RAUM'S SUCCESSOR.

The President Selects a New Pension Commissioner—Judge William Lochren, of Minnesota, Named for the Place—Sketch of the Nominee.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The president has sent the following nominations to the senate:

Hannis Taylor, of Alabama, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Spain.

William Lochren, of Minnesota, to be commissioner of pensions.

Judge Lochren's reputation as a jurist is of the first order, and his military record particularly brilliant. He has never sought office, and his popularity is best attested by the fact that, although he is a democrat, his candidacy for the place which he is nominated was endorsed by the unanimous vote of the republican legislature of Minnesota.

(William Lochren is 57 years of age and was born in Vermont, where he was educated in the public schools and admitted to the bar. He went to Minnesota in 1857 and practiced his profession, but when the war broke out he was one of the first men in the state to abandon his civil pursuits and enlist in the First Minnesota regiment. His service during the war was severe, culminating at Gettysburg, where his regiment made the famous charge that checked Pickett's onslaught of the 23rd corps who made that charge only forty came out whole, and young Lochren, who started on the rush as the first lieutenant of Company E, came out in command of the regiment, every officer above his grade having been killed or wounded. When the war was over William Lochren returned to Minnesota and resumed the practice of law. He was very popular and was twice the democratic nominee for a seat in the United States senate. In 1882 he was appointed by a republican governor to a judgeship on the circuit bench and at the expiration of his appointment was twice reelected the same place without opposition.)

Hannis Taylor, nominated to be minister to Spain, is a lawyer living at Mobile and his reputation is of the first water. He is 41 years of age. He was strongly recommended to Secretary Blaine by Senator Morgan as one of the arbitrators or counsel in the hearing on arbitration matter and was also strongly endorsed by Mr. Phelps and some of the leading lawyers of New York.]

They provide that in case of an epidemic of cholera no afflicted persons shall be allowed to leave on the trains. During such period of infection it is also provided that a medical inspector shall leave with each of the outgoing trains. It shall be his duty to look after the sanitary condition of the train, see to the disinfection of the closets, and in case of any symptoms of disease being developed en route provide for the isolation of the suspects in a single car. In case of actual disease the car shall be isolated at some station, and this inspector will be provided with a list of the names of the physicians along the route and also be required to send a list of all passengers on such a train ahead to their destination. Special cars are also to be provided for all passengers leaving an infected district. In cases where there are no local boards of health the train medical inspectors will be appointed by the marine hospital service.
