Gov. St. John Says It.

In the course of a speech delivered at Los Angeles, California, ex-Governor St. John said:

Railway monopolies is another system of legalized robbery. To illustrate. A railway corporation buys a bushel of hard coal at Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania, for eight cents. In ten days it delivers it at Lawrence, Kansas, when it sells it for fifty cents, or to make it plainer, is exchanged for four bushels of Western Kansas corn. In ten days more it lays that corn down at Wilkesbarre where it is worth $1.60, or equal to twenty bushels of coal, the product of one bushel bought twenty days before for eight cents. Yet they tell the farmers, and coal diggers, that they are "protected," while the truth is that the farmer is robbed at one end of the line, and the coal digger at the other end, while the monopoly gobbles up all the profits.

To-day the poor man pays full fare, and the millionaire and politician ride on a free pass. Let the government control these means of transportation, operate them at cost in the interest of the people, just as our mail service is conducted, Los Angeles would get coal at $3 to $4 per ton, instead of being compelled to pay $10 to $12, as she is now.

FINANCE.
The demonization of silver in 1873, was the beginning of a system of legalized robbery, without a parallel in history. From that day to this, the "Gold King" has sat upon his throne in Wall street, New York, and dictated the policy of the government.

Wall street wants more government bonds. Gold in the United States treasury is about exhausted, which will likely result in compelling the government to place upon the market more interest bearing bonds, payable in gold, and the people will have to foot the bill.

God has deposited in our mountains untold quantities of silver. Let labor take it therefrom and coin it into money, and let the coinage be unlimited. But you say it will make this the dumping ground for the world. All right, let the dumping begin; the sooner the better, and we will pay for the bullion, in our coined silver.

All money should be issued by the general government, and every dollar, whether gold, silver or paper should stand upon an equality before the law for all purposes, and every enactment which attempts to discriminate in favor of, or against, any particular class of government currency, should be null and void.

I am sick and tired of our government sending commissioners to consult with Europe about what shall be done with silver. What we do with silver is none of Europe's business. Let us adopt a financial policy in the interest of the great body of the people of our own country, and cease allowing Europe—or even Wall street—to dictate what the policy shall be.

Give us United States senators, elected by a direct vote of the people. Government control of all means of public transportation, and communication, to be operated at cost in interest of all the people. Free and unlimited coinage of silver, and a national currency standing upon an equality before the law for all purposes.

Suppress the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes. Place the ballot in the hand of woman. Give us these reforms so that the government may be administered in the interest of all the people, and rum, monopoly and boodle will no longer rule the land, and the people will in truth and in fact be free.

A Pretty Surprise.
A beautifully illustrated and charmingly bound edition of Longfellow's "Evangeline," recently published, is a pretty surprise for book lovers. It is good type, with 45 illustrations by Birket Foster and other eminent artists, is printed on very fine and heavy paper, gilt edges, remarkably handsome cloth binding, combining the delicate colors, blue and white and silver and gold. No illustrated edition has ever before been published at less cost than $1.50, and that is about what you might "guess" the price of this to be, but it isn't—it sells for only 75 cents! plus 6 cents for postage, if by mail. This covers only about the actual cost of manufacture by the publisher, the publisher's object being, not profit, but to get a sample of his book making into the hands of the book-loving millions. His publications are not sold by dealers, but only direct; catalogue, 128 pages, literary curiosity in its way, is sent for a two-cent stamp, or a 12-page catalogue free. Every home in the land ought to have a copy of this Evangeline, so charmingly beautiful, as a poem, as a collection of artistic illustrations, and as a product of book making art. Address, J. B. ALDEN, Publisher, 57 Rose St., New York.

"Seeing is Believing."

And a good lamp
must be simple; when it is not simple it is not good. Simple, Beautiful, Good—these words mean much, but to see "The Rochester" will impress the truth more forcibly. All metal, tough and seamless, and made in three pieces only,
it is absolutely safe and unbreakable. Like Aladdin's of old, it is indeed a "wonderful lamp," for its marvelous light is purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light and more cheerful than either.
