carr, the defendant's brother-in-law, agreed with Underhill and the state's witnesses that Faulkenburg was the leader. Underhill displayed his arm in which a shot is still lodged. The defendant was sentenced to five years in the state's prison.

CHARLES KOHLMAYER, a young farmer of Knox county, was killed by being kicked in the breast by a Texas pony.

As a result of the recent gas explosion at Lebanon the Lebanon Light, Heat and Power Co. is made defendant in a suit by Martin Hohl for $25,000 damages; $15,000 for personal injuries and $10,000 for damage to his property.

THE controller's certificate authorizing the Merchants' national bank, of Muncie, to begin business, was issued a few days ago. Hardin Roads is the president of the new bank, and a capital of $100,000 will be employed.

IT is semi-officially announced that the quartermaster-general of the United States army, through congress, will establish a military post at Jeffersonville, where recruits for the army can enlist. Seventy-five acres of ground necessary for barracks and other buildings and parade grounds will be donated to the United States by local capitalists at the proper time. The ground in question is located three miles west of Jeffersonville, fronting on the line of the P. C. and St. L. railroad and the Ohio river.

JOHN STRAHLE, aged seventy-nine, a pioneer of Elkhart, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor, nearly severing his head. A few days before he placed himself in front of an approaching passenger train for the purpose of being run over, but was pulled from the track in time to save him. During the night he tried to strangle himself to death with a handkerchief. Ill health and the recent death of his wife are supposed to have unsettled his mind.

THOUSANDS of fine carp were set free in the White river near Columbus, several days ago by the breaking of a levee which destroyed a large fishery.

ZORA PEYTON has been appointed postmistress at Riddle.

Some miscreant placed dynamite cartridges under the C. & I. C. depot at Brazil, but it was discovered before an explosion took place.

The heaviest verdict ever returned in Madison county for personal damages was given by a jury at Anderson in the case of Joseph Beck, of Lebanon, against the Big Four Railway Co. It amounted to $5,500.

At Columbus Ed Saladin, a tinner, 18 years old, fell from a scaffold he was fifty feet high and broke his back. His right arm and leg were also broken, the bones protruding through the flesh. He will die.

A CAREFUL estimate of the wheat crop of southern Indiana places 70 per cent of the crop as good and 12 per cent as fair. This shows no change in the autumn condition.

THOMPSON TESTIFIES.

Says the American Panama Committee Was Conducted on Business Principles.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Feb. 21.—The congressional subcommittee sent by the Panama investigating committee to take the evidence of ex-Secretary R. W. Thompson arrived here Monday morning. Its members are Storer (O.) and Patterson (Tenn.). They were driven immediately, with their stenographer, to the residence of ex-Secretary Thompson, who is in improved health.

The ex-secretary first detailed the circumstances of his resignation, saying it was publicly done, and, further, he met no opposition from President Hayes when he approached him regarding the matter. The first offer of the American chairmanship was made to him by Jesse W. Seligman in 1880 and was not accepted until after full conference with friends and the president and the determination on his part that there was nothing inimical to the interests of the United States. He denied that the Hayes administration was opposed to the canal, but did not want it under American control. He had the idea when he accepted the chairmanship of Americanizing the affair and tried to get an American construction company to build it. The entire administration, so far as he knew of the affairs of the American committee, was on the strictest business principles.

RICHARD W. THOMPSON.

Col. Thompson said he did not know what were the duties of the banking houses, whose representatives were members with him of the American committee, and he was much surprised when he learned within a week that the three had been getting each $50,000 a year, or each of them twice his own salary for their services in this country. Col. Thompson denied that the Panama Canal company had a lobby at Washington either to procure favorable legislation for the Panama canal or to fight the Nicaraguan people, and he said he kept clear of the lobbyists and that there was no improper expenditure of money so far as he was aware of. Col. Thompson said: "When I saw it stated recently that $12,000,000 or some such sum was sent over here and placed to my credit that started me. I now see the explanation of it. That must have been the sum paid these bankers, of which I knew nothing."

Col. Thompson said that when the Nicaraguan treaty was before the senate all he did was to write a pamphlet against it, which he had anonymously placed in the hands of all senators.

GEN. BEAUREGARD DEAD.

He Passes Away Rather Suddenly at New Orleans—He Was the Last of the Full-Rank Confederate Generals.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 21.—Pierre Gustave Toutant Beauregard, the last survivor of the confederate military leaders who attained the full rank of general, died at 10:10 o'clock Monday night of heart failure. He bade his son good-night and was left with the sick-nurses who have been kept within call since the commencement of his illness. He dropped quietly off to sleep and seemed to be resting well. A few moments after 10 o'clock one of the nurses went to look at him and was startled to hear the noise of the death rattle in his throat. The members of the family were quickly summoned, but before they reached the bedside the general had passed away. The funeral will be held Wednesday.

[Gen. Beauregard was born at New Orleans in 1818. He was graduated from West Point military academy in 1838 and was at first assigned to the artillery, whence he was subsequently transferred to the corps of engineers. He served in the Mexican war and was twice wounded. He was promoted to a capancy of engineers in 1863 and was on duty during the erection of government buildings in New Orleans and fortifications on the gulf coast in January, 1861, when he was for five days (January 22-26) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1861, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 1862, to join the confederates, and began the civil war by the bombardment of Fort Sumter April 12, 1861. He was in actual command of the southern troops at Bull Run July 21, 1861, in which he was for five days (July 21-25) superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point. He resigned February 20, 18