VOL. II. ONLY $1.00 PER YEAR.

RENSSELAER, IND., FRIDAY, APRIL 21, 1893.

No. 44

Great Closing Out Sale at 50 Cents on the Dollar.

In order to establish an exclusive clothing business I will close out all my Dry Goods, Ladies' and Children's Shoes, and all goods in that line at 50 cents on the dollar. This will be the greatest reduction ever known in Rensselaer. My stock is complete in all branches in that line. Will also close my present stock of clothing at a great reduction in order to lay in an entire new and complete stock for the fall and winter trade. Call in and help yourself.

A. LEOPOLD.

2t A. SIMPSON & SON.

All newspaper men are familiar with the man who "gets more papers than he can read now," therefore has no use for his local paper and wants to stop it. No weight is given to his assertion.

Dr. I. B. Washburn, the optician, handles the celebrated Trolley's Kohinoor eye glasses, the best made. Attention is called to the ad, "See Again as in Youth," in another place in this paper.

Do you want to see Rensselaer grow? Do you want to have the value of your property increased? Do you want to promote the happiness of yourself and friends? If you do, then talk improvement.

Williams has a full line of goods at his store and can please you all in prices and styles.

Semie Fendig went to Chicago Wednesday. He will either accept a position which has been offered him in a pharmacy there, or make arrangements to go into the laundry business at Rensselaer.

Here is a pertinent question which has been asked by an exchange: "Does the Lord love a man who spends at a church festival the money he owes to his wash woman—or who owes a year's subscription?"

Jasper county's Republican commissioners decided the PEOPLE'S PILOT is not a "news-paper" in the acceptance of the legal term. It is not Republican, you know, and that accounts for the decision.—Hammond News.

For big bargains in town lots call at A. Leopold's. He will sell you lots in his addition which are larger and better situated to the school house than any other you could select. Call soon and find out terms and prices.

Jack the Hugger" in Remington Press: We see that "Jack the Ripper" still rips through the Rensselaer PILOT. There is unquestionably some truth in Jack's assertions, but then the truth should not be told at all times.

Wm. N. Jones and five sons had a sort of family re-union last Friday, by taking dinner together at the Nowels House. The party consisted of himself and sons Bert, of Belwood, Neb., Henry, John and Ralph and step son, Charley Chamberlain.

The remains of the first wife of George Wilcox, which were buried in the Prichard grave yard, near Alter's mill seven or eight years ago, were taken up Tuesday, and re-interred by the side of his second wife in the West-con cemetery at Rensselaer.

The anniversary of the Odd Fellows occurs next Sunday. Rev. W. A. Hennegar, of Francesville, will hold services in commemoration of the anniversary at the M. E. church at 2:30 next Sunday. The Odd Fellows and Sisters of Rebecca will attend in a body.

The Indiana supreme court has decided that railroad companies may require passengers to buy tickets before taking passage upon trains in case facilities for so purchasing tickets are provided, and may require those not purchasing tickets to pay extra fare upon the train.

It is said that Mr. W. A. Mossler and family will shortly move to Thorntown, Ind., where Mr. Mossler's father is conducting a large mercantile business. The store here will be run in the name of A. Leopold, and will probably be conducted by Simon and Louie Leopold.—Remington Press.

The PILOT, Rensselaer, is fully up, to the requirements and demands of a live local paper. It has enforced recognition by the court, and held up the county commissioners in very bad light before the community. Knowing they were right they enlivened matters accordingly.—American Nonconformist.

A. Leopold is thinking strongly of building a blacksmith shop and a steam laundry building on his lots on the southeast corner of Harrison and Van Rensselaer streets. If his plans are consummated the laundry will be run by his son Louie and Semie Fendig and the blacksmith shop by a man from Monticello.

A young Winamac woman, well known locally for her church and charitable work, rushed into the telegraph office the other day, and after explaining that her husband had hurried off to Cincinnati, forgetting to take with him a memorandum for a new Sunday school motto, the buying of which was a part of his errand in the city, wrote for transmission to him the following dispatch: "John R., Palace Hotel, Cincinnati; Unto us a child is born, four feet long and three feet wide. MARY."—Starke County Democrat.

Newspaper editing is funny sometimes. If you give a man a puff he never sees it; but if one line against him appears he sees it before the edition is off the press; and while he would not have time to stop on the street and say "thank you" he has time to run all over town to denounce the editor who seeks to print news.

A temporary lecture organization was effected at the meeting at the M. E. church last Friday evening. Prof. Bohannon was elected temporary chairman and Prof. Wise temporary secretary. A mass meeting will be held at the court house this evening to effect a permanent organization. S. P. Thompson and others will address the meeting. All citizens are invited to be present.

F. A. Woodin, the Goodland nurseryman, made a large delivery of nursery stock in Rensselaer Tuesday. The stock was all in fine condition and was sold at a much lower price than at the majority of nurseries. They furnished the 235 maples for the Columbia addition. Those of our readers who are not supplied with trees should give his agent, John Schanlaub, an order for fall delivery.

The Fowler Leader, John P. Carr's new paper, made its appearance last week. It is an eight column folio, all home print, and typographically and otherwise, is a great improvement over the other Fowler papers. It is Republican in politics. John takes his "Girl About Town," which was a feature of the Oxford Tribune under his editorship, with him. We wish the new paper success.

An exchange says: "In Denmark all drunken men are sent home in carriages at the expense of the man who sold the tippler his last drink. This tends to make the liquor sellers more careful not to sell to men who already have all they can stand up under, and it generally serves the purpose better than to put the inebriate in the lock-up, and perhaps take all his money to pay his fine, while the family suffers."

A Savannah drummer says a drummer who had had a great many dealings with the Macon lawyers went out recently to Rosehill cemetery and amused himself reading the inscriptions on the tombstones. He finally came across one that read, "Here lies a lawyer and an honest man." Turning to his friend, he said: "Bill, what made them bury those two fellows in the same grave?—Atlanta Journal.

A McCoy & Co.'s bank is prepared to make five year loans on farms at rates positively as low, and on as favorable terms as can be obtained in town, giving the privilege of partial payments at any time, and stopping the interest on the amount paid. We are also prepared to make loans on personal security on shorter time at reasonable rates. If you are in need of a loan, give us a call. 49-4t.

A Terre Haute jury has rendered a verdict for $2,000 damages against a liquor dealer in a case that will attract general attention throughout the state. Mrs. Catherine Kendall, of Sullivan county, sued Edward Wall's bondsmen for damages, because her husband had met his death after leaving Wall's saloon in an intoxicated condition. He was killed by his horses running away. The widow asked for $2,000. The case was venued from Sullivan county to Vigo county, and occupied several days in trial.
