

K. J. Hunt

THE PEOPLE'S PILOT.

VOL. II. ONLY $1.00 PER YEAR.

RENSSELAER, IND., FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1893.

No. 41

You are cordially invited to attend the GRAND OPENING OF SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

FOUR ROOMS filled with choice and seasonable goods, that will be sold at unheard of low prices. Did you ever consider why we undersell all competitors?

There are Five Reasons:

- 1st. We have no partner to share profits and double the expense of living.
- 2nd. We buy and sell for cash and discount our bills.
- 3rd. Our stock is the largest and we sell the most goods.
- 4th. Our room rent is more than one-half less than any other double room.
- 5th. Our entire expense, store and living is about one-half any other competitor.

Read a few prices below then come and bring your whole family and see for yourselves. Spaces only for about one hundredth part of what we have.

HAMMOND BROS.

The pupils of Miss Blanche Alter's school engaged in a snake hunt one day last week, armed with hatchets, clubs, etc. and were making sad havoc with his snakeship when Blanche Ponsler stepping on one and screaming as girls generally do under such circumstances, brought to her relief Frank Robinson who, striking furiously with his hatchet at the reptile, struck the little girl's foot and gave her such a wound that she had to be hauled home. This little girl, in all probability, will not see school again this term.

Nearly all of this week has been taken up in the circuit court in the trial of Sherman Cooper on the charge of stealing 200 pounds of meat from James Comer of the value of about $16 on or about the night of April 30, 1891. Joseph Conrad was tried about a year ago on the same charge and was sent to the penitentiary for one year. His term but recently expired and he was brought to Rensselaer to testify in this case. The larger part of Barkley township was present as witnesses at the trial and much interest was manifested. The case went to the jury at a late hour Wednesday night and yesterday morning a verdict of "not guilty" was returned. The jury were a little over an hour in arriving at their verdict. Thompson and Chilcott defended the case and Brown prosecuted it.
