RENSSELAER, FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1906.

Taber & Co. went wooling and got fleeced.

When Judge Wiley's hand was lifted from Jasper's board, they were as flat as a toad beneath a ton of bricks.

To say the present board of commissioners has anything like a just comprehension of its responsibilities is to violate the fifth commandment.

When Taber escaped from Judge Wiley's hands, he is reported to have said, "I now realize as never before the purport of the psalmist's words, 'the way of the transgressor is hard.'"

The PILOT is not without hope that its castigation of the board, coupled with Judge Wiley's righteous decision may cause that body to have some respect for the law and the rights of people under the law.

One of the imperative duties resting upon the voters of Jasper county is to elect a board of commissioners which is broad enough to know that it was elected that the people might have a wise, just, progressive and economical administration of their county affairs.

From present indications it seems almost certain that arrant demagogue and notorious blatherskite, Carter Harrison, will be elected mayor of Chicago. If he is, that means an addition of a few thousand saloons to the four thousand already there, wide open gambling dens, and prostitution the most open. Should such a calamity befall that already sin-cursed city, then would we advise everybody who expects to attend the World's Fair to take out a large life insurance policy for the benefit of their heirs for it would mean the reign of thieves, thugs and murderers.

Our Plea.

In our first article we showed that our manufacturing industries were almost exclusively of a domestic nature, being almost entirely carried on by the family and that in the production and preparation of agricultural products for market the rudest implements were used, precluding the possibility of colossal farming, and it is a noteworthy fact that so crude were the farm implements used and so limited and deficient were the means of transportation that no slave holder of the south became possessed of a million of dollars, though they numbered their slaves by the thousand. Great as is the difference between the instruments used in the production in fields and factory then and those now in use a comparison will show as great, if not greater, difference in the means of transportation and transmission of intelligence between the two periods. It is within the memory of men and women now living, that all the dry goods and groceries used in the interior of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Kentucky and in fact all the middle, western and southern states were hauled in wagons over dirt and corduroy roads from the lakes and navigable rivers. Two, four, six and eight horse teams were used and from two days to three weeks were consumed in the journeys. There were professional teamsters in those days. They are well remembered by all old people now. The substantial horses, "the housing" great leather capes, gaudily fringed, that fully protected the shoulders, the "bells" on each horse, the great "breaching" on the "wheel horses," and the driver seated on the rear "wheel horse," and so accustomed to his place that he had so thoroughly habituated himself to the position that he shifted with each motion of his horse. The carrying trade on land was done by this class of men, and they adopted a set of rules by which they were all governed. How slow, how cumbersome, how inefficient that system of transportation seems to us now, but it was regarded as near perfection then. In the transportation of intelligence a greater difference is seen between the two periods. If a person in one part of a city desired to communicate with another in a different part you must wait for the post, or dispatch a messenger. In those days if you wished to open up correspondence with any one in a far distant part of the country you would have to wait for the lumbering stage coach or the post rider as he toiled over heavy roads. But now if in the city, you can call any one up in the most distant part of our greatest cities and talk face to face. Or you can call to your aid the telegraph, and in a few hours reach a person any where in the civilized world. As a further illustration of the vast changes wrought in our social, commercial and business conditions we need only state that in that old or domestic age, not only were the purchasable articles for the household hauled from the river towns and lake ports, but corn, wheat, rye and barley were hauled from the interior to the above named places to find a market, sometimes from one to two hundred miles. Hogs were also driven the same distances to be slaughtered and carried in "flat boats" to far distant markets. Cattle were gathered from the rich prairie pastures of Indiana and Illinois and driven afoot to Albany and Buffalo, New York, and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Looking back from our day it is difficult to realize how slow and tedious were production and distribution in those days, and how very different were all the conditions. In that age each family was self sustaining almost, formed an independent community and if all other families were to die or move away the one left could plow, sow, reap, thresh, spin, weave and supply themselves just about the same, hence there were no strikes or lockouts, no one to take your job, nor did any one lack employment, for each could employ himself. While the age had many disadvantages, it had some meritorious ones. No one could corner or oppress the labor market. No one lacked employment and whatever one produced he got the full benefit of it, no part was paid transportation and insurance companies nor divided up with middle men. But that age with all its advantages and disadvantages is gone, never to return and it is not desirable or expedient that it should. It was but one phase, era or period of national development and answered its purpose and passed forever away. We could not recall it if we would, nor wouldn't if we could.

In purchasing spectacles do not patronize traveling doctors or opticians, as very few of them are honest or competent and are pretty apt to sell inferior goods, at very high prices. Dr. I. B. Washburn has a fine test case of lenses and will order you the very best of glasses, in such frames as you wish, at very reasonable rates. 1-50-1f

WEST CARPENTER.

Crowded out last week.

D. F. Michaels is now a resident of Goodland. He sold his 80 acre farm to Henry Griggs, of Goodland.

Mr. B. F. Gray, living three miles west of Remington, lost a good work horse last Friday night.

Mr. Goble, who has been living north of Remington for several years, has moved on the Teter farm, better known as the McManus farm.

Jack the Ripper failed to rip last week.

The PILOT of last week furnished some good music to the tax payers of Jasper county if they will only listen.

Mr. Frank Babcock visited his brother James, of near Fair Oaks, one day last week and he reports his brother as being well, pleased with his new home up in the brush.

Mr. John Hudson is our leading stock dealer. He will trade for anything from a fifty cent pig up to a herd of cattle. If you have anything to sell or trade call on Jack, but not the "Ripper."

The winter term of school at the Price school house closed last week, but we understand the spring term will commence about the 15th of April.

We notice a large barn, a new dwelling house and a double corn crib is looming up on the Simington farm, lately purchased by E. Hunter, of Goodland.

There is considerable improving done in this part of Jasper in the way of new buildings, tiling and figuring out how to vote at our next election to get justice to the farmers of Jasper county. But there is one saying, "what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

SHORTY.

THAT LOATHSOME DISEASE.

Distemper among horses can positively be cured and prevented by the use of Craft's Distemper Cure. One dose will keep the horse from taking the disease and three to four will cure. Will also cure coughs, colds, epizootic and other catarrhal ailments of the horse. Price 50 cents. Sold by F. B. Meyer.

HANGING GROVE.

Crowded out last week.

Elvin Overton, of Surrey, was in Marlboro last Saturday.

Levi Detrick and family will move on H. Jacks' farm. Mr. Jacks will move to Lowell where he has an interest in a meat shop.

E. S. Kenton, of Marion township, was in Hanging Grove last week.

B. B. Armstrong, of Chicago, spent last Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Armstrong.

We are informed that there was quite a pleasant dance at the residence of Mr. Wm. Willets last Saturday night. Mr. Clyde and Curtis Randle gave a very pleasant party at their home the same evening.

Saturday night, April 15th, the young people of Marlboro will give a play entitled "Not such a fool as he looks." This is a farcical drama in three acts, by H. J. Byron. There are nine characters, five males and four females. Byron's plays are all good and this is his best. It abounds in telling situations and genuine humor, time two hours and thirty minutes. Admission 10 and 15 cents. Proceeds are to help pay the expenses of the company. SPUG.

IROQUOIS.

A large snow storm fell Sunday morning.

Some of the farmers were going to farm when the freeze came.

The examination at Brook last Saturday was very good. There were ten pupils present for examination.

The roads are very rough and now they are thawing in the day time and freezing at night. If it don't rain the roads will be good in a few days.

Mr. Omar Hough, of Goodland, was called to Harper City, Kans., last week on account of the sickness of his mother, who died shortly after his arrival. He has not returned yet.

Some of the farmers began plowing last week but the rain stopped them.

Some of the farmers are tiling and have not commenced plowing yet.

There is a good deal of tile to be put in this spring in this vicinity. Some are putting in their own tile and others hire an experienced hand to help. Mr. John Weiss intends to hire five men to help him. He has a large number of tile to put in.

The Sage ditch washed out a great deal since it was made. It works nice since the frost is out of the ground.

Mr. Fatke has moved on his new farm.

HEART DISEASE 30 YEARS.

GRAND ISLAND, NEB., April 8th, 1892.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
GENTLEMEN: I had been troubled with HEART DISEASE FOR THE LAST 30 YEARS, and although I was treated by able physicians and tried many remedies, I grew steadily worse until I WAS COMPLETELY PROSTRATED AND CONFINED TO MY BED WITHOUT ANY HOPE OF RECOVERY. I would have very bad sink my pulse would stop beating altogether and it was with the greatest difficulty that my circulation could be started, which brought me back to consciousness again. While in this condition I tried your NEW HEART CURE, and began to improve from the first, and now I am able to do a good day's work for a man 65 years of age. I give Dr. Miles' NEW HEART CURE all the credit for my recovery. It is over six months since I have taken any, although I keep a bottle in the house in case I should need it. I have also used your NERVE AND LIVER PILLS, and think a great deal of them.

Sold on a Positive Guarantee.
DR. MILES' PILLS, 50 Doses 25 Cts.

Sold by B. F. Fendig & Co.

DUNNVILLE.

Upon the arrival of the PILOT there was an unsuccessful search for Dunnville items. I see that if Dunnville is "in it" I must do the writing.

Duck shooting is good, it being no unusual thing to see seven or eight men coming in with one miserable poor little duck.

Tommy Jones got a duck the other day he did not shoot at. He shot out of his boat and what he hit was the bottom of the Kankakee river. He did not stay any longer than he could help. He says the water is very wet for this time of the year, but it wasn't very funny, for Tommy came near drowning.

Frank Ketchmark is the proud father of a 15-pound boy. Frank is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

The Free Methodists and the M. E.'s held a union quarterly meeting last Saturday and Sunday at the Dunnville church. The singing was splendid.

The Rev. George Veach is holding a protracted meeting here. He will no doubt reap an abundant harvest for there are a few sinners around here yet.

The Pumpkin Rollers society met last Tuesday evening. The program was very entertaining. The question was, "Resolved, that more corn grows in crooked rows than in straight ones." Firmin as usual was in the negative. It was also amusing to see the man with a club trying to keep the members from spitting tobacco on the floor.

Our station agent, Monk Anderson, is taking a visit. Sam Gillespie is doing the work while he is gone.

The people of this vicinity are very proud of the new school house and the progress the children are making in their studies.

The farmers are getting ready to plow for oats.

The spring birds are all here, but the summer birds had better bring their overcoats.

The roads are getting good again, and if it don't rain it will soon be good wheeling again.

Our friend Hans Nelson is in the height of his glory now. He is making from $5 to $10 per day handling frog legs. He shipped 500 dozen the other morning.

I. D. Dunn is running his saw mill in full force now cutting from 10,000 to 18,000 feet per day. He has the reputation of cutting the nicest lumber ever cut in the country.
